BEER WILL BE LEGAL THIS WEEK, LEADERS IN CONGRESS ASSERT

72-Word Demand Of President Received.

$150,000,000 IN TAX SEEN

District Clause to Be Sought Today By House Move.

Spurred by a two-sentence special message from President Roosevelt, Congress yesterday began action on a bill to permit manufacture and sale of 3.2 beer, with leaders in both House and Senate predicting it would be passed and signed before the end of the week.

Drafting of the bill was begun within a few minutes after the House had received the President's message urging immediate action. The task was turned over to a special subcommittee of the Ways and Means Committee. The measure will be acted upon favorably by the full committee today and Speaker Henry T. Rainey said that it would be passed by the House before adjournment and sent to the Senate.

Senator Pat Harrison (Democrat), Mississippi, chairman of the finance committee, announced his committee would give immediate consideration to the bill and Senator Joseph T. Robinson (Democrat), Arkansas, party leader, said the measure would be taken up in the Senate immediately after the economy measure had been disposed of. He predicted passage within two days.

72 Words in Message.

There were 72 words in the President's beer message, which was as follows:

"I recommend to the Congress the passage of legislation for the immediate modification of the Volstead act, in order to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer and other beverages of such alcoholic content as is permissible under the Constitution; and to provide through such manufacture and sale, by substantial taxes, a proper and much needed revenue for the Government.

"I deem action at this time to be of the highest importance."

Although the President referred to "other beverages" as well as beer, it was decided to leave wine out of the measure in view of the complications which arose in connection with its inclusion in the beer bills last session.

$150,000,000 Annual Revenue.

The House bill will provide for beer of 3.2 alcoholic content instead of the 3.05 alcoholic content prescribed in the Blaine beer bill which failed of action in the Senate last session.

Something like $150,000,000 a year will be added to the Federal revenues by the tax provisions of $5 a barrel and $1,000 license fees.

The question of manufacture and distribution in various localities

Governor Succeeds Walsh

Erickson Quits State Helm for Late Senator's Position.

Helena, Mont., March 13 (A.P.).—Gov. John E. Erickson resigned late today to become the successor to the late Thomas J. Walsh in the United States Senate. Frank H. Cooney, lieutenant governor, becomes the chief executive of Montana.

Gov. Erickson last November was elected to a third successive term as the State's chief executive and began his ninth year January 1.

As a resident of Kalispell, Mont., the governor entered State politics when he was selected in 1920 to direct the Democratic campaign as chairman of the State central committee. He served again in 1922. In 1924 he was nominated for governor and, in one of the hottest campaigns of recent years, was victorious over Gov. Joseph M. Dixon, seeking reelection.

Born March 14, 1863, in Stoughton, Wis., Erickson received his early education in the rural schools near his father's farm. He continued his education at Washburn College, from which he was graduated in 1890. The following year he was admitted to the bar of Wisconsin.

CONTINUING SHOCKS AID QUAKE CLEAN-UP

Los Angeles, March 13 (A.P.).—Stricken southern California today was cleaning up its earthquake wreckage.

Continuing shocks of lesser frequency and intensity helped shake down loosened bits of brick and parts of town buildings, as the yet incomplete survey indicated 116 dead, more than 1,000 moderately and seriously injured, some 4,000 more having had first-aid treatment and from $45,000,000 to $75,000,000 damage done by Friday night's jolt.

With relief for the maimed, sick and hungry effectively and efficiently organized, and the whole area under control, authorities turned to alleviate the fear among the civilian populace in the area and their relatives and friends throughout the world.

Emphatic condemnation was voiced of those responsible for spreading ugly rumors after the first great shock last Friday night.

Sanitary engineers throughout the entire district reported the domestic water supply was safe.

Col. W. O. Wayman, in charge of the food situation in Long Beach and vicinity, said he had an ample supply of every article. Sixty thousand persons were fed from the central relief kitchen Sunday.

At Long Beach, where death and damage was greatest, as well as in all other stricken communities, engineering forces were completing the condemnation of unsafe buildings.

The first stage of reconstruction was under way in many sections as steam shovels and trucks removed debris.

Davis Is Reported As Much Improved

Trial in New York of Ill Senator Postponed to March 27.

Pittsburgh, March 13 (A.P.).—Senator Davis (Republican), Pennsylvania, was described as "a great deal better" tonight by his secretary, Fred W. Jones. Jones said Davis displayed signs of drowsiness during the day but that attending physicians "are in control of the coma into which the senator was lapsing."

Davis, director general for the Loyal Order of Moose, underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis Saturday. He became ill while flying from Washington to Pittsburgh. Physicians said the operation was successful but diabetes, with which Davis has been suffering, complicates his condition.

Senator Davis' trial on a charge of violating the Federal lottery laws today was postponed until March 27 in New York.

SUITS FOR $5,228,754 NAME TAX OFFICIALS

Former Senate Committee Employe Charges Gulf Returns Improper.

Seven suits, aggregating $5,228,754, were filed in District Supreme Court yesterday by David O. Olson, of the Parkside Hotel, former employe of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, with officers and former officers of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and seven Pittsburgh men named as defendants.

Mr. Olson filed the suits on the allegation that there had been irregularities in income tax payments by the seven Pittsburgh men, and that David H. Blair, Robert H. Lucas and David Burnett, officials of the revenue bureau, were negligent in permitting the returns to be filed.

In each case the same three officers were named defendants, the only difference being in the fourth defendant. The seven Pittsburgh men are W. V. Hartman, P. A. Leavy, W. J. Guthrie, W. L. Mellon, H. L. Stone, John E. Nelson and G. R. Nutty.

The suit charges there were stock transactions in Gulf Oil Co. stock that were improperly listed on income tax returns.

The amounts asked in each suit were: W. V. Hartman, $159,116; P. A. Leavy, $309,888; W. J. Guthrie, $269,958; W. L. Mellon, $4,040,112; H. L. Stone, $69,178; John E. Nelson, $69,178, and G. R. Nutty, $470,440.

Attorneys Charles E. Russell, former solicitor for the Federal Power Commission, and Joseph Stein filed the suit for Mr. Olson, who two weeks ago filed a suit for $220,000,000 against Andrew Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury, and officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

U.S. WILL HELP LEAGUE SETTLE FAR EAST ISSUE

Accepts Bid to Aid in Mapping Course of Action.

NORMAN DAVIS SENT TO WORK FOR PEACE

Will Sail Soon to Attempt Salvage of Disarmament Conference.

(Associated Press.)

America under Franklin D. Roosevelt was pledged last night to work with the League of Nations committee charged with deciding what to do next about Japan's military operations in China's northern provinces.

Invited to cooperate with the league's advisory committee of 21 nations mapping a course for future action, the United States has accepted. The text of the invitation and reply will be made public today.

This momentous declaration of policy of the new Roosevelt Government marked a day in which foreign affairs bulged large. New ambassadors were named for three highly important posts, and the administration decided to send Norman H. Davis diplomatic trouble - shooter extraordinary, abroad without delay in the hope of turning the world toward peace through disarmament at a time when military activity is seething on three continents.

Free Action Permitted.

The response to the league's invitation is understood to leave America's hands free for independent action and is not regarded as committing this Government to any forceful measures which the committee might decide upon, such as an economic boycott or arms embargo.

At the same time, it indicates that the Roosevelt administration will work with the league on terms of close cooperation, although not a member, in efforts to stop the fighting in the Far East.

During Secretary Stimson's tenure, State Department officials described their conception of cooperation as embracing a full interchange of information. The Advisory Committee was created by the league's assembly to assist it in performing its duties under provisions of the covenant forbidding warfare.

The committee is instructed by the assembly also "to aid the members of

GAUCUS TODAY OF DEMOCRATS ON CUTS GRANT

Called to Bind Members on Giving Roosevelt Wide Powers.

MEASURE FAVORED IN UNOFFICIAL POLL

McCarren, Beaten in Effort to Sidetrack Proposal, to Continue Fight.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Senate Democrats last night prepared to make their first use of a party caucus to whip the President's economy bill through the Senate, following up an initial advantage obtained in yesterday's first test of sentiment on the unprecedented measure.

Democratic Leader Joseph T. Robinson called the caucus for 10:30 a. m. today. An attempt will be made to bind the Democratic membership in support of power asked by Mr. Roosevelt to slash veterans' benefits and Federal salaries to the extent of some $520,000,000.

The caucus was called in the face of an unofficial poll that showed leaders now have far in excess of the number of votes actually necessary to pass the measure. It was learned that some of the senators insist on being bound, and the caucus was called at their request.

McCarren Move Beaten.

Senate Finance Chairman Pat Harrison hopes to get a final Senate vote today, encouraged by the turn taken yesterday, when a move by Senator Patrick McCarren (Democrat), Nevada, to refer the bill to the Judiciary Committee, was badly defeated.

The Senate voted, 60 to 30, with Senator Harrison to table the McCarren motion, 20 Republicans lining up with 40 Democrats behind the Finance Committee chairman. Refusing to concede defeat, the new Nevada senator introduced a half dozen amendments to modify the bill. He announced he would speak on every one of them today.

Today's use of the Senate Democratic caucus will be the first since the Democrats early last week adopted a resolution under which a majority of two-thirds of their membership could bind all Democratic senators. Excuses may be made only for conscientious objections, or pledges made to constituents. House Democrats, who make frequent use of the caucus, Saturday refused to be bound in support of the economy bill, but when the House test came, voted for it.

Opposition to Measure.

BANKS HERE RESUME FULL ROUTINE TODAY; CONFIDENCE EVIDENT

300 Institutions in Reserve Cities Reopened.

DOLLAR RISES IN 2 MARKETS

Gold Basis Prevails; Volume of New Deposits Up.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

Normal public confidence reasserted itself yesterday from coast to coast as nearly 300 banks resumed practically unrestricted operation in the twelve Federal Reserve cities.

As the wheels of the great American financial machine began to move smoothly, plans were speeded at the Treasury to permit several thousand additional banks to resume regular business this morning in the 250 cities having recognized clearing houses.

Late last night Treasury officials anticipated that today the large majority of banks in cities of 25,000 population, or more, would be ready to receive deposits and meet currency demands on an unrestricted basis.

Gold Payments Resumed.

Through the New York Federal Reserve Bank, international gold payments were resumed under wartime control measures, and so effective and reassuring was the result that dollar exchange advanced sharply at both London and Paris. Closing quotations in both markets were slightly higher than those which ruled at the close March 3, the last day of dollar dealings abroad.

The complete recovery of the dollar in the foreign markets signalizes the end of the inflation threat which ruled during the early phase of the national bank holiday.

Kent Is Selected.

The complete centralization of foreign gold transactions, which maintains the dollar on the normal gold standard, is under the czarlike control of Fred I. Kent, a director of the Bankers Trust Co. of New York. He was selected for the assignment by the directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank. He is one of the outstanding authorities of the world on the intricate mechanics of foreign exchange.

His job is to mobilize America's gold stocks under the Treasury's plenary emergency powers, and to conduct such foreign operations as

GOLD BARRED TO DEPOSITORS

Withdrawals for Aim of Hoarding Will Be Halted.

By DANIEL B. MAHER.

Normal and unrestricted banking operations will be resumed generally in the District of Columbia this morning.

National banks last night received their authority to resume from the Federal Reserve Bank at Richmond, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

All trust companies in the District were authorized by the Comptroler of the Currency at 1:30 a. m. to open for normal operations at the usual hour this morning.

A few minutes later the same authority announced the licenses for the State banks.

The eight National banks formally licensed by the Treasury to resume unrestricted operations today are the Columbia National Bank, Liberty National Bank, Lincoln National Bank, National Bank of Washington, National Capital Bank of Washington, National Metropolitan Bank, Riggs National Bank and the Second National Bank.

Five Trust Companies.

The five trust companies granted full authority to resume business are the American Security & Trust Co., Munsey Trust Co., National Savings & Trust Co., Union Trust Co. and the Washington Loan & Trust Co.

The seven State banks which have received the licenses are the Anacostia Bank, the Bank of Commerce and Savings, East Washington Savings Bank, McLachlen Banking Corporation, Morris Plan Bank, Security Savings & Commercial Bank and the Washington Mechanics Savings Bank.

All 5 trust companies, 8 of 11 national banks and 7 of 17 State banks are thus opened for unrestricted transactions.

Cashing of Checks.

All licensed banks here today will cash checks drawn on banking institutions which are similarly licensed. This also will apply to checks drawn on licensed out-of-town banks, presented for payment at local banks.

Only those checks will be cashed where it is known that the money is drawn on a bank that is licensed. Some delay is expected on cashing out-of-town checks because no complete list of licensed banks throughout the country is yet available.

Each of the eight national banks which are licensed to be opened today received the following telegram from Gov. George J. Seay, of the Federal Reserve Bank at Richmond:

"You are authorized by Secretary of Treasury to open on March 14 to perform usual banking functions, except with respect to gold payments

NEVADA IS BLAMED IN BANKS' FAILURE

Carson City, Nev., March 13 (A.P.).—An investigating committee reported to the Legislature today that "the relation the banking interests had with the State official family" contributed to the adoption of managerial policies which led to the failure last November of the twelve Nevada banks in the Wingfield group.

George Wingfield, head of the chain, is Republican national committeeman from Nevada.

"Your committee feels," said the report, "that it is justified in reaching the conclusion that the relation the banking interests of this State had with the State official family, and in particular with the State board of finance and the bank examiner, contributed to the adoption of a more liberal policy than would have been possible if the intent of the banking code had been enforced in all respects."

The committee criticised both the State examiner and the board of finance, which includes the governor, State treasurer and State controller.

"We feel," said the report, "that the board of finance and the bank examiner failed to perform their full duty by simply accepting the word of Mr. George Wingfield that the Reno National (principal member of the Wingfield group) was solvent."

"Had proper appraisals been made, many of these banks," the report stated, "would have been found to be insolvent as early as a year ago, and would have been closed at that time."

Hammond Blames Improper Building

Honest Construction Urged Against Earthquakes in California.

Pasadena, Calif., March 13 (A.P.).—Faulty construction was blamed today by John Hays Hammond, internationally known engineer of New York, for most of the damage wrought by last Friday's earthquakes in southern California.

"Even in countries where there are intense earthquakes, Japan among others, properly constructed buildings do not suffer from even the most severe shocks," Hammond said.

"There is no reason for any part of California to fear the occurrence of quakes of an intensity comparable to those of Japan and other sections of the world. Therefore it is simply a question of proper architecture and honest construction to make all parts of California safe from serious damage resulting from quakes. Of course, this implies proper foundations for buildings as well as proper architectural plans and soundness."

Bootleggers Give Rum for Quake Use

Long Beach, Calif., March 13 (A.P.).—Three men whom police said they recognized as figures "higher up" in the sale of contraband liquors appeared at the city hall today each carrying two 5-gallon cans.

They placed the liquor on the floor and walked out. No one followed to make arrests.

Philadelphia, March 13 (A.P.).—Her third suit, asking damages for alleged breach of promise, was filed today by Mrs. Estelle M. Wolon, Chicago divorcee, against Charles Newbold Welsh, wealthy Philadelphian.

Differing from her claim in previous suits, in each of which she asked $250,000, Mrs. Wolon's third petition declared she was married at the time Welsh is alleged to have asked her to marry him in March, 1927. She declared Welsh proposed again after her divorce.

TRADE LEAPS FORTH IN BANK REOPENINGS

(Associated Press.)

Banks in some 250 clearing house cities fall in line today, reopening for business, as did the majority of banks in twelve Federal Reserve centers yesterday.

Most banks in reserve cities went back to business on an unrestricted basis yesterday and crowds at the deposit windows manifested renewal of confidence.

Banks in smaller communities sped preparations to open as fast as Federal Reserve and State bank officials could issue authority.

Crowded streets, throngs of shoppers and expanded newspaper advertising in the larger centers of population showed business was on the upward trend.

Quotations in the American dollar were resumed on money markets, opening at 83.48¾ to the pound sterling at London, a cent higher than before the bank holiday.

Some banks were open on a limited basis, Michigan banks generally restricting to 5 or 10 per cent withdrawals, while two large Cleveland banks held to 5 per cent withdrawal limits, and indicated they would reorganize.

The Harriman National Bank at New York did not open and a conservator was appointed.

Tons of gold flowed in a growing stream from individual and bank hoards into the Federal Reserve banks.

Dry Toll

3,446 Imprisoned During March by Federal Wet Raiders.

Even as the President called upon Congress yesterday to legalize beer, the Bureau of Prohibition issued its summary of enforcement activities for last month—in which the seizure of 1,989 beer fermenters and 144,852 gallons of beer was noted.

During the month, the report stated, 3,446 persons were sentenced to serve a total of 1,188 years four months and three days in jail for violation of prohibition laws. The Federal Government collected $98,774 in fines, according to the report.

In Washington 141 cases were made by officers, 45 automobiles, 3 stills, 70 gallons of beer, 744 gallons of liquor and 6 gallons of wines were seized.

In Maryland the bureau listed as outstanding the seizure of one 750-gallon still, two 1,000-gallon stills and one 1,500-gallon still. More than 200 gallons of whisky and 90 gallons of alcohol were confiscated.

House Again Gets 2 Salary Cut Bills

Blanton Also Seeks Repeal of Reclassification Act of 1923.

Representative Thomas L. Blanton (Democrat), Texas, yesterday reintroduced his bill for repeal of the reclassification act of 1923 and revision of Federal salaries downward.

At the same time Representative John R. Mitchell (Democrat), Tennessee, again brought forward his measure for reduction of members of Congress salaries to $5,000. They would be cut to only $8,500 under the President's economy measure.

The Blanton measure would exempt employes not making more than $1,800 under the reclassification act. Under his resolution salaries automatically would revert to the level they stood at before the classification legislation was enacted.

Japan May Retain Mandated Islands

Tokyo, March 13 (U.P.).—Japan will ignore stipulations providing for surrender of 1,600 mandated islands in the Pacific when the nation resigns from the League of Nations, it was learned today.

The written resignation from the league, now in the hands of the privy council and soon to go to Emperor Hirohito for approval, makes no mention whatever of the islands. A government spokesman previously had said of the islands: "If anyone wants them, they'll have to come get them."

Observers here believed Japanese refusal to surrender the mandate to the league on resignation from that body would evoke a league protest. A possibility that the United States might join in attempts to repossess the archipelagoes was seen here.

Roosevelt Now "Chief" To Own Former Boss

(Associated Press.)

It used to be "Hello, chief" when Franklin D. Roosevelt as Assistant Secretary of the Navy a few years ago went into the office of Secretary Josephus Daniels.

Yesterday it was "Hello, chief" when Daniels, as the newly appointed Ambassador to Mexico, entered the presence of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the White House. But this time it was Daniels who uttered the words.

Roosevelt held up his hand in a good-natured gesture of protest, but his one-time superior exclaimed:

"The people have made you the chief now and I am just a subordinate."

ROOSEVELT ORDERS VIGOR IN STOCK QUIZ

(Associated Press.)

Revival of the Senate stock market investigation yesterday drew the wholehearted support of President Roosevelt, who instructed the Justice Department to keep in close touch with it for possible criminal prosecutions.

Chairman Fletcher of the Senate Banking Committee stated after a conference with the President it was his idea to "make such an inquiry as will lead to preventing a repetition of the evils under which we have suffered."

President Roosevelt, in his inaugural address, called for legislation to prevent speculation "with other people's money," and scathingly denounced the "money changers" whose practices he said had led to the Nation's economic trouble.

The veteran Florida legislator conferred with the President at the Chief Executive's request a few hours after the committee, now under Democratic control, had voted to continue the stock market inquiry begun last year. The Senate already had authorized its resumption.

The committee agreed, however, to lay aside temporarily its investigation of commercial banking for other phases of security marketing.

After his conference at the White House, Fletcher said the committee had not abandoned its inquiry of commercial banking, but would delay it for a while. For the present, he said, the inquiry will be directed at three things:

Private bankers engaged in the investment security business; trust companies dealing in securities, and the organization and practices of the stock exchange.

"The President wants to find a way to stop in the future the evils which have been revealed," Fletcher said.

I. C. C. Continues Freight Surcharge

Four Members Dissent to Order Extending Rates to September 30.

(United Press.)

The Interstate Commerce Commission, in a decision which drew sharp criticism from four of its members, yesterday permitted the Nation's railroads to continue for six months their emergency surcharge increases on all freight rates.

Six members approved a continuation and four dissented. The minority, Commissioners Eastman, McManamy, Porter and Tate, wrote individual reports in which they described the action as disastrous to the carriers.

Although it agreed to a continuation of the increases until September 30, the commission said frankly it thought they should end at that time. The plan, it admitted, "falls far short of solving the problem of credit now confronting the railroads generally."

an), Indiana, veteran defender of veterans' benefits. Lining up behind him, in announced opposition to the bill, were chiefly Senator Huey P. Long (Democrat), Louisiana, and Senator McCarren.

Senator Carter Glass (Democrat), Virginia, who minces no words when he fights for a cause, was target for the shafts of two of the trio yesterday and replied in kind. The exchanges were bitter, but brief.

Possibility of amending the measure, to limit to a given percentage the amount of reduction that might be made in veterans' benefits, appeared the principal hazard in the path of the bill today. A number of amendments, proposing limits ranging from 15 to 25 per cent, were offered yesterday.

The American Legion's national legislative committee last night threw its support behind a 25 per cent limitation, identical with an amendment proposed in the House, but sidetracked by parliamentary strategy.

25 Per Cent Maximum.

Chairman Ray Murphy, of the legion's national legislative committee, said the organization is willing to "make its full contribution to sound national credit" by accepting the 25 per cent maximum expenditures cut advocated in the Democratic platform. Earlier the legion had said it was unwilling to accept a cut in excess of 10 per cent.

Yesterday's floor clash between Glass, McCarren and Arthur Robinson came when the Virginian attempted to interrupt the speech of the senator from Indiana. Charging that Glass had "misled" the Senate on banking legislation, Senator Robinson declined to yield.

Senator Glass replied: "I'll take my own time in responding to that."

"The senator from Virginia always takes his own time," came back Robinson.

"Yes, and I don't waste any either," was the Virginian's response.

Objects to Remark.

Rising to a point of personal privilege, Senator McCarren objected to "a remark of the Virginia senator addressed to me, and a remark addressed to another senator."

Supporting the proposed cut in Federal salaries, Senator Bailey (Democrat), North Carolina, eulogized President Luther C. Steward, of the National Federation of Federal Employes, for "his willingness to cooperate" and called on other employes "to live up to this high standard."

Bailey declared that a 15 per cent pay cut would leave Federal employes "better off than 80 per cent of the rest of the people."

Senator Harrison yesterday opened the battle for passage of the bill with a vigorous appeal for defeat of all amendments.

"Let us send a warning through the world that this Government's credit is going to be preserved," he said.

Others Join Fight.

Besides Senator Glass, joining him in the fight for the measure were Senator Tydings (Democrat), Maryland, and, on the Republican side, Senator Pess (Republican), Ohio, who declared he would "bury all partisanship."

Senator Dickinson (Republican), Iowa, joined Senators Robinson, Long and McCarren in opposing the measure. He urged that the economies proposed in the original economy bill brought before Congress last session be substituted.

Democrats voting yesterday with Senator McCarren against tabling his motion to send the bill to the Judiciary Committee were Senators Black, of Alabama; Caraway, of Arkansas; Clark, of Missouri; Connally, of Texas; Duffy, of Wisconsin; Long, McGill, of Kansas; Neely, of West Virginia; Reynolds, of North Carolina, and Thomas, of Oklahoma.

Former Capital Residents Safe

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams Find Long Beach Home Razed, However.

Although their property at Long Beach, Calif., was demolished, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Adams, formerly of this city, escaped injury, relatives here learned yesterday.

Mrs. Sally D. Cissel, of 1855 Calvert street northwest, sister, and Herbert L. Davis, District insurance commissioner, and former District Supreme Court auditor and brother of Mrs. Adams, received a wire message explaining that the former District residents had been visiting when the quakes shook their property and leveled it. They escaped injury, but found their home a wreck on returning.

Mr. Adams was one of the pioneers in establishing the California city, leaving Washington, after long residence, because of ill health.

Sioux Falls, S. Dak., March 13 (A.P.).—An order enjoining the Sioux Falls Broadcasting Association from using Associated Press news in its broadcasts was ordered drawn late today after Judge James D. Elliott in Federal district court here announced he would sign the injunction.

The order followed arguments in the case of the Associated Press against the broadcasting organization in which the former asked that the association be restrained from unauthorized use of its news dispatches.

IOWA SESSION HEARS FARMERS' DEMANDS

Des Moines, Iowa, March 13 (A.P.).—Demand for the immediate enactment of additional farm relief legislation was made upon the Iowa General Assembly today by overall-clad farmers and their leaders at a joint legislative session.

Shouting their approval of the demands made upon the General Assembly, 2,500 members of the Farmers Holiday Association packed the galleries of the large House chamber, crowded every inch of available standing room, and overflowed into the State House corridors.

Amplifying devices carried the words of the speakers to overflow crowds in the rotunda and corridors.

Leaders were interrupted time and again by shouts, whistling and applause as they told of the farmers' plight and urged the immediate enactment of relief measures.

In a resolution adopted before adjournment the farmers demanded full and complete moratoriums on mortgages, revision of tax laws predicated on ability to pay, repeal of mandatory levies, prohibition of further issuance of tax free securities, and adoption of pending agricultural legislation.

Local Disabled Veterans Will Fight Fund Slashes

The National Capital Chapter, No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, last night announced they would fight any proposal to reduce veterans compensation.

It also was announced that a special meeting of the chapter will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Temporary Soldiers' Home, 921 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, to protest reductions.

BANK CONFIDENCE RETURNS

may be necessary to maintain the gold standard.

Silver prices declined sharply throughout the world.

Following the momentous gold decision of the Federal Reserve Board, the governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange hastened tentative arrangements to resume trading tomorrow morning. A final decision on this point, however, still is to be announced.

Issue Fully Subscribed.

Another encouraging development yesterday was the Treasury announcement that the $800,000,000 short-term certificate issue announced Sunday night had been fully subscribed. Subscription books were closed last night. The allotments will be announced during the next few days. This takes care of the Government's March 15 financing at an average interest rate of 4½ per cent on maturities of five and nine months.

At normal interest rates on United States Government loans, this loan would have cost $500,000 a month. At the new rates it will cost $2,700,000 a month.

Further evidence that the Treasury is determined not to relax present arrangements governing advances of the new currency directly to nonmember State banks was given in a formal public statement last night from Secretary Woodin. He outlined the assistance already available to such banks and reiterated the arrangements appeared sufficiently broad to meet all legitimate needs.

Text of Statement.

The complete text of the Treasury statement issued at 11 o'clock follows:

Responding to inquiries today as to what facilities are available for enabling State banks which are not members of the Federal Reserve System to obtain currency to meet their needs, Secretary of the Treasury Woodin called attention to the statement of the President, in his radio talk on March 12, that "these banks can and will receive assistance from member banks and from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation."

The Secretary also pointed out that Federal Reserve Banks are authorized to make advances to individuals, partnerships and corporations on their promissory notes, for periods not exceeding 90 days, secured by direct obligations of the United States, and nonmember banks may avail themselves of this privilege.

The Federal Reserve banks also are authorized, he stated, to rediscount for member banks, with their indorsement, eligible and acceptable paper acquired from and bearing the signature or indorsement of nonmember banks, and to make advances to member banks secured by other paper acquired from nonmember banks.

The Secretary said that he understands that it is the purpose and desire of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Federal Reserve banks to be as helpful as possible in meeting the needs of the present situation.

Volume of New Deposits.

Money and gold continued to flow back from hoarding yesterday as the Reserve city banks opened their doors, and the volume of new deposits swelled hourly until closing time.

Although many business houses sought large withdrawals with which to meet back pay rolls and to move suspended commodity transactions, all demands were met promptly. Wire reports to the Federal Reserve Board late last night told of a comfortable margin for the day of new deposits over withdrawals.

Bankers and Government officials, alike, were enthusiastic over the results.

"The people have responded with common sense and a sober realization of actual conditions," Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin said in a statement reviewing the day.

Functioning in New York.

With particular reference to the New York situation, Mr. Woodin added: "Word from New York is that all the reopened banks are functioning as if there had been no interruption in their activities."

President Roosevelt did not express himself publicly on the day's developments, but it was generally understood at the White House that he was gratified by the accumulating evidence of reviving confidence.

Shortly after 10 p. m., yesterday, Representative Henry T. Rainey, Speaker of the House, declared over a coast-to-coast radio network that Congress would press vigorously this week to place the Government's finances in order, by passage of the emergency economy bill.

"The problems ahead of the President and the Congress in this extra session look serious indeed," Speaker Rainey began in his broadcast. "We are compelled in a few days to refund almost a billion dollars worth of Government obligations, and we have only about $50,000,000 in the Treasury, and we have considerably less than $80,000,000 in the entire Federal Reserve System. Today the Federal Government is running behind at the rate of $6,000 or $7,000 a minute and our Federal deficit is assuming enormous proportions in spite of the new and irritating taxes imposed earlier in the year."

Georgia Holiday Extended.

Moving, he explained, to keep the State banks in step with the national program, Gov. Talmadge of Georgia last night issued a proclamation extending the State-wide banking holiday indefinitely. He stipulated, however, that State banks licensed by the Georgia banking department will be permitted to resume operations from day to day. The extending proclamation was necessary to maintain emergency authority over the State banks, the original holiday proclamation expiring last midnight.

In Texas, the State Banking Commission declared a moratorium until April 12 for all financial institutions other than banks. This order applies to building and loan associations, agricultural credit corporations, and similar agencies not engaged in commercial banking. Such institutions may not make payments on their obligations pending further orders of the Texas Banking Commission. The commission explained the action was necessitated by recent legislation declaring a State-wide moratorium in relation to the collection of mortgage notes and similar obligations.

Two-Day Extension.

In Virginia the State holiday was extended two days, but merely to allow State banks to open at the same time the national institutions resume.

Confusing developments on Capitol Hill yesterday tended to check the reviving confidence of the Nation, but responsible party leaders expressed the hope last night this discordant note soon would be silenced.

The demand of State banks to be brought within the easy money provisions of last week's sweeping emergency legislation stirred a frothy legislative maelstrom throughout the morning, and shortly after noon, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, the Democratic leader, introduced a bill which would authorize direct loans from the Federal Reserve system to all State banks and trust companies for one year.

Is Read in Senate.

"This is to meet some of the criticisms that have been directed at the emergency bank bill we have already passed," Senator Robinson explained as the measure was read in the Senate.

It would accomplish the ends sought by Senator Huey Long, of Louisiana, in his abortive attempt to amend President Roosevelt's special law last Thursday.

Senator Gore (Democrat), of Oklahoma, offered a constitutional amendment which would vest the Federal Reserve Board with absolute powers over all State banks.

Both measures were referred to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Will Not Have Recess.

With these developments came definite announcement yesterday that President Roosevelt's original plan to have the present session of Congress recess this week-end until about mid-April had been abandoned. The new program is to pass the economy bill, the beer bill and then take up emergency unemployment relief and a broad measure looking to the rehabilitation of agriculture. Thus the period of congressional recess which had been expected to hasten the complete restoration of financial confidence is not to be realized.

The Banking Committee failed to reach a decision yesterday on the measure offered by Senator William G. McAdoo, of California, to insure bank deposits. Another meeting on this bill has been called for today. Meanwhile, Senator McAdoo has replaced Senator Norbeck (Republican), of South Dakota, on the subcommittee in charge of the Glass reform measure.

Because the committee has a mountain of new banking proposals before it, Chairman Fletcher has determined upon weekly meetings, to be held every Tuesday until further notice. This step assures that banking proposals will be to the fore on Capitol Hill as long as Congress remains in session.

The House Banking and Currency Committee also perfected its organization yesterday under Chairman Steagall. It will begin consideration immediately of the hundreds of wildcat proposals before it.

Patman Raps System.

During a lull in the House yesterday Representative Wright Patman, of Texarkana, Tex., unleashed a vitriolic attack upon the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Banking System. He assailed the privilege of banks to turn in their Government bonds for the new currency, contending that while drawing interest on the bonds, they were able also to charge interest on the new money loaned.

Representative Cannon (Democrat), Missouri, offered a bill to extend greater aid to State banks. His bill is similar to the Robinson measure in the Senate. Both have been rejected by Senator Glass.

"The law already provides that any individual, concern or corporation, including State banks, may receive direct accommodations from Federal Reserve banks, so that this matter is already covered in a larger degree than is provided in this bill," Senator Glass said.

Is Declared Sound.

"In arguing for his bill, Representative Cannon said last week's bill was fundamentally sound, "but unless some supplementary legislation is enacted the small country banks will be destroyed."

He said the big city banks had precipitated the present crisis. He attacked the postal savings system on the ground that "no farmer in overalls can go to the postoffice for a loan." He demanded prompt legislation to guarantee all bank deposits in the interest of the farmer.

A sheaf of additional Treasury regulations yesterday and last night further relaxed the restrictions under which the banking system is operating under governmental supervision.

Normal Gold Rations.

One order made it clear that all banks awaiting their formal resumption licenses may continue to operate under the general Treasury regulations issued since March 6.

Another authorized the supervised release by the 12 regional Reserve banks of normal gold rations for the industrial arts. All such releases must be under affidavit that they are necessary to maintain employment. All banks licensed to resume may act as agent of the Federal Reserve bank in such gold releases.

An official interpretation of last Tuesday's regulation No. 10 brought perishable shipments of nursery stocks within the scope of the restricted banking operations, "where such payments are absolutely necessary to prevent destruction of stocks in transit March 6."

Draft Transfer Order.

Order No. 20 last night authorized draft transfers both at home and abroad on a wide range of additional transactions. The order follows:

All banking institutions may issue drafts transferring credits from any place in the United States to any other place in the United States and from any place in the United States to any place in a foreign country in connection with payments for domestic and foreign patent, trade-mark and design application fees, and in payment for domestic and foreign patent and trade-mark taxes and renewals.

No gold or gold certificates shall be paid out, withdrawn, or exported under this regulation.

Another amendment to a previous regulation authorized all banking corporations which are permitted to do foreign business to open this morning for the performance of their usual banking functions.

$50,000 Quake Relief Bill Voted in California

Sacramento, Calif., March 13 (A.P.).—The Legislature today passed and rushed to Gov. James Rolph a bill appropriating $50,000 to be expended by the adjutant general for relief work in the southern California earthquake area.

It was for the purchase of food and other such supplies.

Mother of Two Ends Life.

Lynchburg, Va., March 13 (A.P.).—Draping a blanket over her head and shoulders, Mrs. Myrtle Sled Jones, 41, held her face close to an open gas jet Sunday and inhaled enough of the gas to cause her death. She was a widow and is survived by two children.

BINGHAM, DANIELS AND STRAUS NAMED

(Associated Press.)

President Roosevelt announced his first diplomatic appointments yesterday in preparation for early resumption of the discussions on world economics, armaments and war debts.

To the prize London post he nominated Robert W. Bingham, Louisville publisher and prominent Democratic leader. He selected Jesse Isidor Straus, New York merchant, to go to Paris. He appointed Josephus Daniels, North Carolina publisher, to hold the important Mexico City ambassadorship.

Early announcement of the Ambassadors to Germany, Italy and Cuba are believed in prospect.

Ready for New Steps.

With the London and Paris emissaries chosen, the President is ready to go into further detail on the negotiations he has been conducting with England and France on the world economic and armaments conferences.

There is every sign that he intends to get action on these two propositions before taking up personally the appeals from abroad for relief on the war debts owed to the United States. Next payments are due on June 15 and prompt action is believed likely now on the economic and arms problems.

Early Confirmation Seen.

The nominations of the three diplomatic officers remained on the desk of Vice President Garner during the day, awaiting an executive session of the Senate. Their early confirmation is believed certain.

Josephus Daniels, who goes to Mexico City, is an intimate of President Roosevelt. He was war-time Secretary of the Navy and Mr. Roosevelt served under him as Assistant Secretary.

He will embark on his new mission with strong hopes to continue and improve the friendly basis upon which Mexican-American relations have progressed since Ambassador Dwight Morrow's appointment in 1928. He believes the two countries have a common great destiny.

Confers With Clark.

Mr. Daniels began early to acquaint himself with his new duties. Most of the morning he spent with J. Reuben Clark, jr., his immediate predecessor, who resigned ten days ago. He said Clark gave him a great deal of background and all possible assistance to guide him in his new office.

Georgia Senate Passes Cotton Holiday Measure

Atlanta, Ga., March 13 (A.P.).—The Georgia Senate today approved by a 26-to-18 vote a bill calling for a cotton holiday in 1934.

The holiday would become effective only if States producing three-fourths of the cotton crop adopt similar legislation. The bill was urged by Gov Talmadge. A proposal that a legislative commission go to other States to advocate similar legislation was stricken from the bill, however.

U. S. WILL ASSIST LEAGUE SETTLE FAR EAST QUESTION

the League in concerting their action and their attitude among themselves and with the nonmember States."

Soviet Russia recently refused an invitation to cooperate, similar to that extended to the United States, basing its decision on the point that most of the League members do not recognize the Soviet government.

Davis May Go This Week.

The American reply was handed to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the League of Nations, by Hugh R. Wilson, American Minister to Switzerland.

On the advisory committee with which the United States will cooperate re Representatives of Belgium, Canada, Colombia, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Great Britain, Guatemala, Hungary, the Irish Free State, Italy, Mexico, Norway, Panama, Poland, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, the Netherlands and Turkey.

After a final conference with President Roosevelt this week, Davis, the quiet Tennesseean who has come to be a sort of ambassador at large, will sail for Europe where feverish efforts are being made to save the cause of reduced armies and navies from complete collapse.

State Department officials yesterday expressed the hope that Davis would be able to leave before the end of the week. They are frankly concerned about the prospects for any definite accomplishments in the way of disarmament and fear failure would result in an arms-building race which would set the world back economically even further and intensify the danger of warlike conflicts.

Events of recent weeks have combined to make the American representative's problem perhaps the most difficult he has faced in a long and unusual career as an international negotiator in the eventful years since the war.

Besides the undeclared wars between China and Japan, in the Far East; Colombia and Peru, and Bolivia and Paraguay, in South America, Davis and his fellow diplomats at Geneva must face an increasingly tense situation resulting from the rise of the energetic and outspoken Adolf Hitler to authority in Germany.

Long known for his strong denunciation of the Versailles treaty, under which Germany's armed forces are strictly limited, Hitler is regarded by the French, the Poles and their allies as likely to rearm his nation on the ground other nations have failed to reduce their armaments as they undertook to do in that same treaty.

Davis' Broad Powers.

The Versailles agreement ending the war provided that German military, naval and air power should be cut drastically "in order to render possible the initiation of a general limitation of the armaments of all nations."

The failure of the Disarmament Conference thus far to produce definite progress toward general arms limitation has brought into sharp collision the German demand for arms "equality" and the French insistence upon "security" from German attack.

To meet the resulting complicated and delicate situation, Davis will be given broad powers of negotiations rather than a definite American formula for solution. The United States is expected by officials here to make no commitments to guarantee French security.

Arms Embargo Failure.

Coming in for considerable study by State Department officials, it was disclosed, is the advisability of an embargo on arms. Some of them pointed out that such action might conceivably have the opposite of the desired effect. As an example they pointed to the British embargo on arms to China and Japan which was reported from England yesterday to have been withdrawn. During the brief time it was in effect the point was made that it would hurt the Chinese more than the Japanese who are already well supplied with war materials.

Already earnestly working for a solution of the dangerous Central European situation are Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Foreign Minister Sir John Simon of Great Britain, who consulted with the French premier and foreign minister in Paris and then went to Geneva. The United States, through Hugh Gibson, Ambassador to Belgium, and Hugh Wilson, Minister to Switzerland, is keeping in close touch with the British efforts and active cooperation will be increased when Davis arrives.

Mr. Strother was a trustee of the fund for the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations at Johns Hopkins University, a member of the Players and Dutch Treat Clubs of New York and the Cosmos Club of this city.

MANY BANKS OF CITY WILL REOPEN TODAY

A survey of the State banks which have not yet been licensed to operate on a general basis showed that they would continue to do business on a restricted basis, subject to the regulations which have been issued by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Usual Functions.

Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin declared yesterday in a formal statement: "The first duty of the banks reopening under license * * * for the performance of their usual functions is to see that primary needs of the people for funds for necessaries of life and for normal business undertakings are met. Accordingly, withdrawals for hoarding have been prohibited and the Secretary of the Treasury suggests that until more normal conditions have been established transfers of funds by banks for their customers be limited to necessary purposes."

May Require Statement.

In another regulation all banking institutions, whether licensed to carry on normal operations or operating under limitations, were authorized to require from any depositor requesting withdrawals, a full statement under oath as to the purpose for which the currency is requested.

The only national bank in the District which is not licensed fully to operate, or to perform limited functions, is the Commercial National Bank, which is in the hands of the Comptroller of the Currency. This institution was placed under the comptroller's supervision for the protection of all depositors.

The banks which are permitted to reopen for general business today will be subject to only two restrictions, which are:

1. That no depositor shall be allowed to withdraw gold or gold certificates, in any manner, or for any purpose whatsoever.

2. No depositor shall be allowed to withdraw any currency whatsoever when it is obvious that his purpose is to hoard the money, and not to use it in ordinary business or personal transactions.

Why Some Are Delayed.

The fact that some of the banks will not open today does not mean that they are not sound. The mechanics of issuing the licenses takes time and there may be a delay in giving the desired permission to a number of the institutions.

This fact was emphasized by President Roosevelt in his address on Sunday night when he said:

"Let me make it clear to you that if your bank does not open the first day, you are by no means justified in believing that it will not open. A bank that opens on one of the subsequent days is in exactly the same status as the bank that opens tomorrow."

Those banks on which the issuance of the necessary licenses have been delayed will continue to perform the necessary functions which are authorized under the score of regulations which have been promulgated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Evans and Poole Tell Plans.

Joshua Evans, jr., president of the District National Bank, which has not as yet been licensed, said last night:

"We will be open for busines under a limited basis. Not having received a permit, we will continue to operate under the Treasury regulations. We will accept deposits for special trust accounts, which may be withdrawn on demand. We will also permit withdrawals for necessities of life, and for other purposes which the Treasury Department has authorized."

John Poole, president of the Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., said:

"In the absence of any further instruction we will go along just as we did today. It has been suggested all along that there might be some delay on the issuance of some of the licenses."

The bank will continue, he said, to perform the business which is authorized under Treasury regulations.

John B. Cochran, president of the Franklin National Bank, said:

"We will be open to perform such limited functions as have been laid down by the Secretary of the Treasury."

PLEA FOR SCHOOLS MADE AT BETHESDA

Various Montgomery County Groups Urge Further Issue of Bonds.

Montgomery County, Md., civic organizations, women's clubs, and Parent-Teacher associations last night went on record in favor of maintenance of present county school standards in resolutions adopted at a mass meeting at the Bethesda Elementary School.

The resolutions, which were addressed to Thomas C. Darby, president of the county school board, and Lacy Shaw, president of the board of county commissioners, also recommended that the county should meet its building program for 1933-1934 and 1935.

To meet the new construction program, which would need $700,000 in addition to $528,000 already available and $89,000 in bonds already authorized, the meeting advocated the authorization of further school bonds.

According to the resolution, the county's school budget should meet standards of adequate classrooms, maintenance and repair of buildings, janitor service, maintenance of curricula, continuance of the county supervising board to assist teachers, reasonable provision for supplies and teaching materials, and should provide for not more than 40 children to a classroom.

Further parts of the resolution opposed any reduction of teachers' salaries and in favor of continuance of the teachers' retirement fund.

Baltimore, March 13 (A.P.).—Formation of a new national bank to take the place of the Baltimore Trust Co. was announced late tonight by Howard Bruce, chairman of the board of the Baltimore Trust Co.

The new bank will be known as the Baltimore National Bank. It will have a capitalization of $4,000,000 in new cash.

CONGRESS TO PASS BEER BILL AS ROOSEVELT DEMANDS ACTION

would be left to the individual localities, although there is sentiment for prohibiting sale to minors and other restrictions. Representative Fred M. Vinson (Democrat), of Kentucky, a member of the special subcommittee appointed to draft the bill, said he would submit a minority report urging restrictions on distribution and sale.

House May Act Today.

Representative John W. McCormack, of Massachusetts; Representative Thomas J. Cullen, of New York, assistant floor leader; Representative Samuel B. Hill, of Washington, and Representative Charles West, of Ohio, all Democrats, comprised the beer subcommittee.

The House will formally name the Ways and Means Committee when it meets at noon today.

The committee will formally get the bill and promptly report it favorably and Representative Joseph W. Byrns, of Tennessee, Democratic floor leader, said it will be driven through the House this afternoon.

District Clause Sought.

Representative Loring M. Black, jr. (Democrat), New York, today will go before the House Ways and Means Committee, in an attempt to have a District clause written into the national beer bill.

Mr. Black, who last year introduced a 3.2 per cent District beer measure and obtained a favorable report from the House District Committee, said provision in the national bill would eliminate red tape and dispose of the question once and for all.

Failing in his effort, and it is entirely likely that he will, Representative Black indicated he would yield to some other District Committee member to reintroduce his measure.

If the national beer bill fails to cover the District situation, indications were that Representative Vincent L. Palmisano (Democrat), Maryland, chairman of the subcommittee which favorably reported the last local beer measure, will reintroduce the old bill, calling for outright repeal of the Sheppard law and providing for controlled sale of beer in the District.

Beer Message

Text of the President's message to the Congress on beer follows:

To the Congress: I recommend to the Congress the passage of legislation for the immediate modification of the Volstead act, in order to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer and other beverages of such alcoholic content as is permissible under the Constitution; and to provide through such manufacture and sale, by substantial taxes, a proper and much needed revenue for the Government.

I deem action at this time to be of the highest importance.

First Lady Bans Formal Social Affairs Until Fall

(Associated Press.)

In a sitting room on the second floor of the White House, long reserved to family intimacy, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, knitting as she chatted, yesterday was plied with press questions on White House days and ways.

She announced a simpler social program, outcome of a conference with "Cabinet wives." Queries brought out plans for a children's playground—slides and swings and a sandbox—under historic trees, and for a nursery where the 4-month-old son of Elliott Roosevelt will be installed Friday to stay until his parents get established in the West.

Another informal gathering of Roosevelts is planned for Friday, the twenty-eighth anniversary of the marriage of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt said that with the cooperation of the "Cabinet wives group," which includes the Vice President's wife, Mrs. Garner, she was ruling out formal social affairs until fall.

Exceptions to this rule would be the Easter egg rolling for the children and the garden party for disabled veterans.

MONTGOMERY BILLS ARE PLACED ON FILE

House of Delegates Asked Also to Indorse Navy Built to Pact Limit.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., March 13.—Urging naval construction up to the limit allowed by the Geneva Conference, both from the standpoint of protection as well as to relieve the unemployed situation, a resolution was introduced in the House of Delegates tonight by Delegate Philip Miller, of the Anne Arundel County delegation.

The resolution, which is directed to President Roosevelt, the Secretary of the Navy and both houses of Congress, also points out that an enlarged building program would relieve a tense situation existing among midshipmen of the senior class at the Naval Academy, owing to the probability that there will not be sufficient vacancies to provide commissions for more than half of the class to be graduated in June, which has a roll of more than 400, as well as subsequent classes.

Montgomery Measures.

Three measures embracing local legislation for Montgomery County were placed on file in the General Assembly tonight when it reconvened for the last three weeks of the 90-day session.

A bill by Senator Hilton provides new regulations for settling claims of farmers for killing or injury to fowl by dogs running at large. The bill provides that a claimant for damages should report to the chief of police within 24 hours, that official to direct an investigation within the next 36 hours and within two days more the formal claim and police report shall be filed with the county commissioners, the market price of fowl at the time of death or injury being the basis for settlement.

Police Commissioner Bill.

George L. Edmonds sponsored a bill that directs the county commissioners to designate one of their number as police commissioner to have general supervision over the county police force, and to levy a sufficient sum to cover expenses therefor and another measure directing the county commissioners to include $4,000 against the levy of 1933 to pay R. G. Ranking & Co., expert accountants, that sum, representing an unpaid balance of a bill for general audit of the county books covering a period of 16 years, ended with last year.

All candidates for public office throughout the State would be required to take the oath of loyalty to the United States Government under terms of a bill by Delegate Metzerott, Prince Georges County. Mr. Metzerott said he presented the measure by request, the idea coming from a number of chapters of Daughters of the American Revolution, who maintained such a qualification would prove a bar to any one sympathetic with communistic movements running for office.

2 Killed, 2 Injured In Arsenal Blast

Smoke-Screen Mixture of Army Fires Building in Maryland.

Edgewood Arsenal, Md., March 13 (A.P.).—Two civilian workers were fatally burned and two others injured today in an explosion of a mixture, used for laying smoke screens, in a chemical building at the arsenal here.

William A. Machande, of Baltimore, died a short time after the explosion, and Martin H. Galladay, of Aberdeen, Md., succumbed to burns in the arsenal hospital tonight. Harvey F. Cage, of Van Bibber, Md., is in the hospital with little chance, according to physicians, of recovering. He suffered severe burns. Stanley E. Staniford, of Van Bibber, was discharged from the hospital after treatment for burns.

Army officials began an investigation. The blast ignited the building and a thick blanket of smoke spread over more than a square mile.

Foshay Contempt Conviction Upheld

High Court Rejects Appeal of Woman Who Served on Jury.

(Associated Press.)

The conviction of Genevieve A. Clark, of Minneapolis, for contempt of court in qualifying for service on the jury which tried W. B. Foshay and others on the charge of using the mails to defraud was sustained yesterday by the Supreme Court.

The jury which tried Foshay stood 11 to 1 for conviction, Mrs. Clark holding out. She claimed she had truthfully answered all questions as to her qualifications before being accepted as a juror, but the Government insisted she had withheld from the court the important information that she had at one time been employed in Foshay's office. Foshay and his associates were subsequently convicted.

The trial court sentenced Mrs. Clark to imprisonment for six months and a fine of $1,000, but the appellate court ruled she must be resentenced and either imprisoned or fined, holding the penalty could not be both imprisonment and a fine.

Search Widened For Town Clerk

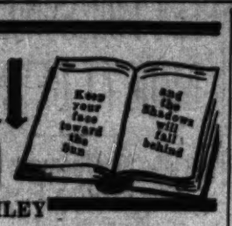
Warrant Is Sworn Out for Ashland Official; Audit Is Progressing.

Ashland, Va., March 13 (A.P.).—J. O. Smith, Ashland town clerk and treasurer, was the object of a widespread police search today, following his disappearance here Friday. His automobile was found in Alexandria, Va., yesterday. Police throughout the State were asked to join the search.

Mayor B. Morgan Shepherd said today that a warrant had been issued in connection with certain irregularities said to have been found in the accounts of Mr. Smith.

An audit of the treasurer's books was started several days before his disappearance and it was expected several weeks would be required to complete it. A report is to be made to the town council.

The Federal Diary



By GEORGE D. RILEY

SUPPOSE one concedes the lowering of Federal employment pay standards should be put into force, let us look at some of the facts and figures preceding the present agitation.

Whatever magnanimity Uncle Sam has shown his nephews and nieces who do his daily dozen for him has come in spells and poorly timed. Now that commodity prices show a tendency to revive and rise, the pruning knife is poised over thousands of pay envelopes.

There are those who say Federal workers have enjoyed salary rises. Consider the Welch act, which theoretically lifted the employes two grades. Because of ambiguities in the act, many workers failed to receive the intended pay increases. It took the Brookhart act for the fiscal year of 1931 to rectify these shortcomings.

These synthetic rises in pay followed the "five-and-ten" act, which was designed to benefit those in the lower brackets, in a bonus form. Some in the lower scales received $10 a month boost, some received as much as $20 a month more. The higher levels were not affected.

THEN, under the reclassification measure, the clerical grades received practically no benefits, while the scientific and professional classes were given a substantial increase.

Yesterday the usual bill to revoke the reclassification act bobbed up in the House. It was because the reclassification feature had not been touched in the original Robinson bill that one organized group of Federal employes registered no protest to its provisions.

Let's look at the index figures to be used "to maintain the credit of the United States Government."

Who took up the slack in the more than doubled cost of living when the index rose to 199.2 in December, 1919; 216.6 in June, 1920, and 200.4 in December, 1920?

THERE has never been a time since June, 1920, according to index figures of the Labor Department, Bureau of Statistics, when miscellaneous costs have been below 200, compared with the price level of 100 of 1913, until last December, when the index level sank less than one point under the 200 level. Under fixed costs, we must include insurance, taxes (as certain as death), carrying charges and other debts we incur in times of prosperity. In the index numbers these fixed charges obviously come under miscellaneous, and it is the miscellaneous column which shows that stubborn persistency of Banquo's ghost.

If those fixed charges could be scaled, fewer Government workers would offer serious objection to sharing the burden of "maintaining the credit of the United States Government." But the fixed charges are what are holding up the cost of "all items."

WHEN Uncle Sam calls on those whose incomes have been dutiable during the year he shows discretion in levying taxes. That same sane system should be used in arriving at pay readjustments. It is said the average wage of Government service is $1,440. That means the rank and file fall far below this figure.

In shouldering her burden to help "maintain the credit of the United States Government," the stenographer who earns $1,000 must ante $150 and is required to subsist upon $850 and if she has any spare funds she can suit herself about sending it back home to help keep the wolf from the door of kinsmen, long out of employment.

To the one who has received $4,500, 15 per cent cut is $675, and there is still ample to make both ends meet.

To sum up, the haste in drafting the bill might easily have been spent using some discretion phrasing the terms.

OPPOSITION to granting the President authority to reduce Government pay standards was voiced yesterday to members of the Senate by Thomas F. Flaherty, secretary-treasurer, National Federation of Postoffice Clerks.

"The proposal to further cut wages of Government employes as an aid toward balancing the Federal budget is economically unsound and should be rejected by the Congress," declared Mr. Flaherty. "Lower wages means diminished mass purchasing power which disaffects business and dries up sources of taxation revenues. Thus, the task of balancing the budget is made more difficult when wages are reduced."

Thos. F. Flaherty.

According to Mr. Flaherty it is a mistake to create the impression in the public mind that Federal taxes are high because of high wages of Government employes.

"The average wage in the Government service is only $1,440 per year. Of the total tax dollar, covering all taxes for all purposes, the Federal wage bill amounts to less than 4 per cent. Thus, all of the civil agencies of the Government could be completely abolished without substantially reducing taxes. It is futile and wrong to further lower wage standards in an hysterical effort to immediately balance the budget. Such a course will retard rather than help an early return to public confidence and national prosperity."

YESTERDAY afternoon a truck backed up to The Washington Post Building and unloaded those 500 jig-saw puzzles for the tournament we've been telling you about and in which you have been invited to enter for the evening of March 30.

There were so many puzzles that we were almost convinced to believe that jigsaw puzzles must grow on trees. And indirectly, they do come from trees, we learn from the Univerality Distributing Co., manufacturers of these sets.

Yesterday, we called on Louis Perron, Commerce wonderman of the drafting room, and watched him working on the department's exhibit for the Chicago Fair. We spied a jigsaw, the very kind used to make real jigsaw puzzles.

And Louis is right handy with a jigsaw and a jigsaw puzzle. In fact, he makes puzzles now and then, when he almost catches up with his work after going home. You should see the mean, checkerboard puzzles he makes. Small, but solution-defying—unless, of course, you pick out the right pieces for the right places.

Prizes? Yes, worthwhile-winning prizes that evening of March 30. Kabitzers? What do you think? Wouldn't it be more fun with kabitzers? Clip the coupon.

TO-GETHERNESS.

STAND off to yourself in your dreaming,
And all of your dreams are vain;
No grandeur of soul or spirit
Can man by himself attain.
It is willed we shall dwell as brothers,
As brothers then we must toil;
We must act with a common purpose
As we work in a common soil.
And each who would see accomplished
The dreams that he's proud to own,
For no man can do it alone.

ARLINGTON TO STUDY ELECTRIC RATE CUT

P. U. C. Will Act on Complaint Against Present Power Schedule.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

With the completion of an exhaustive study into the gas rates in Arlington County by the Public Utilities Commission and the hearing to be held before the State Corporation Commission at Richmond March 23, it was learned yesterday that the Arlington commission will begin a study of the electric light rates with a view of obtaining a substantial reduction.

The decision of the commission to make a study of the electric light rates its next work is due to the large number of complaints that the present rate is excessive.

The commission has made rapid progress in its study of the gas situation and, having received the united support of organizations in the county, are practically ready to go before the commission at Richmond and urge an immediate substantial cut in the existing rate.

The Virginia State Highway Commission, having failed to commit itself to the southern route for the extention of the Lee boulevard from Lyon Park to a point where it meets the Government road as an adequate approach to the Arlington Memorial Bridge, it is learned that county officials are now trying to acquire rights of way for the extension on Wilson boulevard.

Organizations in the county, supported by the Arlington County Civic Federation, have for two years advocated the construction of the Washington street approach to the bridge, over which free rights of way have been given the county. Later it developed that in the opinion of county officials the extension of Wilson boulevard would be the more practical route.

According to County Manager Roy S. Braden, it is hoped that construction of the much-needed road will soon be under way.

The petition requested the President to recommend to Congress the following:

Immediate increases in direct unemployment relief; public works, especially slum clearance; unemployment compensation and a national system of employment bureaus; a shorter work day and work week with no reduction in pay; old age pensions and child labor laws.

The delegation also called on Maryland's senators at the Capitol yesterday and left copies of the petition with them. The league is operating largely in Baltimore.

Billions Lost

Court Dismisses Attorney's Suit for $300,000,000,000.

Little Rock, Ark., March 13 (A.P.). The $3,00,000,000,000 suit of a local attorney against the Secretary of the Treasury and Federal Reserve Banks has failed.

The Arkansas Supreme Court today sustained the Pulaski Chancery (Little Rock) Court in holding that Oscar Winn's cross suit against the Treasurer and Federal Reserve System was not relative to the original suit, which was to foreclose some of Winn's property here.

The Prudential Life Insurance Co. sued to foreclose on a mortgage it held, and Winn filed a cross-complaint naming former Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills and the Federal Reserve Board as defendants, and asking the court to or them to "return to the people" $300,000,000,000 in interest and debts "wrongfully extorted from the Government and the people."

COAL-SELLING UNITS APPROVED BY COURT

(Associated Press.)

The distressed bituminous coal industry, under a decision yesterday by the Supreme Court, can organize selling agencies to pull it out of the depression which has seriously affected it.

The high court, in an opinion by Chief Justice Hughes, to which only Justice McReynolds dissented, reversed the findings of a three-judge Federal court which had held invalid the Appalachian Coals, Inc., organized as a selling agency by about 138 bituminous coal producers in Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

It announced, however, that while all the facts indicated the agency would not be able to monopolize business in violation of the Sherman antitrust law, the court would retain jurisdiction, and that the Government, should violations later occur, would be free to renew the proceedings against the agency.

The three judge Federal court was sympathetic with the demoralized bituminous industry, and felt it was entitled to some relief, but concluded this could come only from Congress.

Chief Justice Hughes emphasized the findings of the trial court with regard to conditions prevailing in the bituminous coal industry, and pointed out that in the United States Steel Corporation case the Supreme Court had found mere size of itself did not constitute monopoly in violation of the antitrust law.

Pacific Mutual Presents Its 65th Annual Statement

In troublous times, when so many are asking "Watchman, what of the night?" it is comforting to hear a hearty voice ring out reassuringly: "Another year and all is well!" Each year since 1868, Pacific Mutual has had the privilege of giving its policyholders and friends this reassurance. 1933 is no exception.

Our Balance Sheet for December 31, 1932, showed total assets of $193,913,904.22. But quality of assets is frequently of even more importance than the amount. Our Balance Sheet shows the following satisfactory situation:

INVESTED ASSETS

	Amount Invested	Per Cent of Total Assets	Per Cent Interest Earned
MORTGAGE LOANS (all first liens) . . The rule of the Company is that loans never exceed the statutory percentage of a conservative appraisal made by the Company. These loans are distributed in general classes as follows: Farm properties $5,439,267.23. Other properties $84,546,045.15. The small amount of delinquent interest attests to the excellent quality of our mortgage loans.	$ 89,985,312.38	46.4	5.77
BONDS . . . . . Our bonds consist of high grade state, municipal, public utilities and real estate securities. The few issues on which interest has become delinquent have had the book value written down on account of this delinquency.	34,907,806.40	18.0	5.36
REAL ESTATE . . . . . Our principal real estate holding is our fine Home Office building property, located in the heart of the city of Los Angeles and constituting one of the choicest business sites in the entire Pacific Southwest. In addition to this site we possess twenty-two pieces of property carried on the books at a figure of $1,027,250.53. Practically all of these properties are contributing to our income. The rate of return on our entire real estate holdings for the year 1932 was 6.54%.	9,955,846.62	5.1	6.54
COLLATERAL LOANS . . . . . These represent 3.4% of our total assets. They are secured by stocks and bonds of well established corporations which have been conducting business successfully over a period of many years. During 1932, due to the present condition of the market, the book value of these assets was written down to conform with the present market conditions. On December 31 there was no delinquent interest on these loans.	6,506,240.32	3.4	5.41
PREFERRED STOCKS . . . . . A small proportion of our invested assets (1.2 per cent) consists of preferred stocks in firmly established business institutions whose earnings guarantee beyond doubt a general continuance of the established return.	2,258,553.00	1.2	5.58
OTHER ASSETS
LOANS TO POLICYHOLDERS . . In no instance does a policy loan exceed the cash surrender value of the contract. The security of these loans, therefore, is beyond question.	$ 40,942,801.37	21.1
MISCELLANEOUS ASSETS . . . . Including premiums in course of collection, accrued interest and other items which, by their nature, draw little or no interest.	7,564,192.31	4.8
CASH ON HAND . . . . . Including $1,762,468.69 of Deposits drawing interest.	1,793,151.82

SURPLUS (set aside for future dividends to Policyholders)	1,509,268.90
SURPLUS (unassigned)	8,783,462.75
RESERVE (for contingencies)	1,750,000.00
TOTAL SURPLUS FUNDS for additional protection to Policyholders .	$17,124,731.65

Total Life Insurance in Force	$706,256,478.00
Cash Income in 1932	45,842,692.70
New Life Insurance Paid for in 1932 .	57,229,833.00
Average Rate of Interest Earned	5.91%
Death Rate, Actual to Expected	62.1%

The total amount of overdue interest and rents at the close of 1932 on our invested assets amounted to $112,464.23. This amount is but 1% of our total interest and rents for the year 1932.

No Common Stocks are owned by the Pacific Mutual.

It is with pleasure that we present these reassuring facts to our policyholders and other friends.

"New Deal" on Pay To Reopen Studios

Film Employes Agree to Receive Cut Proposal as Modified.

Hollywood, March 13 (A.P.).—A "new deal" on the 50 per cent cut proposition was placed before mass meetings of the employes at the various motion-picture studios tonight, and studios will open for business tomorrow, the agency emergency committee announced. Today was a holiday.

The new deal resulting from agreement in conferences between the academy committee and a committee from the Motion Picture Producers Association will eliminate some objections raised by employes and will provide for resumption of motion-picture activities at least until further developments.

The academy and producers committees were still working on details of the agreement. The new agreement specifies that any salary cut taken will be limited to the eight weeks from March 6 to April 30.

Services will be held at Trinity Episcopal Cathedral, one of the city's largest churches, with Dean Stephen McGinley delivering the sermon. Mrs. Howell has requested that no flowers be sent. Burial will be in an Omaha cemetery.

Flags throughout the city will fly at half-staff until after the funeral and a color guard composed of reserve naval officers will be present at the church. Flags were lowered to half-staff yesterday as a mark of respect to the veteran legislator.

SO THIS IS RENO

Letters of a Capital Society Divorcee to Her Mother

Dearest Mother: No news yet about my papers, and I am supposed to leave in about two weeks. I telephoned my Eastern lawyer, but he says he thinks it is "unwise to show undue anxiety." So I can only wait patiently and hope for the best.

Today I had luncheon with a girl who is getting a divorce to remarry her first husband. Her son, aged 12, was at the table. He said he wished daddy and mother would buy a place in Reno and never go East again. He rides every day and, I suppose, feels like a cowboy. There is a very good school here.

Last night I ran into a curious situation. In Mrs. Kaye's apartment was a Mrs. Morse, whom I had met several times before, and imagine my surprise to see her husband with her. She gets her divorce tomorrow and starts off afterward on a motor trip with him and Miss Wheatley, the girl who enjoys the distinction of having served a six-week Reno term voluntarily just to be with her friend, Mrs. Morse. Now I suppose she is to be the chaperon for the trip back to California, where they live. Some one asked Mrs. Morse what time they left and she said she didn't know what time she would get through, and her husband spoke up and said, "Oh, tell the judge you are in a hurry—that your husband is waiting." And everybody laughed. It rather made my blood run cold, as it seemed such bad taste. They are most prosaic, respectable-looking people, too.

Tonight something else exciting happened. A real tragedy that would make you sick to see. Anne Clay and I were just finishing dinner when she was called up to the room of a girl aged 22 by her baby's nurse. (Anne's baby's nurse and this other girl's nurse, both being English, had become quite intimate, which is how Anne was brought into it). The nurse hadn't been able to rouse her mistress from a 24-hour sleep. She went to bed at 9 o'clock last night and was still dead asleep at 8:30 tonight, and had had nothing to eat all day. We have suspected for some time that she takes dope. We shook her, but she just rolled her eyes and groaned horribly, and sank back to sleep. The nurse told us she is an orphan and last year came into a large fortune. So no one has any authority over her. But the nurse says she has heard her speak of a brother. If we could only find out where he is. If this kept up the nurse would have to leave, but what would become of the baby? We ordered a lamb chop and some asparagus and shook her hard and held her up in a sitting position, but she refused to eat and wanted to get up and dress, as she thought it was morning. We finally persuaded her to drink some coffee and tried to get her to have a doctor, but she angrily refused. We knew her very slightly and didn't want to take the responsibility of calling one. At last we got the name of her brother out of her and that he lives in Detroit. Anne is telegraphing him, because, as she says, there is the baby to be considered.

With all this, life seems a little morbid at the moment. If only my papers would arrive. With much love, ELIZABETH.

BANKS REOPEN.

Banks in Federal Reserve bank cities opened for business yesterday, and found the public in a far different mood from that which prevailed on March 4. Deposits were received as usual, and withdrawals were not above normal. A big business was done in disposing of accumulated checks.

Today the banks in about 250 cities having clearing-house associations will open, under very liberal regulations. They may not pay out gold or gold certificates, but in other respects their operations will be practically normal.

Thousands of "country" banks will open tomorrow. The decision as to granting licenses to those banks is left with the State banking departments, which are familiar with conditions in their respective States.

Much confusion of mind relating to the bank situation was removed by President Roosevelt's admirably clear address Sunday night. The fears that State banks were to be denied opportunities to obtain circulating notes are baseless. Pressure for loans to insecure banks is useless, but there is plenty of money for sound banks.

Through conservators and the issuance of preferred stock, many banks which are not immediately licensed can be placed in a sound condition. Banks that are unsound will remain in the hands of conservators who will see that all depositors are treated equally.

Although fears are expressed in some States that the failure of some banks to reopen will cause great hardships, it is universally admitted that the bank holiday has prevented a worse situation. An insolvent bank is a drag on its community in any event, but if it is closed before a run and placed in the hands of a conservator there is a chance that its assets may yield greater returns, and depositors will have assurance of a square deal.

There is no indication that depositors will draw inordinately on banks that are licensed to open. On the contrary, the licensing of banks may be regarded as almost equivalent to a Government certificate of solvency. The safest place for money is in banks licensed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

FARM BUREAUCRACY.

Agricultural leaders were unable to devise a concrete program for relief of the farmer in their conference in Washington last week. They excused their lack of unity by saying that no specific plan could be relied upon to restore farm prices, because of rapidly changing conditions. This conclusion naturally leads to the demand for a dictator over agriculture and the food supply.

Czarism seems to be unusually popular for the moment. Merely because President Roosevelt found it necessary to assume responsibility for the banking situation and the balancing of the Federal budget, to avert a national crisis, various groups are thinking in terms of dictatorship. The farm leaders ask that the President be given emergency powers to establish parity between agricultural and industrial commodity prices on the basis of their pre-war relationship. These leaders can not evolve a plan by which agriculture might be restored, but they nevertheless seek sweeping powers for the President on the assumption that the Secretary of Agriculture could provide remedies if he only had sufficient authority.

The bill which this group is preparing would permit the leasing of land or contractual agreements for the purpose of controlling agricultural production. It would permit the Government to bribe farmers into reducing their acreage by offering them wheat and cotton now held by various Federal agencies. It would permit the President to levy such taxes upon the processing of agricultural products as might be necessary to carry out the purpose of raising prices to pre-war levels. In addition to this the farm group contemplates extensive regulatory powers for the President over agricultural products entering into "domestic and foreign commerce."

When thoughtful men are unable to devise any practical means of bringing about a desirable result it is a good policy to proceed with the utmost caution. Agriculture has been duped with one panacea after another. "Farm relief" has been applied in numerous ways, yet the farmers are in a more desperate situation than ever before. To indulge in further wild experiments at the expense of the farmer might aggravate his woes. The problem can not be solved by simply conferring authority on the President.

Apparently there is no cure for agricultural overproduction; except the organization of farmers into groups that can control their own output and markets. The Government is attempting to organize cooperative groups and to teach farmers the value of economic independence. Whatever program is adopted might well be built on this solid foundation. If the Government begins to take over the farmers' responsibilities, to lease his unproductive land, to guarantee him certain prices, and collect taxes for his special benefit, the country will be on the way to agricultural socialism. It would be tragic indeed if this present emergency should become the means of establishing a nation-wide farm bureaucracy.

IMMEDIATE BEER.

In accordance with the Democratic platform and in pursuance of his plans for balancing the budget, President Roosevelt asks Congress to enact the beer bill immediately.

Since the majority of Congress favor beer legislation and repeal of the eighteenth amendment, conformably to the verdict of the people on November 8, it is well that the legislation should be speeded up so that revenue may be collected.

The estimated annual revenue from a tax on beer at $5 a barrel is $150,000,000. This sum would be very acceptable to the Treasury.

No clear idea seems to have been formed as to the method whereby beer will be distributed. The bills thus far introduced call for licenses, but are hazy on the question whether beer saloons would be allowed. Debate in the House at the last session yielded no information, and the subject has not been discussed in the Senate.

No doubt the bulk of the beer business will be handled by a few great brewing concerns. They will have it in their power to win or forfeit public approval by the manner in which they conduct their business. Their methods may also affect public opinion in the matter of repealing the eighteenth amendment.

It is assumed that conventions will be held in many States to deal with the repeal amendment, and wet enthusiasts predict early ratification by three-fourths of the States. Strong dry opposition seems to have disintegrated in some States, leaving the burden of the fight to scattered bands of diehards. But if the beer business should bring about return of the saloon, and if these saloons should develop into nuisances like their ancient predecessors, dry opposition to the repeal amendment may be expected to develop strength. A reaction against beer saloons might result in restrictive legislation.

THE NAZI REVOLUTION.

Germany's transition from a constitutional republic to an imperial dictatorship is progressing more rapidly than the world has realized. The Reich emerges from its recent period of turmoil to a newness of national life. The German people have finally surrendered to Hitlerism, and now apparently are determined to use the fiery Nazi chieftain as a spearhead with which to drive toward economic betterment and national equality.

Provincial and municipal elections on Sunday completed the domination of the National Socialists over Germany. Chancellor Hitler seized this opportunity to unfurl the black, white and red flag of the old German empire as a token of his policies for the future. In doing so he sounded the death knell of the republic. Germany has entered upon a new phase of national life which is the antithesis of what has prevailed since the war. In tearing down the red, black and gold emblem of the German republic Hitler declared that "the 14-year struggle for power has now found its visible symbolic conclusion."

Details of the Nazi program are obscure. Perhaps the Hitlerites themselves do not know where their movement will take them. The chancellor speaks in the "name of the government of national revolution." Apparently Hitler will devote himself to liquidation of the republic, trusting to fate the future of Germany. The uncertainty of the future may be read in the decree by President von Hindenburg to this effect:

> I decree that beginning tomorrow and until definitive regulation of the national colors the black-white-red and the hooked cross flags are to be displayed together. These flags unite the glorious past of the German Reich and the puissant rebirth of the German nation. Unitedly they shall embody the power of the state and the imminent interconnection of all the national sections of the German people.

It is significant that Chancellor Hitler became the mouthpiece of President von Hindenburg. Europe has been alive with rumors that the veteran president's health and energy have failed. But it seems more likely that he foresaw the sweeping tide of Nazi sentiment and decided that Germany's interests would be best served by the success of the revolution. At any rate he has surrendered to the driving force of the Nazi, and the republic is passing with his apparent consent.

Germany's neighbors do not know how to regard this reestablishment of imperialism in the Reich. France is alarmed, and Great Britain recognizes the dangers that may arise as soon as the National Socialists begin to put their foreign policies into effect. Europe is facing a "new deal" which it is powerless to prevent. While the results of these changes remain obscure they can not but register a profound effect upon the world.

PENALTIES FOR HOARDING.

President Roosevelt's call upon the people to rekindle their faith and to return their hoarded money to the banks is backed up by powerful weapons that might be used if the public should not respond. The President is asking citizens to cooperate with full knowledge that he can compel such cooperation if it is not forthcoming voluntarily. No possible advantage can be secured henceforth from hoarding.

Gold for unsafekeeping in the mattress or an old shoe is no longer available. The Government is making a campaign to draw all the available monetary gold into the Federal Reserve banks where it will be safely kept as security for the Nation's money. Rapid-fire enactment of the emergency banking law so frightened gold hoarders that they are hurrying to the banks with their treasure. Few of them will risk the publicity or the prosecution that is possible under the anti-hoarding section of this act. Hence, gold hoarding is out of the question.

If the public is still inclined to lay away money instead of depositing it in the banks, it will have to use currency. But there can be no incentive to the hoarding of currency, because in a few days it will be so plentiful that every one who has a bank deposit will be able to obtain all he desires. It is true that the Treasury is keeping watch of all currency hoarders for the time being. Individuals drawing out unusual sums may be subjected to prosecution, but indications are that such measures will not be necessary when the banks are again open and business begins to function normally.

Virtually all the assets of the banks can be converted into currency under the emergency banking act. It is anticipated that such a large volume of ready money will stimulate buying and may thus cause a rise in commodity prices. If this development takes place, currency hoarders will lose money. The purchasing power of the dollar is now unusually high. As the United States creeps out of the depression, the purchasing power of the same dollar will diminish. Dollars that lie idle in safety deposit boxes or dresser drawers will thus represent substantial losses to their possessors.

One other factor is worthy of public consideration. Under the new law the Government has authority to inflate the currency and thus reduce its purchasing power. It is not to be supposed that the Government will use this power, but if hoarding should become epidemic again that drastic measure might be taken. The Government has thus passed the money issue into the hands of the public. If normal operations are resumed everywhere, gold payments can soon be resumed and the new currency can be retired. But if fear prevails and hoarding breaks out again the hoarders and the public in general must suffer severe consequences.

Events of the last few days may induce the bonusites who are planning a new march on Washington to change their minds and take a nice vacation in Florida.

OLD PENNSYLVANIA HOUSES

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Many futile attempts have been made to determine what is the oldest building in Pennsylvania and also what is the oldest residence.

Everybody who cares for antiquarian facts knows that Gloria Dei in Philadelphia is the oldest church in this State. It was erected and dedicated in 1700 and has been used as a house of worship ever since.

The old Blue Anchor Tavern was the first building into which Penn stepped after landing here 250 years ago.

The Penn residence, long since removed to Fairmount Park—all the bricks in which were numbered so they could be replaced in proper position—is one of the oldest residences in Pennsylvania.

But the Rev. William Hayward says the Charles Sellers house at Stonehurst is the State's most ancient dwelling.

It is now impossible to establish the age of some of these venerable brick houses near the Delaware.

Easy enough to determine when this or that building lot changed hands and when a residence was placed upon it. Not so easy to prove the present house was the first one put there.

Easton treasures the stout little house built for himself by Parsons, who founded the city itself and yet that does not prove it is Easton's oldest edifice.

Then, too, Lancaster's oldest house is quite well authenticated. Many counties in the State know which one is their oldest building.

Philadelphia had many hundreds of brick houses prior to 1700, but who will now dare to put a definite year upon any one which may still stand?

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE OLD-TIME CRY.

And a coal stove kept us warm,
When 'twas quite the thing till the end of spring
In flannel to wrap the form;
In the nineties gay, as the cynics say,
This was ever the family roar
As a child came in, with his merry grin:
"For Heaven's sake! Shut that door!"

In those days the snow never seemed to go,
And the drifts kept piling higher.
Who longed for heat had to find a seat
Close up to the blazing fire.
Then if mother stood, as she often would,
To chat for a minute or more,
Dad's voice would boom from the sitting room:
"For Heaven's sake! Shut that door!"

I was sent for coal to that pitch black hole
Which was known as a barn or shed,
And my shoes would squeak and the frost would creak,
On the path which I used to tread.
But with scuttle in hand if I dared to stand
To rest when the task was o'er,
I would hear a shout: "Come in or stay out!
But, for Heaven's sake, shut that door!"

Times are different now, I would almost vow.
The weather has milder grown,
And the house is sweet with a furnace heat
To our youthful days unknown,
But in spite of that and the thermostat,
And the gadgets by the score,
We were happier all, when Dad used to call:
"For Heaven's sake, shut that door!"

Would the Lion Still Have Teeth if Cattle Had Power to Remove Them?

By ROBERT QUILLEN

ENGLAND has burglars and bandits, as America has, but they are relatively few and harmless.

They are few because their calling requires more risk than the profits will justify. Travelers and householders will not meekly surrender their property to a thief who is unarmed, and thieves deny themselves the advantage of firearms because the possession of a gun automatically multiplies the criminal's punishment.

It is the gun that makes the stick-up man. Would any of America's bandits have the courage to enter a public place and attempt the robbery of many able-bodied men if they had no weapons except knives or clubs?

You know they would not. Nor would a youthful bandit dare attempt to rob a lone pedestrian if he had no weapon to discourage resistance.

The armed bandit needs no courage. His victims are at his mercy. To offer resistance would be suicide. And the knowledge that no resistance will be offered makes the bandit feel as secure as a wolf among lambs.

But whether he kills or merely robs, and no matter what his degree of courage, the bandit is a bandit because he has a "rod" to minimize risk and insure easy success.

Take away his gun and he must reform or do his thieving as a sneak.

If you are wise you surrender to a gun. But would you deliver your purse or your jewels or the company's money to an unarmed man who growled, "Stick 'em up?"

You would not. You would fight—or trust to your heels.

Why not outlaw guns?

The makers and their friends say it would be unfair—that criminals would obtain guns anyway, and honest men would be deprived of all protection.

Are the honest ones protected now? What happens if they reach for a gun when a frightened boy-criminal has the "drop?"

A few men might break the law. A few break all laws. But never yet has a law failed to "work" if it had the support of all decent men.

POLITICAL COMMENT

Confidence From a Neighbor.

Toronto Mail and Empire.

We are confident that the United States will overcome the present crisis and outride the storm. We say this because the neighboring republic possesses great natural resources, and because prominent Republicans manifest a readiness to stand by the new Democratic administration for the good of the Nation as a whole. In these times of stress and strain there is a great need for the citizens of every country, regardless of party affiliations to support the governments of the day in order that the world may sooner emerge from the long-drawn-out depression.

What Reserves Are For.

Topeka Capital.

The elder J. P. Morgan never showed himself a truer banker than when in the 1907 panic, calling on his fellow bankers to put up a second assessment of their reserves to stop runs on other banks and trust companies, he replied to a reluctant bank president: "That is what reserves are for. Every banker here should be ashamed of having any reserves until this situation is cleared." When reserves are regarded as of more importance than banking itself, banking fails to function.

Slackers in Peacetime.

Kansas City Times.

Now there is suggested the possibility of seeking authority to make public the names of gold hoarders in the country. It is said for the Federal Reserve Bank of New York that for years a record has been kept of those persons withdrawing gold in large amounts. Why not give them the recognition that was accorded slackers in wartime?

Blessing in Disguise.

Minneapolis Journal.

Handled as President Roosevelt is handling it, the bank suspension may prove to have been a blessing in disguise; may, indeed, mark the definite turn out of the long economic depression.

The President's program seems admirably sound and simple, and Congress has gone about the validation of this program with commendable speed.

The early reopening of banks that are 100 per cent sound, the early reorganization of banks that are not 100 per cent sound, together with an additional money supply that means currency expansion rather than currency inflation—these are the ingredients in the Roosevelt remedy.

And the remedy should prove effective, if the handling of this managed currency, and the banking situation as well, is left strictly to the administration, unhampered by congressional or other political interference.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I am interested in the letter of Mr. Morse in The Post of last Thursday regarding the eagle on our coins. I, too, have often seen the bald eagle in flight, standing and dining. Splendid as he is on the wing, he is imperial at rest. He seems to know that he is monarch of the air. The Creator gave him a distinguished mien and it does seem a pity that he should be divested of all his dignity, self-reliance and nobility of aspect to conform to some artist's idea of what is "conventional."

Not alone is he disfigured on the silver coins. The eagle, half-eagle and double-eagle and even the great seal of the United States show us a "conventional" bird, but no one ever saw such a one; only the head and talons indicate his family, and why feather his legs to twice the natural size? It would be equally conventional to show the buffalo, on the nickel, standing on his hind legs reaching to his utmost with his forefeet.

Could the designer visit his habitat and see this noblest of birds as he is, possibly he could give us a three-quarter front view which would also furnish his profile, and we would have an eagle instead of a nondescript bird, the like of which is not found in the heavens above nor on the earth beneath. Let the arrows and the olive branch be placed at his side and have him stand in front of the shield, and the symbolism would be preserved without dishonoring the noble, regal if you please, specimen from life to typify our dignity, resourcefulness, confidence and fearlessness.

Our paper money has recently been improved and is beautiful; why can we not have our coins equally so? Let them be as attractive in appearance as they are intrinsically.

PROUD AMERICAN.

Hopes Thirty Days Annual Leave Will Be Restored as Soon as Possible.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: No truly patriotic Government employe will object or even grumble at the salary cut proposed by President Roosevelt, however disagreeable it may prove. We know that this measure was wrung from our high-minded, kind-hearted leader reluctantly and only by reason of the terrible nature of the national crisis.

It seems to me, however, that it would help to restore cheerfulness and would raise the morale of many if the President would obtain from Congress authority to restore the old-time 30 days annual leave, which was cut to 15 days by legislative enactment last June. If this were done, thousands would not only cheerfully accept but would welcome the salary cut when it comes. The physical and mental vigor of Government employes would be greatly benefited; energies and ambitions would be stimulated; little, if any, net loss in production from the lengthened holiday would result; and a liberal, humane and enlightened example would be set for the benefit of employers all over the country.

Perhaps conditions are not ripe for a longer annual leave now, but surely it should come eventually and as soon as feasible. ARTHUR M. SHEPARD.

Proposes Surtaxes on Big Incomes and Hints of Tax Dodging.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: So-called economy in Government can be effected in two possible ways: By discharging employes, which will add to the bread lines, so that additional Government funds will have to be provided for relief; or by lowering wages and salaries already too small, thus further diminishing public purchasing power and delaying economic recovery. Either method results in a vicious circle and the remedy is worse than the disease.

If balancing the budget is a supremely necessary matter—although never mentioned until a few months ago—why are not additional surtaxes to raise the necessary funds imposed upon and collected from the enormously large personal incomes that still exist, instead of further penny squeezing of the small ones? Does any one suppose that Mr. ——— is the only big tax dodger?

To the parrot reply that we must not "stifle capital," the answer is that the time has come when capital must and should be stifled. It is the senseless aggregations of hugely swollen capital with which industry is saddled that have brought us to the sorry pass where we are today.

THERESA RUSSELL.

Babe Ruth Not Worth $50,000, Says Writer—Movie Salaries Too High.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: So Babe Ruth won't accept the small sum of $50,000, and holds out for $75,000. Too bad about this biting the hand that fed him—baseball. Possibly also, too much of a head. Well, baseball will find that the receipts will not increase $50,000, even by his presence. They had big crowds before he entered this great American game.

Our salary scheme is wrong when movie actors and athletes can command more than is paid to the President of the United States. Our movies could be made less expensive, as well as our baseball. T. X. MARSHAL.

Every One Should Join in Working Against the Common Enemy.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: "The whole is equal to the sum of all its parts." In times like these it behooves every one to do his duty and contribute his part toward the good of the Nation. This is not the time to think of the individual or selfish interest, but to work for the welfare of humanity so as to overcome our common enemy, namely, depression. "United we stand, divided we fall."

FARM CHIEFS DRAFT DEBT AID PROGRAM

Roosevelt View on Granting Wallace Broad Powers Is Awaited.

(Associated Press.)

Farm organization leaders yesterday began formation of a program to overhaul Federal agricultural credit agencies and provide emergency mortgage relief legislation.

They presented some aspects of the farm indebtedness problem to Henry Morgenthau, jr., new chairman of the Federal Farm Board, who delegated Dr. W. I. Myers, on leave of absence from Cornell University, to work with them. Myers is Morgenthau's assistant and is in charge of his program of consolidating credit activities now divided between a half dozen Government agencies.

Meanwhile, the leaders awaited an expression from President Roosevelt on their proposal that extraordinary powers be delegated to Secretary Wallace to open the way to emergency treatment of farm economic troubles.

Draft Is Completed.

The leaders are confident that if their program to center farm relief efforts upon the Secretary of Agriculture wins presidential approval, it will be forwarded to Congress within the week and before its first recess.

Drafting of a bill under which power would be placed in the hands of Wallace and the President was completed and submitted to several agricultural leaders in Congress. Its introduction there was withheld pending announcement of the President's attitude.

Some coolness on the part of congressional leaders was reported. It was understood they questioned the wisdom of the plan on grounds that it would be "dictatorial," and that it would have the effect of transferring the scene of dissensions between farm organizations from the doors of Congress to the front steps of the Department of Agriculture.

Chamber Group Gathers.

Members of the Agriculture Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States yesterday gathered to discuss all types of farm relief, including the proposal of the farm leaders. The latter program was championed by W. R. Ronald, Mitchell, S. Dak., publisher, a member of the group and chairman of the committee which presented it at the White House Saturday.

Those conferring with Morgenthau included Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange; Dan Wallace, St. Paul farm publisher, whose nephew is the new Secretary, and Representatives of several cooperative marketing associations.

Some of the objects of the group relating to farm financing include: Reduction of the Government's rate of interest; authorization of from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 as additional capital for Federal farm land banks and cooperative loaning associations, and strengthening of the cooperative feature in the Government loan system.

Morgenthau, explaining his plan for centralized agencies, said he hopes to center credit activities at regional offices under one head so that a farmer seeking financial aid can negotiate with one office instead of several.

Administration of crop production loans, agricultural credit corporations, Farm Board loans to cooperatives, Federal land loans, and others are now handled separately both at Washington and at regional offices. Economies resulting from central administration will reflect themselves in lower interest rates, Morgenthau believes.

Pope Bids World to Pray For Debt and Arms Parleys

Scores Orthodox Baptism of Bulgarian Princess and "Protestant Proselytism" in Italy; Lists Joys and Names Six New Cardinals.

Vatican City, March 13 (A.P.).—An invitation to the world to pray for the success of the economic, disarmament and war debt conferences was issued today by Pope Pius XI in his allocution at a consistory at which he created six cardinals.

The Pope said that he would himself pray every day for "concord upon the conferences and conversations to take place precisely during this holy year for world economic readjustment, for disarmament—may it be effective materially and morally—and for war debts."

"We invite everyone to do so with us," the pontiff said, adding that the saints who will be created this year will be powerful intercessors and patrons of his prayers.

Summing up world developments under the headings of joys and sorrows, the Pope said that there was a desperate pattern in the "critical international situation" of the "strained and devastated earth."

He dwelt on the possibility that wars and the economic crisis were caused by war on God, and as instances of war on God he cited Russia, Spain, Mexico and portions of central Europe.

Pointing out the "serious danger theratening Christian civilization," the Pope indicated that the only remedy lies in "sound and solid principles of charity and justice and the fundamental indestructible truths and teachings on the value of souls and the dignity of the human individual, on man's origin and his destiny and his essential relations with God, the Creator, Redeemer, Lord and Judge, and with his fellow men and the rest of creation."

The pontiff, wearing a white cassock, a red mantle fringed with ermine and a skull cap, addressed the cardinals attending the consistory from a crimson-gold throne chair under a velvet canopy in the beautiful consistory hall.

In his enumeration of his joys and sorrows since the last consistory in 1930, he mentioned among the sorrows the "most painful surprise we could not help feeling at the baptism of a royal infant administered by a non-Catholic minister." This was a reference to the orthodox baptism of Princess Marie Louise, the daughter born in January to King Boris and Queen Joanna of Bulgaria. The queen is a daughter of the King and Queen of Italy.

This baptism, the pontiff said, was "discussed far and wide, even beyond the confines of Bulgaria, to the amazement of all and the scandal of many."

He declared Queen Joanna was not guilty "for she protests before us that she is innocent in all that happened, that she in no way cooperated, that she gave no consent either express or tacit, and that when she became aware of what was intended she had neither the strength nor the means to express her opposition."

Another sorrow, the Pope said, was "Protestant proselytism, at one time cautious and cunning, at another time unabashed and provocative, that is freely and impudently pursued in all Italy, the proper territory of our primatial dignity, and in Rome itself, our city and episcopal see."

The pontiff's face was lighter as he listed among his joys the spread of missions, the increased number of conversions, the eucharistic congress at Dublin and the development of the Catholic Action organization.

The new cardinals are Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi, former apostolic delegate at Washington; Jean Marie Rodrique Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec; Angelo Maria Dolci, who has served as apostolic nuncio to Roumania; Theodore Innitzer, Archbishop of Vienna; Elia Della Costa, Archbishop of Florence, and Marullo Fossati, Archbishop of Turin.

The Pope also nominated two additional cardinals to be created at a future consistory.

It appeared certain that Cardinal Fumasoni-Biondi would shortly be named prefect of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith.

JURY TODAY WEIGHS MANN ACT EVIDENCE

Homer Shropshire, 20, Ends Case Without Taking Witness Stand.

A jury of twelve men today will consider the evidence in the case of Homer E. Shropshire, 20, who is on trial in District Supreme Court on an indictment charging violation of the Mann Act.

The charge against Shropshire is that he brought Miss Della Wills, expectant mother to Washington several months ago and caused her to solicit on the streets.

Testimony in the case ended late yesterday before Chief Justice A. A. Wheat. All that remains before the case goes to the jury is the giving of the arguments by Assistant United States Attorney John J. Sirica, for the Government, and by Denny Hughes, for Shropshire.

Shropshire closed his case yesterday without going on the witness stand. The chief witness against him was Miss Wills, who told in detail how she had met Shropshire in Virginia and had accompanied him here. She also related how she had been instructed to accost men and take them to her apartment.

Firemen Keep Gridiron Dinner Dry Function

Stockton, Calif., March 13 (A.P.).—Fire inspectors saved the annual Central California Gridiron Club's dinner today from being a very "wet" affair.

The head chef unknowingly had hooked up a big stove under an automatic sprinkler device. The heat would have melted a gadget releasing a downpour of 26,000 gallons of water on the assembled diners.

Two Kansas City Shops Bombed in Trade War

Kansas City, March 13 (A.P.).—As a novel means of announcing price reductions, two cleaning shops here displayed targets in the front windows bearing the notice, "Something to shoot at—30 cents."

Early today the shops were "shot up" by dynamite bombs, believed to be the latest development of a trade war.

Wreckers Work Hard To Rob Unlocked Safe

Denver, March 13 (A.P.).—Police are looking for Denver's dumbest safe crackers. They worked for hours battering the door of the safe only to find the strongbox empty.

The safe was unlocked. A turn of the handle would have opened it.

TAXPAYERS THRONG TO FILE ON INCOMES

Hour for Returns Without Penalty Expires Midnight Tomorrow.

The income tax filing period ends tomorrow at midnight. Failure to file returns by that time will result in heavy penalties, the Bureau of Internal Revenue has announced.

The Washington office of the bureau, room 1002, of the Internal Revenue Building, will remain open tonight until 9 o'clock and tomorrow night until midnight to aid the public in filling out returns and to accept payments.

Long lines of taxpayers crowded the office yesterday indicating that many have postponed the filing of their returns until almost the last moment. Nearly 30 persons are there aiding taxpayers in the filling out of the form and administering the oath.

Washingtonians need not go to the building if they want to file their returns by mail. The returns must be sworn to before a notary public and directed by mail to the "Collector of Internal Revenue, Baltimore, Md."

Although the return must be filed by midnight tomorrow, it is only necessary to pay a quarter of the tax at that time. The Internal Revenue Bureau will accept cash, money orders or checks on any bank not in the hands of a receiver.

Oil Flow Resumes Today in Oklahoma

Military Ban Lifted While House Votes Proration Bill of Murray.

Oklahoma City, March 13 (A.P.).—Gov. William H. Murray today ordered the military shutdown of the Oklahoma City oil field lifted, effective at 7 a. m. tomorrow, a few hours after the House passed the administration proration bill, 82 to 26, and sent it to the Senate.

The bill permits the State Corporation Commission to fix an oil-gas ratio. An umpire would be appointed by the commission at a salary of $6,000 a year and an attorney by the governor at the same salary.

The field was closed March 4. The governor said the order was lifted before the new law was passed because of the operators' need for their March allowable production. Producers "not overproduced of their current allowable may open their wells," the order stated.

Woodward & Lothrop Decorates Three Rooms of Unusual Distinction—in the Classic Modern Style

—adapting classic art to the need of today's decoration, and providing a smart and sophisticated interior at a moderate expenditure—

—exclusively by STATTON

In presenting the CLASSIC-MODERN style, by Statton—we are presenting an answer to the question of today—"How shall we furnish in good taste to express this modern art?"

The desire of modern expression is for simplicity and beauty—straight lines and easily flowing curves—and to the Greeks belong for all time the credit for the origination of this beauty—the Romans adapted Greek Motifs to their day and age—and after the gorgeousness of Elizabethan England—the rococo of Chippendale—the simple classic motif again began to lift its head—a neo-classic revival was again in full swing.

And today—the CLASSIC-MODERN style returns in a classic revival—furniture for Youth to live with—modern, sophisticated, correct, in perfect taste.

Of Special Note

Three tones of woods in the same room
Suede cloth upholstery in jewel colors
White fabricoid for dining-chair upholstery
White Sudanette for draperies
The use of painted white shutters for screens.

We cordially invite you to visit these CLASSIC-MODERN rooms and see for yourself their charm and livableness—and may we add, that though every piece is an exclusive Statton creation, prices are most moderate.

Meanderer Tells How to Bake and Broil Without Oven Heat

FEATURES FOR WOMEN

Dare Says Hats Ought to Stress Single Note to Be Smart

The Meanderer

Tells of Baking and Broiling Without Oven Heat. New and Old Ways in Coffee Making—Furniture Education in One Small Volume.

Telephone questions on The Meanderer's column to The Washington Post, National 4205, Extension 19; or address The Meanderer, The Washington Post, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

Baked or pan-broiled dinners, which have every taste of oven cooking, may be produced with the use of just two burners on the gas stove . . . and with the use of two practical, inexpensive cooking devices the Meanderer offers for consideration. Potatoes and biscuits may be baked perfectly over one burner in a shiny little round oven of tin or aluminum rack with dome-shaped lid, which may cost as little as $1.25. A steak may be pan-broiled in a cast aluminum well and tree platter costing 79 cents or $1.45, depending upon its size. This platter is to be recommended not only for the one-burner method of using, but because steak or fish may be both cooked and served in the platter. The wide, flat edge of the aluminum platter is polished so that with little care it is easily kept presentable for table use.

Coffee ground just before using contributes to good coffee making, according to authorities on the subject. The little kitchen coffe grinders, much like the little wooden hand-turning coffee mills of grandmother's kitchens, sell in a big popular hardware store on G street for $1. Those who had the fun of pulling out the little drawer receptacle below the coffee mill to pour out the fresh grounds for grandmother's coffee pot, may relive that sensation in this generation's coffee-making adventures.

The little old coffee mill may have a kitchen companion which has a bearing of haughty newness, but which is being received as a most acceptable, practical utensil. It is the new unbreakable glass two-part coffee maker, which makes coffee by filtration. The glass construction of the device is said to preserve the true coffee flavor. The G street department store's housewares section features this glass-electric coffee maker for as little at $3.95.

Bread and cake boxes are reduced a half or a third of the original price in the hardware store just mentioned.

An electric mixer with a portable motor and one aluminum mixing bowl, made by a reputable manufacturer and guaranteed for a year, sells for $4.95, the Meanderer was surprised to learn.

Two icebox containers—a pottery water jug in quaint shape, attractive for table use, for $1.25, in several colors, and long, deep wire baskets for fruit for 25 cents—are worthy of joining this list of low-cost kitchen conveniences.

Pots of artificial pinks, or cornflowers or daisies—sizable pots of bright metal which may have permanent use—are really containers for bath salts, selling for gifts or for party favors in a big department store's novelty department for $1.

Gray or beige compacts for use with spring costumes are new. They come from a good cosmetic house and are offered for $1 in a big F street department store.

All silk-rubberized raincoats for $4.74 are unheard of, except in a sale in a Seventh street department store that is being watched closely by the Meanderer. These rubber coats, in wanted colors and good lines, were selling not long ago for $7.95.

Knowing about furniture in the authentic way may be accomplished easily with an attractive handbook the Meanderer came upon in an old, established furniture store on G street. This handbook tells concisely about the period furniture from the early days of furniture making to our modern ways of manufacture, with illuminating photographs to illustrate. It is bound attractively in blue, is an addition to any library, and costs the interested shopper only $1, just the cost price the dealer paid the book's publisher.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

PERHAPS the little straight, mannish, chic spring suits are partly responsible for the sudden inflation of letters calling for ways and means of overcoming that very common figure fault—hollow back. The job is not an easy one. It takes persistent effort. But isn't the reward worth it all?

Join an Exercise Class.

For those who can conveniently do so, the best course is to join an exercise class. The Y. W. C. A., for instance, has excellent classes where individual, corrective exercises are prescribed by instructors who are in position to know the specific demands of each student. Health examinations precede registry in these classes to make sure the student is in good physical condition. Mat work is especially recommended for people with hollow backs.

Practice These Exercises at Home.

If for some reason you can not or do not wish to join such a class a few simple exercises should be practiced at home every day—at least a few minutes night and morning.

Lying flat on the floor, lift first one knee, then the other, to chest. Repeat five times. Then raise both knees to chest. Pull.

The back roll is excellent. Flat on back, on the bed or preferably on the floor, arms at sides, palms down. Lift legs from floor and swing up as far as possible, attempting to touch the floor overhead with the toes. When you can do this, you are good. Repeat just a few times to begin with, then gradually add until you can do it eight or ten times.

Now, lying on back, with arms stretched overhead. Come to sitting position, flinging hands forward until they touch the toes. You should feel every bit of you stretch—stretching.

The squatting exercise is excellent, and also running in place.

Good Posture.

An excellent exercise in itself is pulling up, back against the ball, heels a few inches away, head, shoulders and hips touching the wall. Breathe deeply and try to touch the small of your back to the wall. The deep breathing and backward stretching should gradually do wonders toward straightening the back and trimming down the abdomen bulge. It's poor posture that has caused the lordosis curve in the first place, so remember that and try to undo by practicing proper posture habits.

WHAT'S GOOD TO EAT

SALAD BOWLS GO IN FOR WEARIN' OF THE GREEN!

By ANN BARRETT

ST. PATRICK'S DAY this week. Markets fairly bursting with crisp lettuce, romaine, escarole, endive, watercress, cucumbers, green peppers, scallions, dandelions. Everything set—for salad bowls to be appropriate and fashionable with the wearin' of the green.

Make it shredded escarole and romaine with horseradish-cream dressing, and you'll have a combination so good that Nancy Carroll eats it nearly every day. Or—slip a slice of tomato in on a bed of lettuce; sprinkle it generously with chopped celery, green pepper, watercress; then dress it with lemon and oil. That'll be the salad that Lawrence Tibbett hankers after so fervently he eats one (sometimes two) before every concert.

How to Know Your Greens.

Or better still, bowl yourself to fame with a mixture of your own! (Speaking of bowls, you need a good big one that will give plenty of room for tossing the greens about so as to have them well coated with dressing.)

Take a look at the greens in the picture above, and you'll see how fascinating the salad possibilities are. Next to the bowl is a nice hard head of lettuce. Next to that (in the center of the picture) is a bunch of spicy watercress. At the back of the picture is the lovely, wavy-edged escarole (cross between chicory and lettuce). At the right is a head of romaine (belongs to lettuce family, but has longer, darker, heavier bodied leaf). Next the romaine is chicory—curly, bitterish, and one of the best bets you can imagine, when cut up with bits of orange, and served with French dressing. In front is the aristocratic endive—that shades from pale yellow at the base to pale green at the tip. Other greens may be broken, cut, chopped, shredded. But the leaves of the chaste and elegant endive stay whole. You can make handsome patterns with them arranged on glass plates like the spokes of a wheel, with sprigs of watercress between. (Toss them in French dressing first.)

Must be Cold, Crisp and Dry.

Further golden rules for green salads: First, have them crisp and cold. Second, have them thoroughly dry or they won't hold the dressing. (French dressing or some variation is best on green salads.) Third, never let the leaves stand in the dressing or they will wilt. (This is why the dressing is so often poured on and mixed with the salad at table.) Fourth, pour the dressing on little by little, tossing the leaves about in the bowl till they are thoroughly coated. Use no more dressing than just enough to do this. There should be none left in the bottom of the bowl. And last—forget not the garlic or the onion!

Ingredients that are slick mixed right in with greens are: Bits of store, Swiss or Roquefort cheese; chopped cooked beets, egg white, carrot; bits of cooked smoke tongue or fish; sliced radishes, shredded raw carrot, turnip or Jerusalem artichoke; bits of fruit such as orange, apple, pineapple.

As for the above-mentioned horseradish-cream dressing that's so good on plain green salads, first beat 1-3 cup cream into ¾ cup cream cheese. Then slowly beat in 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 3 tablespoons grated horseradish, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon prepared mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika.

Send for More Recipes.

Would you like more salad-dressing recipes? We have a whole bulletin of them. Ten French dressings. Four kinds of mayonnaise. And some popular salads. We also have a bulletin (new one) on another timely subject—how to get the best of eggs—in omelets, scrambles—fries. MASTERFUL BIDDING.

"SOMEHOW the bidding seemed to get away from me," remarked a lady Bridge player to her partner, after a small Slam contract had been successfully reached and made on a hand that, by all the rules of logic and reason, should have stopped at game. The Approach principle in bidding is unquestionably the corner stone of success, but there is such a thing as carrying approach too far or selecting the wrong place from which to make your approach to the desired goal; namely, game.

In the bidding of the hand which I shall discuss today, I am not quite sure that there was one correct bid made anywhere, although possibly there can be little criticism of South for his first bid, and of North for her second.

North, Dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

	♠ K 9 7 4 ♡ A 7 ◇ K Q 6 5 ♣ A 3 2
♠ 10 6 5 2 ♡ 8 4 3 2 ◇ 9 3 2 ♣ Q 7	N W E S	♠ Q J ♡ Q 10 6 ◇ A J 10 7 4 ♣ 10 8 5
	♠ A 8 3 ♡ K J 9 5 ◇ 8 ♣ K J 9 6 4

The bidding: (Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

North	East	South	West
1♠(1)	2◇	3♠(2)	Pass
3NT(3)	Pass	4♡(4)	Pass
5♣(5)	Pass	6♣(6)	Pass
6♡(7)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—With only 3½ honor-tricks, North, of course, should not bid no-trump, but the correct Opening bid would be to prefer the shaded diamond suit. However, this would change the course of the bidding.

2—South is in somewhat of a dilemma in the selection of his bid. He knows his partner is a timid bidder and likes to stop short of game. Hence he feels that the best thing to do is to instill a little confidence in her by a near-Forcing bid. Three clubs would be too weak, and the heart suit is probably not strong enough to justify a bid.

3—North now discloses stoppers in diamonds and probably the fact that the spade suit is only four cards in length.

4—South misconstrues the bid as showing much more. He considers the four-heart bid as an alternative to four spades and the suggestion of a possible Slam, which seems to be evident in the cards.

5—Even the lady herself can not give the exact reason for this bid.

6—Perhaps an overbid in view of the fact that the hand contains only one Ace, but South visions a spade and club two-suiter and hopes for possibly the diamond Ace in the North hand, together with one of the heart honors, in which case there appears to be a play for the Slam.

The Opening lead was a diamond, which was won by East, and the suit returned. South discarding a spade. It was, of course, apparent that the hand could not be made unless every element of luck was in favor of the Declarer. The heart Ace was laid down, the heart finessed successfully, and all the trumps picked up. Now all that South needed to make the contract was to lose no club tricks. The finesse appeared the most probable route to this desired goal. However, when South led a small club to the Ace and returned the deuce, East visibly hesitated, seemed anxious what card he should play, and seemed willing that South should know he was troubled. Such practice, of course, is distinctly unethical, but South translated the hesitation correctly, went up with the King, dropped the Queen, and thus brought in the entire club suit and made the Slam.

As the score was being written down, East remarked:

"You were very lucky."

"Yes," replied South, "my luck consisted in your play of your worthless clubs."

Really, a hand such as this, which violates the laws of good bidding should have an unfortunate ending, but a respect for facts, even when they are not true, compels me to record the incident as it occurred.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

South, Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠ A J 8 ♡ 9 3 ◇ A Q 10 7 3 ♣ K Q 2
♠ K 10 6 5 ♡ 10 ◇ J 9 5 4 ♣ 7 3	N W E S	♠ Q 9 4 3 ♡ K 6 5 4 ◇ K ♣ 10 9 8 5
	♠ 7 2 ♡ A Q J 8 7 3 ◇ 8 6 2 ♣ A 6

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

Community Giving Sprees Denounced

Welfare Worker Would Ban Holiday "Hysteria" to the Poor.

Giving to the poor at Christmas, Easter and Thanksgiving was yesterday described as "community sprees" by David C. Adie, commissioner of social welfare for the State of New York, who said that he hoped to see an end to this hysteria of giving at these particular times.

Mr. Adie, who talked in a lecture for volunteers in social work sponsored by the Council of Social Agencies, held at the United States Chamber of Commerce Building, said that greater benefits to the social clients would come through steady attention and neighborly help throughout the year rather than from the "community sprees."

Mrs. John Jay O'Connor, chairman of the council's volunteer committee, introduced the speaker. Dr. Frederic W. Perkins, chairman of the council, stressed the need for volunteer workers to help Washington social agencies carry the unusually heavy load of the times.

What Today Means

"PISCES"

IF March 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., from 4:15 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 9:20 p. m. The danger periods are from 9 a. m. to 9:50 a. m. and from 6:15 p. m. to 7:20 p. m.

Associations or partnerships entered into on this day should prove profitable. No enduring friendships will have their beginnings on this day. Not auspicious for travel of any sort.

The child born on this March 14 will have a keen mind and one receptive to information of all kinds; a mind of a retentive nature. You will find this child a very trusting one, so take care not to mislead him in any way lest you lose his confidence.

If March 14 is the date of your birth, you are inclined to be an indolent person. You like to take life easy and you do not enjoy the hustle and bustle of a business career.

Born on March 14, the women are often of a languid type, more interested in getting for themselves as many of the luxuries of life as possible. Once they become mothers, however, they usually buckle down to a more serious existence. Both the men and women take more than the usual interest in those of the opposite sex, and must take care not to let this interest react to their detriment in either the business or social world.

Successful people born on March 14:
James Bogardus, inventor.
Joseph P. Bradley, jurist.
William E. Worthen, civil engineer.
John S. Marmaduke, soldier and Governor of Missouri.
John G. W. Cowles, financier.
Andrew Phillips, mathematician.

College Offers Dancing Course.

Kirksville, Mo. (U.P.).—The Kirksville Teachers College offers a course in social dancing, but the teacher does not countenance 'cheek dancing." One male student, who was reprimanded for hugging his partner too closely, replied, "Why, she's only my cousin."

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

And some spring hats! Showing the smart shapes and angles of wearing. Further description in the column. (Selected on Fifth avenue.)

HATS, like everything else, should stress one note—and all the others must be muted. Now, how many notes has a hat? Well, take its shape alone, it has two—the crown and the brim. Then it has its color or color combination, and lastly its trimming.

In the new hats one hears a lot about odd brim shapes. The tricorne, the fez, the postilion—the four-cornered hat. Good! But if your hat is important as to crown—that is, shows a crown of a new and distinctive height or shape—then the brim must be negligible, if there is any at all. The same with the brim—if it is odd in shape or working, then the only permissible crown is a small, close-to-the-head one—make no mistake about this if you would be chic.

Now, if a hat depends upon an odd straw or elegance in a ribbon effect, and the way the ribbon is put together to make it, then the shape must be as simple as can be. Le Monnier, for instance, the famous maker of Paris hats, likes odd and elegant straws for this summer, and her shapes are not especially important. While Agnes, equally important modiste, pays a great deal of attention to silhouette or shapes and less to the material that makes these shapes into hats.

And another very important thing about a hat is—what it is worn with and when? This sounds complicated—and that's just it. When a hat complicates the ensemble or is complicated in itself it loses its style. Simplicity can not be too deeply stressed in hats. The clever French woman wears a stunning hat with a simple gown and a simple gown and a simple hat with a stunning gown—remember that.

• • • •

• • • •

Do you know how to make a studio couch cover of monk's cloth and stencil it with crayons, oh, permanently? Or a linen bedspread of ordinary width material, or a taffeta flowered counterpane that looks like heaps and heaps of flowers thrown all over the top of your bed? These and some other bedspreads are yours for a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to the Dare Department of The Washington Post this week. Spare finger time and scraps from the scrapbag make some of these, too.

Au revoir.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

HEATING BY STEAM.

THE advantages of steam in radiators as a means of heating are matters of common information. It is expensive to install the heating plant, but it is economical to operate. Steam heat has not been accused of being a coal eater. The fuel is burned in one place and its consumption can be regulated. Comparatively little heat is lost up the smokestack. At night, on warm days when the sun comes out or the wind dies down, the pressure in the radiators can be dropped.

The radiators can be placed where they will serve best—under the windows, near the doors, or, if the owner is of the group that saves ice by wrapping it before putting it in the ice box, he can have his radiators placed against inside walls.

Steamheating coils and pipes are nearly foolproof, do not get out of order readily and last a long time.

There are disadvantages as well. The cost of installation is one. Another is the quality of the air in the heated room. It is apt to be too hot near the radiators and too cold in some other parts of the room.

Heat distribution is generally unsatisfactory. This can be overcome in part at least by the use of electric fans. A fan placed on the floor and throwing the cold air through the coils helps materially. The air is heated as it passes through the radiator and after that it strikes the hot wall and is deflected to various parts of the room. Another plan is to use the ceiling fans to drive the hot air of the ceiling zone to the lower parts of the room. The best fan for this purpose is one that is movable and the blades of which can be tilted in any direction desired.

The grocers use electric fans to keep their windows free from frost and to maintain vegetables under just the conditions to prevent wilting and drying on the one hand and freezing on the other. The balance of us can learn from the food merchants.

Air treated by steam radiators is generally far too dry. By installing a pin-wheel valve the room air can be moistened by steam blown from the coils. However, the sizzling noise is often objected to and the odor is complained of not infrequently. Janitors object to having the steam escape from the radiators because they say it increases the danger of blistered boilers and explosions.

WHEAT VALUES DROP IN WINNIPEG DEALING

Chicago Profit Taking Cause of Loss; Trade Board Plans Reopening.

Chicago, March 13 (A.P.).—Indications tonight are that all will be shipshape for the Chicago Board of Trade and other grain exchanges to resume business as usual Friday morning.

A definite decision regarding the subject probably will be reached late Wednesday in time to give a full 24 hours' notice to everybody concerned. The idea is that banking conditions on Wednesday will be adequate to furnish grain traders here and elsewhere ample basis for a good start.

In a flood of selling to realize profits, mostly for Chicago traders, Winnipeg wheat prices today receded more than a cent a bushel, compared with Saturday's finish.

Price Rises Discounted.

A disposition was manifest among Chicago wheat traders to modify recent belief that price jumps here would be steep when business was resumed. In various quarters, belief was expressed that advances might be only in line with the moderate rise registered at Winnipeg during the country's bank holiday period. Likelihood that the United States Grain Stabilization Corportaion's big holding of 30,000,000 bushels of wheat futures would be liquidated on all coming price advances served largely today to curb the ardor of traders who heretofore had looked for possible sensational jumps in wheat values as a result of currency expansion.

On the other hand, believers in higher prices were more or less fortified by a sharp falling off today in the United States wheat visible supply total and by persistent dearth of any moisture of consequence in drought sections of domestic winter wheat territory. The visible supply decrease in this country amounted to 1,246,000 bushels, against 770,000 decrease a week ago and 262,000 decrease at this time last year. This makes the United States total visible stock of wheat 142,431,000 bushels, compared with 207,215,000 the corresponding date in 1932.

Wheat on ocean passage to importing countries showed an increase of 3,440,000 bushels in the last week, and now totals 63,824,000 bushels, against 60,000,000 a year ago.

Today's exports of wheat from North America were estimated at 800,000 bushels, all of it Canadian.

Profit-Taking Appears.

Winnipeg, March 13 (A.P.).—Chicago traders who bought wheat last week appeared today to have decided to take their profits and the flood of selling orders that resulted forced wheat prices to take losses of more than a cent.

May futures lost an even cent, to close at 51¼; July closed at 52¼, off ⅞ to 1 cent, while October sagged 1⅛, to finish at 54.

Buying by New York commission houses early in the session had boosted prices considerably and scattered orders for foreign account added steadiness to trading, but in the absence of any export trade and fcaing moderate hedging sales, wheat prices broke under the strain of selling by Southern traders and added to their losses of Saturday, when the down trend began.

Money exchange difficulties still restrict sales of Canadian wheat for shipment abroad, and traders with foreign connections were reported on the selling side of the market for a time. Trading in all grades of cash wheat and coarse grains was extremely slow and spreads in most cases remained unchanged.

Stock Exchange Plans For Trading Reopening

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Preparations for early resumption of trading in the New York Stock Exchange were seen in Wall street today as the exchange ordered its members to hold office forces to arrange clearance by tomorrow of all existing contracts where delivery has been suspended.

While official comment from the exchange was lacking, usually well-informed quarters expressed the view that trading might be resumed on Wednesday. It was understood, however, that no definite action would be taken pneding advices from Washington.

The exchange has been closed since March 3, the most extensive shutdown since the outbreak of the World War.

Commodity Sales Move Moderately

Butter, Poultry and Coffee Bring Higher Prices; Zinc Mounts.

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Most commodity markets today moved in an orderly course, minus the nervousness of the last few days, under the promise of an early restoration of banking facilities. Despite the handicap of limited cash and credit barriers, business was said to have been of fair proportions in such lines as foodstuffs, textiles and certain of the nonferrous metals.

Products commanding prices above those of the previous day included butter, live poultry, and Santos grade coffee. Raw sugar receded slightly and such items as dried fruits, eggs, dressed poultry, cocoa and refined sugar were unchanged.

Silver, which jumped ⅝ cent recently to the highest level since last August, was quoted 1½ cents lower at 27⅝ cents an ounce. Bar silver in London was ¼ pence lower. Zinc reaches high level at 3.15@3.20 cents a pound, up 1-20 to 1-10 of a cent. Quicksilver was quoted $1 a flask higher at $53@$54. Spot lead was held at 3.35 cents a pound, up 1-10 cent. A small tonnage of copper was reported sold at 5½ cents a pound, to which level the price was advanced yesterday from 5 cents.

February Auto Output Totals 88,541 Vehicles

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Automobile production in February totaled 88,541 cars and trucks, a decrease of 19 per cent, as compared with the corresponding month a year ago, and a drop of 22 per cent from January this year. These figures comprise reports from members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which includes all the important producers with the exception of Ford.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Sales of the Grand Union Co. in the four weeks ended March 4 totaled $1,982,713, a decrease of 14.8 per cent from the same period a year ago.

The New York Cotton Exchange Service, on the basis of later mill stock figures and other data, said today that it had revised its estimate of world consumption of American cotton during the first half of the current season from 6,821,000 to 6,895,000 bales. This compares with 6,126,000 bales in the corresponding half of last season. Consumption as thus estimated is 155,000 bales less than for the initial half of the 1929-30 season "when the world spinning industry had scarcely begun to feel the effects of the growing business depression," the service stated.

Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., says business insolvencies "continue to maintain a seasonally lower trend." The number of failures in the past week was 494, against 558 and 571, respectively, in the preceding two weeks. A year ago the number was 685.

Twenty-four ships with cargoes of raw silk will dock at West Coast ports during April, the traffic bureau of the Silk Association of America reports.

H. C. Bohack Co. reports for the year ended January 31 net incomes of $604,651, compared with $607,330 in the previous year.

GOODS MARKET.

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Business in primary textile markets was resumed slowly today due to the unwillingness of sellers to advance prices until stock adjustments on past due accounts have become more general.

Buyers offered considerable business that was not accepted temporarily. Cotton goods were steady to firm with business moderate. More inquiry was reported for women's cottons and dress fabrics, men's wear remaining quiet. Rayon orders were of moderate volume with sellers declining late delivery business.

Job printers have advanced prices for their service 15 per cent, effective March 20. Dyers are advancing prices ¼ cent a yard.

Roosevelt Beer Stand Is Aid to Hop Market

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—President Roosevelt's recommendation that Congress legalize the manufacture of beer and other beverages with alcohol content permissible under the Constitution, was reflected by a much firmer tone in the market for hops today.

Offerings were generally withdrawn, according to reports in the trade, and no firm quotations were available with the market awaiting further developments.

World Bank Expecting To Make Dollar Profit

Basel, Switzerland, March 13 (A.P.).—The World Bank probably will make a good profit on the recent weakness of the American dollar. This morning the board of directors reported the bank's dollar engagements were considerably heavier than its credits.

In connection with the recent extension of a $70,000,000 credit to the German Reichstag, the board lowered the interest rate today from 5 per cent to 4 per cent, as of March 4.

Curb Seat Sells Higher.

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Sale of a New York Curb Exchange membership at $35,000, up $10,000 from the previous transaction, was announced today. This was the first transfer of a security market membership since prior to the general banking holiday.

Counter Deals in U.S. Bonds Begin With Lower Prices

Tightening of Money Rates Blamed for Recession; Montreal and Toronto Stocks Decline; American Shares Down Fractionally in London.

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Trading in United States Government securities was resumed today on an "over-the-counter" basis, with quotations reported generally slightly below the closing levels of March 3.

The price recessions were accepted in "Government bond circles" as reflecting the tightening of money rates since the declaration of the bank holiday.

Quotations, described by dealers as nominal and unofficial, were reported as follows: For Liberty loan 3½s, $99 26-32 per $100 bond, offered at $100 8-32; compared with $100 6-32 at the close on March 3; Liberty first 4¼s, $99 24-32@$100 8-32 against the previous official closing of $100 10-32; Liberty fourth 4¼s, $100@100 16-32 against $100 12-32; Treasury 4¼s, $103@$104, against $103 24-32; Treasury 4s, $99 26-32@$100 12-32, against $100 2-32; Treasury 3¾s, $98@$99, against $98 28-32; Treasury 3½s (1943-47), $97 4-32@98 8-32, against $97 6-32; Treasury 3½s (1940-43), $97 8-32@98 8-32, against $98; Treasury 3s, $93@$95, against $94 18-32.

Establishment of the market followed a ruling of the New York Stock Exchange permitting members to conduct trading in Governments in the so-called over-the-counter way. There was, of course, no trading in these or other securities on the floor of the exchange. Dealers reported that actual transactions were small.

Toronto Is Lower.

Toronto, March 13 (A.P.).—Stocks closed fractionally lower in very quiet trading on the Toronto Exchange today, only a few of the interlisted shares showing any considerable turnover. Smelters, nickel, Canadian Pacific and the two leading oil stocks, Imperial and British-American, represented the bulk of the trading.

Following its steady upward movement last week, Nickel was a bit unsteady and closed off ½, at 34¼. Smelters also weakened near the close, falling back to 68¼ for a loss of a full point. Canadian Pacific also lost a quarter point, to 11½, and Brazilian ⅛, to 8⅛, and Ford was firm at 6⅛.

Prices Are Unsettled.

London, March 13 (A.P.).—Business on the stock exchange opened very quietly today, prices being somewhat unsettled owing to the political situation on the continent.

There were few dealings in American shares, the market being inclined to await the reopening of banks in the United States and the reappearance of the dollar in exchange rates this afternoon.

Canadian Pacific was quoted at $13⅞. United States Steel $41, Hydro Electric $7, International Nickel $11¾, Brazilian Traction $10, and Radio $5⅞. These prices were all around those of Saturday's close with the exception of United States Steel, which declined 50 cents.

Gold mine shares were inclined to ease but British stocks mostly were maintained.

Closing prices and net changes of leading American securities on the stock exchange today, quoted on the London trading basis of 4 shillings to the dollar:

Stocks.	Closing.	Net Chg.
Brazilian Traction	89¾	—¾
Canadian Pacific	13¾	—⅛
Drug Inc.	50	....
General Motors	16	—⅛
Hydro Electric	6¾	—⅛
Int. Nickel	11⅛	—¼

General Motors	11	10⅝
Int. Nickel	7⅞	7⅛
Int. Tel. & Tel.	6⅞	6
N. Y. Central	17½	15¾
U. S. Steel	27¾	26¼

The London quotations are not comparable with New York prices, because in London an arbitrary trading basis of 4 shillings to the dollar is used to facilitate transactions. Actually, under the prevailing rate of exchange, there are about 6 shillings to the dollar. On the basis of the closing pound sterling rate today of $3.43⅝, London prices of American stocks compared with New York closing.

Power and Steel Decline in Week

Statistics Indicate Trend of Three Trade Factors Is Down.

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Statistics appearing during the past week on freight car loadings, electric power production and steel ingot output, showed a declining tendency, according to Moody's index figures for these factors.

These indexes are corrected for seasonal variation, that is, if each change in the actual reported loadings or production amounted to the usual change for the period, the index itself would be unchanged. The index follows:

	Comp.	Fgt.	Elec.	Steel.	Joined.
Latest week	49.3	90.8	19.2		58.1
Previous week	51.4	91.6	21.7		54.9
Month ago	51.3	91.2	22.9		55.2
Year ago	57.2	97.0	26.2		61.3
Two years ago	75.4	106.8	39.5		80.6

Cotton Exchange Seat Higher.

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—A New York Cotton Exchange membership sold today for 14,000, an advance of $2,000 from the previous sale. This price also represented a rise of $3,500 since the close of the market here on March 3.

Call Money Rises To 5 Per Cent Rate

Bankers' Acceptances Up Also; Tightening Is Present Trend.

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—Money rates showed further tightening as more normal banking operations were resumed today. Call loans were renewed by the banks at 5 per cent, compared with an official renewal rate of 3½ per cent on March 3, preceding the national bank holiday.

The greater firmness growing out of the heavy withdrawals of funds just prior to the holiday was also reflected further in a sharp advance in rates on bankers' acceptances.

These bills, which are eligible for discount at the Federal Reserve Banks, were quoted today at 3¾ per cent bid, 3½ per cent asked for 60 to 90 days; 4 per cent to 3¾ per cent for four months; 4¼ to 4⅛ per cent for five and six months.

U. S. TREASURY RECEIPTS.

Treasury receipts for March 10 were $7,381,174.70; expenditures, $13,470,450.06; balance, $118,904,854.46. Customs receipts for ten days of March were $3,350,299.58.

SPOT COTTON PRICES WAITING ON FUTURES

Offerings From South Firm; Liverpool Closes 2 to 3 Points Lower.

New York, March 13 (A.P.).—While offerings of spot cotton from the interior of the South were reported firmer today, the action of the Liverpool market and the ruling of sterling in London appeared to have checked demand. Reports circulating in spot cotton circles said there were fewer attempts to do business and noted a more general disposition to await reopening of the futures markets.

Reports from Eastern belt sources said it was impossible to buy below 7 cents with asking prices ranging from 7⅛ to 8 cents. However, local spot men said these views were probably based on prices mentioned in the port markets late last week.

Reports were received from two of the Southern spot markets. Spot cotton in the Augusta market was quoted 25 points higher at 7.25 with sales of 243 bales, while Norfolk quoted spots 12 points lower as compared with Saturday on sales of 135 bales.

The Liverpool market, after selling about 9 to 10 points higher in the morning on trade calling, Bombay buying and limited offerings, eased sharply later. Quotations established for sterling exchange when trading in the dollar was resumed in London were considerably below expectations expressed in many quarters late last week.

Liverpool cotton closed at net declines of 2 to 3 points. Sterling was then quoted at $3.43⅛ and the final quotations of 4.92 pence for May cotton and 4.96 pence for October, were interpreted as showing an advance equivalent to only 11 to 20 points from the "Liverpool due" prices based on the New York close of March 3 when sterling was $3.45.

Exports today, 2,974 bales, making 5,927,502 so far this season. Port receipts, 4,357. United States port stocks, 4,402,419.

Sloss-Sheffield Steel Plans Reorganization

Birmingham, March 13 (A.P.).—The News today says reports are current in industrial circles that the Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron Co. is being reorganized under the direction of Hugh Morrow, president, for its separation as an affiliate of the Allied Chemical & Dye Co.

Mr. Morrow today was reported in New York in conference with officials of both, but local officials of the steel company declined to comment on reports of the reorganization. The Sloss-Sheffield Corporation was incorporated in New Jersey in 1899, with capital stock authorized and outstanding of $10,000,000, and a similar sum of preferred stock.

Sterling closed at $3.43¾. Bar silver was dull and ⅛ pence lower, while bar gold advanced 4½ pence per ounce.

PADEREWSKI GIVES BENEFIT MARCH 22

Mrs. Roosevelt Will Sponsor Red Cross Concert of Famous Pianist.

Paderewski, world-famous Polish pianist and former president of Poland, will play an all-Chopin program at Constitution Hall Wednesday, March 22, for the benefit of the Red Cross unemployment fund, it was announced yesterday.

The concert, which is being sponsored by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, will be the third Paderewski has given in Washington since the World War. The previous two were also for benefit, the pianist not realizing a cent from his presentation.

Mrs. Roosevelt, upon learning that the proceeds from last year's concert went to the Red Cross, communicated with John Barton Payne, head of the American Red Cross, and suggested that the fund go to the same source this year.

The first benefit concert given by Paderewski was during the Coolidge administration on behalf of the American Legion at Poli's Theater. Mrs. Hoover sponsored the concert last year.

Added significance is given this year's concert by the fact that Paderewski has long been estimated the greatest exponent of the music of his famous countryman, Chopin. The program will open with Chopin's Fantasia and will include two nocturnes, four preludes, three etudes, two mazurkas and will close with the Grande Valse Brilliante.

Seats for the concert are on sale at the Wilson-Greene Concert Bureau in Droop's, 1300 G street northwest. They may also be obtained at Constitution Hall after 3 p. m. on the day of the concert.

Mrs. Judd, in her application to the board, asked for a full pardon or commutation of the death sentence. She is scheduled to be hanged April 14.

McFadden Loses House Bank Post

(Associated Press.)

Representative McFadden, Pennsylvania Republican, who made repeated attacks on President Hoover and twice endeavored to have him impeached, has been deprived of his place as ranking Republican member of the House Banking Committee.

After an attack on the former Chief Executive shortly after his intergovernmental debt moratorium, McFadden was stripped of all his patronage privileges. His removal from the banking committee, of which he is a former chairman, was construed by his associates as another act of party discipline.

James W. Wadsworth, of New York, former senator, who was elected to the House last fall, was placed on the banking committee.

Two Women Slain At Florida Home

Two Men Sought Are Believed to Have Killed Them While Drunk.

Sarasota, Fla., March 13 (A.P.).—Two women, Bertie Lee Clements, 23, and Lacey Bell Dyel, 30, were found shot to death in their home here early today. Police immediately instituted search for two men, known only to them as "Whitey" Rogers, of Nashville, Tenn., and a man named Blair from New Orleans.

A man who gave his name as James T. Douglas, 24, of Manatee, Fla., who was wounded in the thumb when he said he attempted to stop the shooting, was jailed as a material witness.

The Clements woman was shot four times and killed instantly. The Dyel woman was shot once in the back and died in a hospital. Police said they believe the assailants were intoxicated and escaped in an automobile.

Britain Lifts Ban On Arms to Orient

Baldwin Despairs of Early World Cooperation on Embargo.

London, March 13 (U.P.).—Great Britain today lifted her embargo on shipments of war supplies to the Far East.

Acting Premier Stanley Baldwin announced this action in the House of Commons. The embargo was declared recently as result of the Chinese-Japanese controversy in Manchuria.

Baldwin said that Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, after conversations at Geneva over the week-end, had been convinced there was no prospect of an early international agreement for an embargo.

Two Former Carolina Officials Are Indicted

Greenville, S. C., March 13 (A.P.).—Cliff R. Bramlett, former Greenville County sheriff, was charged with official misconduct and with embezzlement, and Joseph R. Bryson, former State senator from Greenville County, was charged with accepting a bribe in true bills of indictment returned today by the Greenville County grand jury.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

SINCE yesterday's column celebrated those pictures which national box-office reports, as compiled by the Motion Picture Herald, indicated to be the January choice of the theatergoing public as champions, it seems no more than the part of simple justice to announce today "Best Pictures of the Month," catalogued in the March bulletin of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, which is by way of being the Will H. Hays organization, so-called.

George Arliss.

These selections, instead of being made on a basis of box-office receipts, are arrived at from the joint estimate of previewing committees representing the following national organizations: National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, National Society of New England Women, General Federation of Women's Clubs (West Coast Committee), Congress of Parents and Teachers (California Committee), United Church Brotherhood (California and Los Angeles Federations), National Council of Jewish Women (Los Angeles Section), and the Women's University Club of Los Angeles.

From the nature of these organizations it may be presumed that their examination of current films is minute and their requirements in the matters of moral, educational, dramatic and artistic values, rigid. The appraisals, finally, I believe, are based on three considerations, entertainment value, ethical and social values and technical and artistic excellence.

It is an eloquent commentary upon their specific qualities of excellence, therefore, that these four pictures should be deemed their month's best: "Humanity," a Fox production, featuring Ralph Morgan, "Boots" Mallory and Alexander Kirkland, which I do not recall having been presented in Washington; "The King's Vacation," Warner Brothers production, starring George Arliss; "Rome Express," a Gaumont British production released by Universal, with Esther Ralston, Conrad Veidt and an English cast, and "Topaze," RKO-Keith's delightful vehicle for John Barrymore.

It is worth recalling that the Washington critical fraternity has waxed excessively enthusiastic over such of these signally honored subjects as it has seen.

Too much emphasis, I think, can not be laid upon the astonishing strides that have been made by the National Symphony Orchestra under the sound conductorship of the indefatigable Dr. Hans Kindler.

Those who attended last Sunday's final Sabbath afternoon concert of the current season—and they were almost enough to fill the tier upon tier of Constitution Hall's huge auditorium—could not but have been impressed by the orchestra's technical refinement and the perfection of that elusive quality of ensemble courtesy and coordinated effort that create an immediate sense of both finish and finesse and so enhances the effectiveness of a vigorous and well-directed power of interpretation.

It is inconceivable that the Capital should permit so earnest a group, with such fine accomplishments already to its credit and such brilliant achievement promised for the future, either to languish or to die. It may require a bit of supporting at a difficult and critical time in the lives of all of us, but it is distinctly worth it from the standpoint of both civic and cultural pride, not to mention the only slightly less important item of sheer—and perhaps selfish—personal enjoyment.

Unless these old eyes are as bad as I think they may be, that is Stuart Holmes, once the screen's foremost "heavy," who appears briefly as Bookmaker Sidney Blackmer's sheet-writer in the paddock scenes of "From Hell to Heaven," at the Earle. Not that it matters.

And Loew's Fox claims another all-time attendance record, with 9,861 admissions between opening and 5:30 p. m., last Saturday. That would be the entire population of my home town with a few of the neighbors dragged in from Kouts, Prattville, Hebron and Hobart to make up the difference!

And just to add a bit of atmosphere to the engagement of "The Big Cage," at the Rialto, Managing Director Rodney Collier has installed a live elephant and a lion in the lobby in charge of a competent keeper. In case you, also, have a little sawdust in your veins, feeding hours are 1, 7 and 9 p. m. Bring your own peanuts and quarters of beef!

So, speaking of animals, we all went down to the Fox Film Exchange yesterday afternoon to preview "King Kong," as guests of Manager Hardie Meakin of RKO-Keith's.

I sat between Mr. Edward De Selding Melcher, of the Evening Star, and Miss Eleanore Wilson, of the Washington Daily News, and in a comparatively short time learned a great deal about the excitability of supposedly blase critics.

When King Kong, the 50-foot gorilla, began munching the island natives between his pulverizing jaws, like peanuts, and plucking airplanes out of the sky from the top of the Empire State Building the way you would catch flies with your hand, Mr. Melcher, to my positive knowledge, swallowed two lighted Murads in an effort to appear nonchalant, and has Miss Wilson got elbows!

I was about to crown her wholeheartedly with a pedestal ash receiver at one juncture for pinching my arm so viciously, but imagine my embarrassment when I found out it was I, myself, who was doing it!

That will give you a rough idea of the kind of picture "King Kong" really is. It will either thrill you magnificently or scare you to death, one or the other. It certainly won't leave you asleep!

Well, if today is the day, it will be all right with me!

THE THEATER LAST NIGHT

NATIONAL

"CAVALCADE." Fox Films picturization of the play by Noel Coward, adapted to the screen by Reginald Berkeley, featuring Diana Wynyard, Clive Brook, Ursula Jeans, Herbert Mundin, Una O'Connor, Irene Brownell, Beryl Mercer, John Warburton, Frank Lawton and Margaret Lindsay, with a lengthy supporting cast and an ensemble of thousands. Directed by Frank Lloyd, with war scenes by William Cameron Menzies and dialogue directed by George Hadden.

By NELSON B. BELL.

As emotionally stirring in its depiction of the simple domestic concerns of a typical upper-class English family as in the more heroic enterprise of mirroring mighty events, cataclysmic disaster and the brutal ravages of war, "Cavalcade" strikes perhaps deeper into human consciousness than any picture that has ever found its way to the screen.

It is not entirely clear why this should be so. Other films have made as pretentious use of the same material; other casts have played with as great devotion to the highest traditions of their calling as the able and conscientious artists here assembled and other craftsmen have builded settings no less mammoth and imposing. It remains alone, then, for what is coming to be known as the genius of Noel Coward to make this impressive work the superior of all its predecessors in the field of epochal, if not epic, drama.

Mr. Coward has taken a third of a century for his panorama of "this cavalcade called life" and into that span of years has crowded a majority of the pivotal events in British history that actually occurred in them—the Boer War, the death of Queen Victoria, the sinking of the Titanic, the outbreak of the Great War, the bitter travail of its four long years, the ecstasy of the Armistice and the jumble of thought, purposes and action that has followed.

All this he has written through the eyes of the wife and mother of the family that dominates the story. All this, too, he has written with a simple and powerful directness, a poignancy and a reverential touch that is as irresistibly moving as life itself.

A great deal Mr. Coward has achieved by the subtle powers of suggestion. The vast solemnity of Queen Victoria's funeral cortege, for example, is communicated by the slow clatter of horses' hoofs on pavement, a muffled dirge and the expressions on the faces of a little group occupying a balcony, but is never seen. Similarly, the tragedy of the Titanic is conveyed by the conversation of a bride and bridegroom standing at the rail on that death ship's fatal maiden voyage. They move away in a moment of the greatest happiness two human beings may know to reveal the name "Titanic" on a life preserver. That is all. But that is infinitely enough.

Utmost prudence had been exercised in the selection of the cast. Not one out of the tremendous gallery of characters but is admirably and convincingly played. All are English, played by Englishmen. Clive Brook and Diana Wynyard are assigned the roles of Robert and Jane Marryot, devoted husband and wife and father and mother of two fine lads—one lost on the Titanic; the other, on the day of the Armistice. These sons are played with great charm in their boyhood by Dick Henderson, jr., and Douglas Scott; in their later years by John Warburton and Frank Lawton. Their sweethearts, Sheila McGill and Bonita Granville in childhood; Margaret Lindsay and Ursula Jeans in older years. Irene Brownell is an engaging Margaret Harris. Herbert Mundin, Una O'Connor and Merle Tottenham are effectively cast as servitors, who, through the years, find their lives inextricably interwoven with their former masters'. All are minutely and unfailingly excellent.

Among the scores of others who contribute importantly to many of the play's diverse ramifications are Beryl Mercer, Tempe Piggott, Billy Bevan, Mary Forbes, Lionel Belmore, David Torrence, Lawrence Grant, Winter Hall and Claude King, all names of note in the cinema.

It is not possible to complete an appraisal of "Cavalcade" without due tribute to the incomparable capacity of Frank Lloyd, the director, for the handling of huge panoramas and great masses of people. He has contrived scenes of tremendous scope and enormous vitality that make it possible for "Cavalcade" to be a magnificent spectacle as well as a sublimely moving drama.

A large and distinguished audience last night was emphatic in its approval of a beautiful and brilliant film that was only marred by an unfortunately feeble sound projection in many of its sequences. It was preceded by "Down From Vesuvius," a release in the "Magic Carpet" series.

GAYETY

"POWDER PUFF GIRLS." Empire burlesque attraction, featuring Eddie Kaplan, Fred Bishop, Rose Marie, May Baxter, Harry Arnie, Eddie Dale, Hazel Miller, Joan Dare, Johanna Slade, Bob Burch and Bert Grant. Reviewed Monday night by Bud Hyman.

"Powder Puff Girls," the first attraction at the Gayety under its revived policy of presenting touring attractions, is a bit disappointing in that the production can not begin to measure up to those that have entertained Washington burlesque audiences for the past few months.

The show, however, does have many redeeming features. It uncovers a new type of comedian in the person of Eddie Kaplan, who has a style distinctly his own and renders a different brand of humor, well worth seeing. George Murray and Eddie Dale, a comedy team well known to Washington fans, is as funny as ever and produces many laughs.

The feminine contingent is made up of Rose Marie, May Baxter, Hazel Miller, Joan Dare and Johanna Slade, a group of attractive and shapely young principals, each of whom contributes several singing and dancing numbers that were well received, with honors going to Rose Marie and May Baxter.

Added attractions presented by Manager Lake are Tommie Lealand, an acrobatic dancer par excellence, and "Inky and Archie," a colored tap dance team that always scores.

NEW CINEMA OFFERINGS

COLUMBIA

"LUXURY LINER." Paramount picturization of the novel by Gina Kaus, featuring George Brent, Zita Johann, Alice White and Frank Morgan. Directed by Lothar Mendes. Reviewed Monday evening by W. A. Whitney.

It is not the first time that the cinema has crossed the briny deep to get its picture, but it has always heretofore been on an ostensibly one-class ship—the first class. But "Luxury Liner" carries its full complement of classes, from first class to steerage, weaving in and out of them all an entertaining, dramatic story as seen, principally, through the eyes of the ship's surgeon.

There is, then, aboard this floating city the ship's surgeon who is seeking to win back his wife from the blandishments of a philandering financier of questionable dealings. There is a former opera singer, for the financier to fall back upon when he throws over the surgeon's wife. There is a naive little trick in the steerage much bedazzled by the glories of the first-class ladies, who, by thinly veiled manipulations manages to get up on the top deck and be sadly disillusioned.

There is the one-time English tycoon, now reduced to ignominious penury through competitors' machinations, but who saves the money of the stock-struck fools of the steerage when a rumor of big money breaks into the nether regions. And, finally, there is the ship's nurse, who, like Little Buttercup, kept her own past buried deeply in her heart, yet her unfortunate marital experience comes out, ultimately leading to her marriage with the doctor, whose wife shot the financier and later committed suicide by jumping into the ocean.

Outstanding among the excellently played parts are the doctor and the nurse, done by George Brent and Zita Johann, with Mr. Brent doing a long-suffering, silent characterization and Miss Johann drawing the female counterpart in the same grand style.

Others of the cast include Vivienne Osborne, as the wife; Alice White, as the wide-eyed siren of the steerage; Verree Teasdale, as the opera singer; Frank Morgan, as the financier, and C. Aubrey Smith, as the beneficent Englishman.

"Keyhole Katie, the College Snooper," burlesques that Broadway columnist in a comedy as lusty as it is raucous. A release in the Johnnie Walker series, "Do You Remember," with shots of Glenn Curtiss and the Wright Brothers making aviation history, and the Paramount News complete the program.

W., B. & A. ROAD TAX EXEMPTION UPHELD

U. S. Supreme Court Rules Maryland Act Is Valid for Two Years.

The United States Supreme Court yesterday sustained the act of the Maryland Legislature exempting the property of the Washington, Baltimore & Annapolis Railroad from State, county and city taxes for a period of two years, ended January 1, 1933.

A claim for $50,000 in taxes for each year had been filed by the mayor and the city council of Baltimore, and one of $3,000 for each year by the aldermen of Annapolis.

The Federal District Court for Maryland upheld the validity of the act, denying the claims of both municipalities. The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the trial court and held the exemption act invalid and in conflict with both the Federal and State constitutions. An appeal was then made to the Supreme Court.

The act was passed in 1931, when a receiver was appointed for the railroad and discontinuance of its service seemed imminent. The act exempted the property used for railroad purposes from charges in the nature of a tax, including contributions to construction of railroad crossings, as long as the property was used for railroad purposes, but not exceeding two years, beginning January 1, 1931.

(Associated Press.)

President Roosevelt's four nominations for Assistant Postmasters General were confirmed last night by the Senate. The four appointments were:

Joseph C. O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, to be First Assistant Postmaster General. William W. Howes, of South Dakota, to be Second Assistant. Clinton B. Eilenberger, of Pennsylvania, to be Third Assistant. Silliman Evans, of Texas, to be Fourth Assistant.

The four were approved without debate and without objections.

A favorable report on the nomination of John H. Holliday, of Missouri, to be Vice Governor of the Philippine Islands was submitted to the Senate yesterday by the Territories Committee.

Priority Bank Plea Of Veterans Is Lost

(Associated Press.)

World War veterans, the Supreme Court decided yesterday, are without priority over other depositors in the claims against insolvent banks for the money received from the United States.

The ruling was handed down in a case involving a deposit of approximately $6,000 which Sam Spicer had in the Hargis Bank & Trust Co., of Breathitt County, Ky., when it became insolvent.

The assets of the bank were not sufficient to pay all depositors and it was claimed money received from the United States by veterans for insurance and disability allowances was money of the United States while on deposit in banks to the credit of veterans and was therefore entitled to priority.

Florida Chain-Store Tax Is Held Invalid

U. S. Supreme Court Rules Act Out on County Distinctions.

(Associated Press.)

The Florida chain-store tax was declared invalid yesterday by the Supreme Court in a case brought by Louis K. Liggett Co. and others. Justice Roberts delivered the opinion.

The Supreme Court has upheld taxes on chain stores in several States and, Justice Roberts said, the Florida tax would have been also upheld had it not provided distinctions as to counties.

He pointed out that if the chain had fourteen stores in one county and added another, it would have to pay $10 each for the stores, but that if fifteen stores were in another county and one was added, the tax would be $15 on each unit. Justice Brandeis dissented.

RUPPERT REMAINS FIRM AS RUTH SPURNS $50,000

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

ART SHIRES is down at St. Petersburg with the Braves fighting against the currents that threaten to drag him down for the third time. The Great One has already experienced two trips to the minors, and even he considers it doubtful if his major league career could survive a third descent.

But Shires is at the Braves' camp only under sufferance. Manager McKechnie is still unrelenting in the case of Arthur, whom he tossed out of the Braves line-up unceremoniously during the middle of last season, and only the intercession of Judge Fuchs, the owner of the club, saved Shires for the team.

McKechnie's grievances against Shires were his failure to keep in condition, his lack of esprit de corps and whole-hearted diligence, and even Judge Fuchs concurred that McKechnie had cause to ship the Great One to the minors. But Art has bounded back again and, as a matter of fact, is making himself extremely useful once more, probably in the realization that the third trip down would be fatal.

Shires Either Good Or Bad.

It has been this department's observation that Shires is either a very good player or a very bad player, depending on his frame of mind and willingness to apply himself to the duties at hand. Clark Griffith was of the same opinion when he obtained the Great One from Chicago in exchange for Braxton and Tate a few years ago, but Griffith overestimated the steadying influence of the Washington management.

Back in Milwaukee two years ago Shires immediately proceeded to show himself as big-league caliber and he led the league in hitting for so long that at the finish of the season, when the Braves bought him, he was the highest-priced recruit of the year and the man who would transform the Braves into a first-division club.

But his reentrance into the big league seemed to terminate Shires' brilliance, and his hitting fell away to a whisper, while it is said that he lamed himself by his own awkward fielding. Anyway, McKechnie fired him off the club and sought to send him to Chattanooga, a deal which Shires blocked by producing a doctor's certificate showing that he was out of condition.

Game of Baseball Too Serious.

Shires apparently outlived his American League usefulness by his play in Chicago and Washington, but it seems strange that the Braves found no difficulty in obtaining waivers on him last summer. In condition or out, he still retains a certain box office appeal that is scarce outside of Babe Ruth, and it would seem that the magnates would gamble a bit with him, but this game of baseball apparently is getting too serious.

The Great One was one of the dozens of first basemen who attempted to oust Joe Judge from the Washington job Judge held for 17 years, and his failure was due more to Judge's spirited comeback than to any shortcomings of Shires, who played well enough when he was permitted to play. But Shires was not the type of ball player that appealed to Griffith, who was glad to accept a minor league price for him.

His first game with Washington was characteristic of the Shires who was in his best form. He beat out an infield hit by the simple method of knocking the first baseman down the right field foul line, and then spoiled a double play at second by knocking the shortstop into left field, with all hands safe. But Shires was not always fired with the same ambition. And Griff couldn't keep him simply for art's sake.

Clash of Van And Irving Awaited

Southwest, Northeast Boys Battle; Jacobs Meets Manley.

By DAVE HERMAN.

YOUNG VAN, Southwest Washington's fistic idol and gift to the class of handsomely built men, and Henry Irving, Northeast's most famous Popeye, as well as pride and joy, will swap blows over the eight-round route tonight at Portner's Arena in Alexandria, a place that is gravely in danger (Oh, yes) of being transformed back to the smart brewery it was years ago as a result of the President's proclamation yesterday asking for the return of beer.

Topping a fight program that includes four six-round bouts, Van and Irving, local products of the middleweight division, have been matched because of popular demand. This is their first meeting in the ring.

An ambition that every young fighter cherishes will be realized by both Van and Irving. Never before has either fought in the principal bout on a professional card. Tonight is their night.

Van steps into the roped arena with a shining record to his credit. So does his opponent. Van was not superstitious when he fought Walter Kirkwood back in February at Portner's. It was his thirteenth bout, but the stiff-punching stereotyper whaled away to win from Kirkwood. In his first bout of the season, Van proved that he had a strong right whip by flattening Billy Vermillion in the second round. The only man to defeat him since he turned pro was black-haired Sammy Britt, who twice in a row won by knockouts in the first round. Van, however, holds a verdict over this Britt fellow.

This Irving fellow is no slouch. Although a bit clownish at times in the ring, the Northeast tiger is a most determined person, and throws his heart and soul into every punch. Irving has a tremendous following, and his backers are confident he has the stuff to either flatten or decision Van.

However, his right usually means K. O., provided it hits the right spot and has enough speed attached to it.

Considerable rivalry has flared up in the two sections of the city—the Northeast, where Irving reigns, and the Southwest, where Van is the rule. From these two sections will come hundreds of rooters to Portner's to cheer for their aces.

The betting dope, as far as can be ascertained, has swung slightly in favor of Irving, although in some quarters keen fight observers are wagering on Van on the basis of his convincing triumph over Kirkwood and Irving's draw with the same person.

Boxing Bits' Selections—Van to beat Irving, Jacobs to beat Manley, Landers to beat Horn, Lowry to beat Levinson and Mills to beat Esinger.

Line-Up for Tonight's Fights at Portner's

PLACE—Portner's Arena in Alexandria.

JUDGES—Denny Hughes and George King.

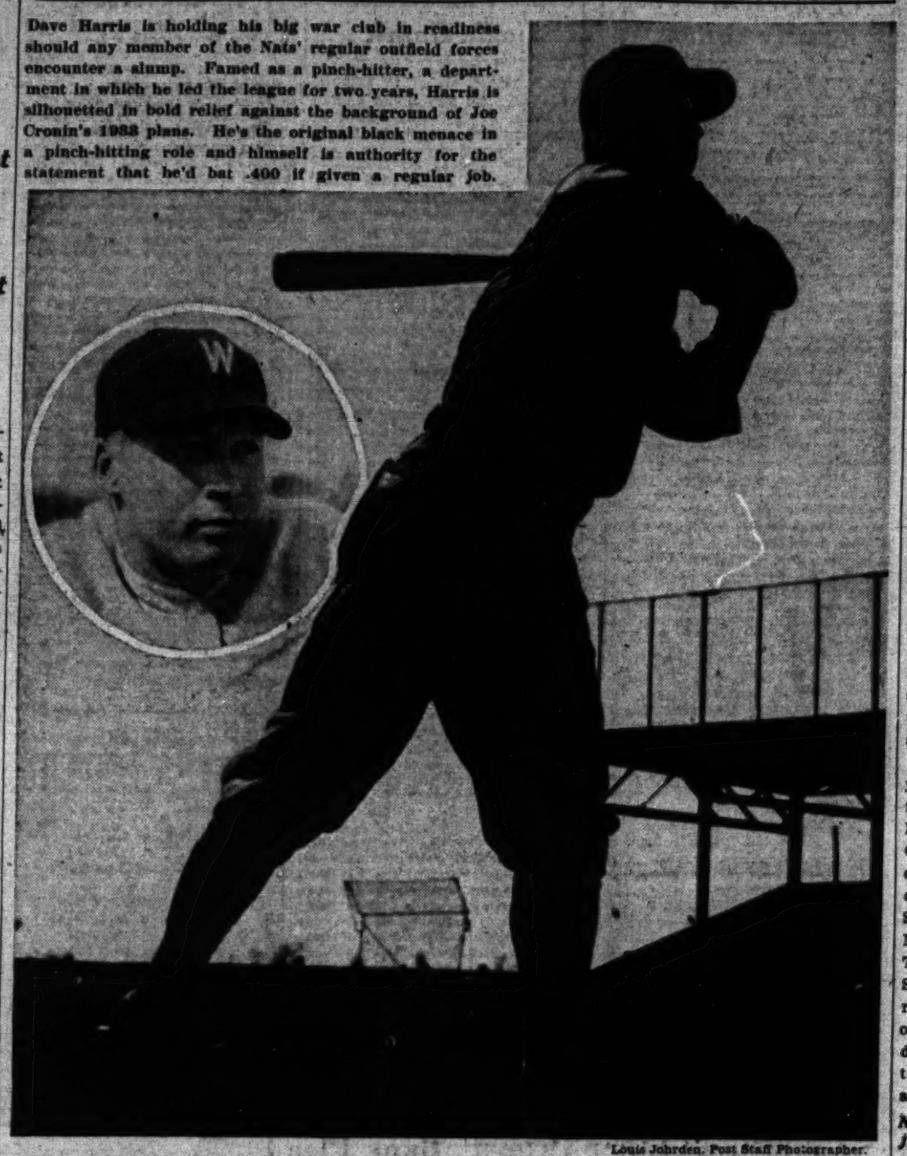
Dark Horse Candidate for Nats' Outfield



Dave Harris is holding his big war club in readiness should any member of the Nats' regular outfield forces encounter a slump. Famed as a pinch-hitter, a department in which he led the league for two years, Harris is silhouetted in bold relief against the background of Joe Cronin's 1933 plans. He's the original black menace in a pinch-hitting role and himself is authority for the statement that he'd bat .400 if given a regular job.

WOLTZ IS OUT OF A. A. U. TOURNEY

Principal Bans Eastern Stars; Aloha Lites Upset.

ONE upset and a surprise last night stunned followers of the A. A. U. basket ball tournament now in progress at Tech High School under the sponsorship of The Post. Andy Mack's Aloha Lites, well thought of in the 130-pound circles, were routed by Ohrist Child, 32-22, and Woltz Photographers, outstanding contenders for the 145-pound-class honors, were eliminated, but not in actual combat. In other games St. Martin's scored an easy 36-6 victory over St. John's Aces, while Griffith-Consumers gained the second round in the unlimited class with a 48-18 victory over Bethesda's Volunteer Firemen.

Principal Charles Hart's decision forbidding Tom Nolan and Lavelje Dean, Eastern High School players, from participating with the Woltz Team completely demoralized it. Only four players were left eligible for the scheduled game with McLean and under the rules tournament officials could not grant permission to start the fray with less than five men.

Woltz Wins Exhibition Game.

The teams played an exhibition game, which Woltz won handily with the aid of players recruited from their supporters. The Photographers tossed them in from all angles, but they were meaningless baskets. Jack Bayliss topped the scoring with 14 points.

Tom Peck's scoring eye was working last night and it was one of the primary reasons for the downfall of Ford Young's Bethesda quintet. Peck netted the leather for 12 points, sharing scoring honors with Roberts.

Bethesda rallied gallantly at the start of the second half but the uprising was squelched before it assumed dangerous proportions. Zola and Williams played good floor games for the winners, while Melton, Alexander and Hale were outstanding for the suburbanites.

Christ Child jumped into an early lead in its game and its 18-6 margin at the half was large enough to give it victory despite a strong second-half rally by the Alohas. Wanneberger was largely responsible for his team's victory, for he scored 13 points, 6 more than credited to Whisman, who was high gun for the Lites.

St. John's was never in the running in its game with St. Martin's, the latter being one of the choices

Slaughter Is Winner As Sharkey Referees

Boston, March 13 (U.P.).—Repeating a previous victory, Sammy Slaughter, Terre Haute, Ind., Negro middleweight, easily outpointed Norman Conrad, of Wilton, N. H., in a 10-round return bout at Boston Arena tonight before 10,000 fans.

Slaughter weighed 163, Conrad 160. The Negro pounded the lanky, lean New Hampshire boxer about the ribs and kidneys, but Conrad, who had been knocked down several times in their previous encounter, gave a good account of himself.

In another 10-rounder Steve Halaiko, Buffalo, N. Y., 135, defeated Paris Apice, 136½, Providence, R. I. Mickey Bishop, Stoughton, 165, defeated Eino Nyholm, Maynard, 164½, in 10 rounds.

Sam West, Weighing 177, Stars in Browns' Drill

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 13 (A.P.).—Sam West, outfielder, one of the St. Louis Browns' "lame ducks" from Washington, was the "big shot" of today's practice. This one-time little fellow has groyn to weigh 177 pounds during the off season. He says he will have to take some of it off, but not much. He says he will play 10 pounds heavier this year.

Fesler, All-American, Named Harvard Coach

Cambridge, Mass., March 13 (A.P.).—Wesley Fesler, All-American end 1929-30 and one of the greatest all-around athletes ever developed at Ohio State University, today was appointed head coach of next year's Harvard Varsity Basket Ball Team.

Fesler will succeed Ed Wachter, who has handled the Crimson court team for the past 10 years. During that period Harvard has been beaten by Yale six straight years.

Fesler will also act as assistant back field coach on Eddie Casey's varsity football staff. He will not report until next September.

District Amateur Boxing Bill Again Up in House

The District amateur boxing bill, passage of which has been sought for the past four years, may become a law at this special session of Congress, it was made known last night by Ed Rosenbloom, of the Jewish Community Center, chairman of the A. A. U. Boxing Commission.

The measure came up yesterday in the House and was quickly referred to the District Committee. Local officials expect the House to pass favorably on it this week.

When the bill came up recently it passed the House and was approved by the Senate Committee, but a vote was not reached due to the fact that it was up during the fag end of the session.

Billy Petrolle Signs To Fight Ross March 22

Chicago, March 13 (U.P.).—The long-pending 10-round boxing match between Billy Petrolle, of Fargo, and Barney Ross, Chicago lightweight contender, has finally been signed for the Chicago Stadium March 22.

Signed contracts of both fighters were received today. Varias, Milling, Filipino featherweight, and Johnny Pena, of New York, will meet in the 10-round semiwindup.

BILOXI BUNTS

BILOXI, Miss., March 13.—Well, it looks like Heinie Manush will be the next manager of the Nats.

They've assigned Heinie to room with Johnny Kerr, the old manager-maker. Johnny's former roommates were Lou Fonseca and Joe Cronin.

You can't discourage this kid Ellsworth Hazzard. Griffith told him his time was up, a couple of days ago, but the University of Illinois pitcher simply moved down the road to a vastly cheaper hotel and showed up promptly the next morning at the ball park.

Joe Cronin likes that sort of spirit. He let him pitch to the batters for quite a spell, and will continue to do so.

Just when it looked like the boys didn't have any other expression to yell than "Dont-a tell-me-a, that-a" and Ed Wynn's immortal "So-o-o-o-o," there came along the city banquet to Biloxi, with its cut and dried speeches praising the town. Now the gents give vent to "Glo-rious Biloxi" upon the slightest provocation, whether it's applicable to the topic at hand or not.

It begins to look like they'll keep Bob Boken just to please Bobby Stewart, the 6-year-old youngster of Walter Stewart. Next to his daddy, Bobby ranks Boken as his favorite player. The two play elementary card games for hours at a time. And then Boken's card tricks are a perpetual mystery to the young man.

The boys are wondering how Al Schacht, Goose Goslin and Johnny Kerr can keep from being taken back to New Orleans when the Pelicans come over here to play Friday.

Never saw such courteous shopkeepers as Biloxi boasts of. One of the reporters went into a cigar store the other day and ordered a Carona Carona (haw) and upon reaching in his pocket made the discovery that he had not one cent—only a lousy check book. The storekeeper said, "Oh, pay me some other time" and thrust a Sarasota, Fla., March 13 (A.P.).—A high wind today forced a halt in the Boston Red Sox practice game after five innings of play. The score was tied at 1-all. The regulars bunched two of their five hits to score in the second and the Yannigans, whose only safety was a scratch single by Manager Marty McManus, managed to score on two walks and an error.

Cantwell, of Braves, to Face Yanks.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 13 (A.P.).—Ben Cantwell, lanky pitcher, today was selected by Manager Bill McKechnie to start against the world champion New York Yankees tomorrow in the opening exhibition game of the season at Water Front Park. Bobby Brown and Eddie Fallenstein also will work for the Braves.

Phil Yannigans Bow To Regulars.

Batting Drill Ordered by Cronin

Rookies Again Take Mound Tomorrow Against Atlanta.

By BOB CONSIDINE
(Post Staff Correspondent).

BILOXI, Miss., March 13.—Piqued, yea, even jolly well disconcerted, by the fact that not only himself but the rest of the Happiness Boys were not banging that old apple on the nose with expected aplomb, Manager Joe Cronin today ordered a siege of batting practice for his lads and at the end of a two-hour workout said that the same thing would be the order of the day tomorrow and also Thursday.

Among those Nats who have not yet achieved their true batting form are, besides Cronin, Joe Kuhel, Cliff Bolton, Sam Rice, Goose Goslin, Ossie Bluege and one or two others. Batting heroes of the camp to date are Fred Schulte, Dave Harris and Heinie Manush. Today Cronin sent Bud Thomas, Earl Whitehill, Walter Stewart, Ed Linke and Bob Friedrichs out on the mound, with orders to open up, wide. And they did, smearing the ball at the batters with everything in the curve and hop catalogue.

Not Greatly Worried Just a Little Bit.

Cronin, of course, is not particularly worried into munching on his finger nails over the batting. It's still pretty early in the season to expect the run of the players to be hitting the ball on the stitches, but nevertheless Joe wishes they'd hurry up.

Atlanta comes over again Wednesday for the rubber contest of a three game series. The hard-hitting Crackers will have to face the pitches of Ed Linke and Bud Thomas, the duo that held them well in hand last Saturday when Washington eked out a 4-to-3 win at Mobile. The regulars will man the rest of the positions, with the exception of Lake Sewell, who will do no catching until later in the spring campaign.

Friday Washington plays the Pelicans of New Orleans, here, and then picks on somebody its size by meeting the Cleveland Indians Saturday and Sunday in archaic New Orleans.

Regular Pitchers To Face Tribe.

With Washington's mainstay pitchers in remarkably fine shape, it begins to look as if four of the five starters—Crowder, Weaver, Whitehill and Stewart—may pitch the two Cleveland games between them, with Al Thomas, the fifth starter, being held back until at least another week or ten days of the spring season has gone bye-bye.

No chances are being taken with Thomas' arm for fear of overstraining the revamped flipper. The long surgical scar that runs up the back of his arm has completely healed, of course, and has displayed old-time speed and hook in a fast workout or two, but there will be no tinkering with Thomas until maybe the return engagements with Cleveland, scheduled for Biloxi on March 24 and 25.

As far as can be detected, the Washington-Cleveland series will be the first under the new ruling which allows the players of the American League to fraternize with one another during the spring season. While everything is supposed to be nice and friendly during the games, with sport the byword rather than victory, it is doubtful if many of the rookies on either team will get much of a chance to show their wares during the engagements.

Mike Martin, the prosperous rubber, belabored the thin left arm of Bobby Burke most of this hot morning with liniment, massaging and cajolery. The lame fin of the slender portsider is considerably improved, and with its improvement also improve the chances that Bob will soon begin to loom as a relief pitcher, to take the place—if not fill the shoes—of the departed Mister Marberry.

College Grid Fame Sought by Bill Rockne

Bill Rockne, eldest son of the late Knute Rockne, former Notre Dame player and coach, was one of 40 men who reported today for spring football practice at St. Benedict's College. Larry (Moon) Mullins, Notre Dame full back in 1930, is the coach.

Illinois Fight Body Urges 15-Round Bill

Chicago, March 13 (U.P.).—Joseph Triner and Packy McFarland, members of the Illinois Athletic Commission, will leave here for Springfield, Ill., tomorrow to try to hurry action on the 15-round amendment to the State boxing laws.

The 15-round clause was introduced to induce Jack Dempsey to bring the Schmeling-Baer heavyweight fight to Chicago next summer. The bill has been pending some time.

The report last week that Dempsey was considering New York as a site for the battle has prompted the athletic commission to hurry action on the bill.

Bucky Harris Sees Tigers As Threat

Greenberg and Owen May Put Punch in His Infield.

By BILL PARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer).

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 13 (A. P.).—Only extreme optimists believe Detroit will win this season's American League pennant, but, from Manager Bucky Harris to the rookies training here, there is secret hope that the youthful Tigers will develop into a 1-2-3 surprise unit against such competition as Cleveland, Philadelphia and New York.

"It is the finest team I have managed," said Harris. "It is young, willing and possessed with great natural ability. We will crowd teams like Cleveland and Philadelphia."

Harris, with 14 recruits and 17 veterans, has a fair idea how the line-up will look when the big show starts. He knows Harry Davis, and his left-hand mitt will be at first, and is confident Davis will be a batting improvement over last year's .269.

Gehringer Ranked One Of Best.

Bill Rogell is slated for a probable return to shortstop. However, Marvin Owen, husky recruit from Newark, with an impressive .317 batting average, is getting favorable side glances from Harris. Owen is a regular third baseman, but prefers shortstop.

At third, Harris is striving to develop tall "Hank" Greenberg, who played first base last season for Beaumont and led the Texas League in home runs. "Bucky" plans to open with Greenberg at third if the rookie continues to show fielding improvement. There is no doubt about his hitting. He batted .290 for Beaumont.

The catching staff is settled with Ray Hayworth nominated for first string position, Eugene Desautels for second string, and Frank Reiber for third string. Reiber, last year with Beaumont, has impressed with his terrific hitting.

Thomas Bridges, Elon Hogsett, Fred Marberry, Victor Sorrell, George Uhle, Whitlow Wyatt and Charles Fischer are veteran pitchers sure of jobs. Harris plans to staff nine pitchers and Lynwood Rowe. Beaumont sensation last year, has the eighth job cinched. The ninth position is a fight between Ray Goldstein, Luke Hamlin, Arthur Herring, Charlie Marrow and Francis Nekola.

"My outfield will be Gerald Walker and John Stone, last year regulars, and Ervin Fox, a promising prospect from Beaumont," he said. Fox is the best defense outfielder on the team, and a dangerous hitter. I have moved Walker to the clean-up position."

Earl Webb, Joyner White and Frank Doljack are other outfielders.

Harris believes that Fred Marberry will save many games as a relief hurler; that Owen and Greenberg will put additional offensive punch into the infield, and that Fox will add defensive and offensive strength to the outfield. Fox paced the Texas League hitters last season with .357.

"They are all kids who will make a few mistakes, but will show our league something new in hustle and determination," said Harris, as Hank Greenberg slapped one over the center field fence, 380 feet from home base.

Babe Refuses Offer Under $60,000

Owner Asserts Club Lost Money in '32 Despite Pennant.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13 (A.P.).—Babe Ruth and the New York Yanks were further apart than ever today.

Following a brief conference with Ruth at the training base here today, Col. Jacob Ruppert, Yankee owner, announced that the home-run slugger had refused his offer of $50,000 and that there would be no compromise.

"Fifty thousand dollars is a lot of money for a man of 39," was Ruppert's comment and he added that the next move was up to Ruth.

Ruth refused to consider a cent less than $60,000, cutting his original demand of $62,500 down $2,500, and remarked after the conference that if Ruppert wanted to keep him out of baseball because of a difference of $10,000, it was satisfactory to him.

Little Chance of Another Conference.

The possibility of another conference between Ruth and Ruppert appeared remote as neither gave any indication of yielding. Ruppert said the $50,000 offer would stand and that it was in Ruth's hands and up to him to decide.

"I will retire from baseball before signing for $50,000," Ruth was quoted as saying two weeks ago. He announced emphatically today that he would not play in the Yankees' first exhibition game with the Boston Braves here tomorrow. Immediately after the conference with Ruppert he went back on the training field for the balance of the practice session.

Slugger Willing to Take $15,000 Cut.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 13 (U. P.).—Babe Ruth and Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, held their long-awaited salary conference today, but nothing came of it.

The home-run slugger indicated a willingness to come down from last season's $75,000 to $60,000, but the New York Club owner stood by his original offer of $50,000.

"My original offer of $50,000 still stands," Col. Ruppert said as they left Manager Joe McCarthy's office at Miller Huggins Field. "Babe can take that at any time before the start of the season. I have no intention of cutting the offer in the event of delay. I have not considered what the offer would be if Ruth remained unsigned after the start of the season."

Ruppert said he "could not conconsider" the sum demanded by Ruth.

"Furthermore, and this will astound you," Ruppert said, "the Yankees did not make money, but actually lost last year, despite winning the American pennant and the world series.

Col. Ruppert Argues In Vain.

"I explained to the Babe that $50,000 this year is equal to $100,000 two years ago, and the biggest salary he received was $80,000 paid him in 1930 and 1931; I drew a parallel with the stock market. When Ruth was getting $80,000 some stocks were up between 300 and 400. Today they are down to 7 and 8.

"I am sorry Ruth can not see my viewpoint. I can see no progress until he is willing to accept my terms."

Ruth was asked about the conference:

"You heard Col. Ruppert," he replied. "That's all there is, fellows. Jake's told you everything."

Reds Barry Loses On Close Decision

Special to The Washington Post.

Holyoke, Mass., March 13.—In a ten-round main bout that was close and carried a split vote among the officials, Joe Sekyra, Dayton, Ohio, won a decision over Don (Reds) Barry, of Washington, D. C., here tonight. They are heavyweights.

Referee Chet Lucia and Judge J. J. Cunningham voted for Sekyra, while Judge Joe Maggi called it a draw.

Barry had an edge in the boxing during the early rounds, in which he tied up Sekyra as though he had roped him tight. Sekyra made a bold, punching finish and probably for this reason caught the eye of two of the officials.

Sekyra suffered a cut over his right eye in the ninth that bled profusely, but after examining the injury, Referee Lucia decided to allow him to continue.

For five rounds Barry had a decided margin, carrying three rounds, while one was even and the other went to Sekyra. But from then on he had trouble, mostly because of Sekyra's punching qualities. The eighth round was Barry's only margin during the last half of the bout.

Mushky Jackson, one of Barry's handlers, was of the opinion Barry was robbed and said, "No more up here."

COMSTOCKERY, 113-1, DELIGHTS TROPICAL PARK BACKERS

$228 Mutuel Is Paid by Gelding

7,000 Crowd Sees Son of Man o' War Tie Track Record.

TROPICAL PARK, Fla., March 13 (A.P.).—The racing scene today shifted from Hialeah Park to the less majestic but more compact and chummy home of the Gables Racing Association, where seventeen days of sport was scheduled for racegoers. A throng which appeared to be close to 7,000 filled the plant, and Frank C. Bruen, president and managing director, smiled broadly as he remarked, "This looks like the biggest crowd we ever had here." The place was as clean and bright as a new pin and ideal weather prevailed.

Comstockery, the horse that won at better than 50 to 1 at Hialeah Park last season, gave the crowd a shock when he suddenly regained his best form to win the sixth race. The former Greentree Stable gelding, now owned by the Jersey Stable, paid $228.10 straight, and $119.70 place for $2 tickets.

Lucky Carter Falters In Stretch.

Lucky Carter was second a length and a half before Madelon. Comstockery was far back in the early running but staying on the inside stole through and saved ground turning for home and wore down Lucky Carter in the short stretch drive under Pat Remillard's strong handling.

To Sea Fox, a chestnut son of Man o' War, owned by J. P. Somerville, went the honor of capturing the feature of opening day, called the Tropical Park Handicap. Paying the lucrative price of $12.80, Sea Fox completed the 1 1-16 miles trip in 1:48, equaling the track record of Prince Tokalon. T. McCarthy's Broadway Lights was beaten a scant head for the prize, while three parts of a length farther back came G. W. Ogle's Mountain Elk to take the show.

The veteran jockey, Jimmy Smith, put up a weak ride on Mountain Elk, the choice in an open race. The 5-year-old horse closed mostly on his own courage to get the show money by a head from Action, and failed to display his usual speed under Smith's patient tactics. Sea Fox showed as much gameness as he did speed, having to race head and head with Action all the way to the stretch. Then Broadway Lights challenged on the inside but was outlasted in the last few strides.

Flying Sailor Scores In Opener.

Flying Sailor in the colors of W. P. Phelan had the distinction of winning the first purse of the meeting. The colt was a good thing, winning by a half length at odds of $5.60 for $2. Dorsays, also heavily backed, took the place by a length from the long-shot Revonah. The first two horses had the race between them practically all the way, but Richards, on the winner, came over in front of Dorsays at the stretch turn. This probably decided the race. That the track is very fast can be evidenced by the time of 1:05 3-5 for 5½ furlongs.

Prince Drake fooled the talent in the 2-year-old event decided over the 3½-furlong distance. The chestnut colt managed to outlast the heavily played Her Hero in a spirited drive and emerged on top by a neck to pay $17.40. Ragtown Belle lost the place by three lengths. Her Hero took the lead from Luck In and seemed headed for victory, but Prince Drake, always a contender, had too much for the favorite in the final drive.

Our Sallie Nose Winner Of Third.

Our Sallie ran a powerful race to win the third race by a nose from Golden Effort, the favorite. Sis Agnes was third a half length behind. Golden Effort ran Modern and Gritford into defeat, but just failed to stick it out when Our Sallie, well back early, closed with a great rush on the outside. Sis Agnes broke next to last in the field of twelve and made up an immense gap to land in the money. The winner returned $12.40.

J. C. Ellis' Leros established a new track record of 59 flat for 5 furlongs, two-fifths of a second better than the mark held by Pancho Lopez, in winning the Boca Raton Handicap, supporting feature of the card. Carrying 122 pounds, Leros scored by a neck over Irene's Bob to pay $10.10. Happy Scot took the short end of the purse a length back. Happy Scot finished fast to take the show, and seems to nearing his best form. Pancho Lopez, previous holder of the 5 furlongs record, finished last in this event.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: TROPICAL PARK, MARCH 13.

Well, friend, Pat Remillard, who did a million dollars' worth of riding at Mariboro last summer, came to life here today. Yes, Remillard came to life, and Comstockery, the old Greentree castoff, suddenly found some of his old speed. And between the two, they turned in a whale of a race, but it was the wail of the crowd when it eyed that $228.10 mutuel that bounced off the grand stand and was heard above the roar of the nearby outboard motors. No, pal, I didn't have him, but I heard somebody yelling, "I told you he was a good thing!" I expect to meet somebody around here who will claim to have had him for a week. Now you tell one. BILL.

FIRST RACE—Forced to go to the chalk in the opener. Looks like the Coldstream Stud's FIRE MASK will be the sweet patootie, although I have a slight leaning to a filly named IF IDA. MORAL MISS may be the show horse.

SECOND RACE—I feel a long price coming here, but the sleeper will have to beat JIM MACAW before taking the big end of the purse. THREE BEES will draw some backing. GRACIAS may fancy a field of this kind and be the medium of an upset.

THIRD RACE—MUDRAKER gets in this with a feather impost of 98 pounds. I expect a winning effort. NUTLET carries a world of early speed that may earn a place in the money. WAYWARD LAD seems to have an edge on the others.

FOURTH RACE—I'm going to give BROWN WISDOM one more chance. The change in tracks may make a difference. SUPREME SWEET is the one to beat and looks like the favorite. CHU CHU is outclassed and all of that, but remains a good across-the-board bet at this distance.

FIFTH RACE—DAILY NEWS has been disappointing regularly, but gets a field to his liking tomorrow. LADY DEAN, one that I tried to wake up at Hialeah, might appreciate the softer footing here and step down. A few scratches would give the cheap YANCEY a chance.

SIXTH RACE—SOLACE gives away 5 to 10 pounds to everything in this race, but gets the top call. ENGLEWOOD has a second complex and should place. LUCKY CARTER will be ready to take all the gravy if the top pair make any mistakes.

SEVENTH RACE—GABBO is the one to watch here. Has been working well of late and is scheduled for a killing. Tomorrow may be the day. CHOKOLOSKEE and GARLIC for the rest.

Midatlantic Golf Pros Meet Today

D. C. Members May Form Own Association; Sweepstakes Scheduled.

An attempt will be made to bring about more harmony and create greater interest in golf activities at an important meeting of the Middle Atlantic Professional Golfers Association today at noon at the Kenwood Golf and Country Club.

Members of the paid clan from Baltimore, the District, and nearby local courses will gather to discuss plans for the coming golf season. Rumors are afloat that a break in the Middle Atlantic professional ranks may develop as a result of the skeleton representation from Baltimore in weekly sweepstakes and other events sponsored last year by the association. Some professionals around this way have hinted that a new organization which will include only District pros will be formed at today's meeting.

Following the meeting the pros will participate in a sweepstake tournament.

Southeast Thriller Is Won by Marines

Buckeyes Bow, 27 to 17; Friendship and Marions Also Triumph.

Three games were played in the Southeast Community Center tournament last night at Hine Junior High School, Friendship House defeating Congress Heights, 43 to 26; the Marion A. C. winning from the Eastons, 43 to 23, and the Marines walloping the Buckeyes, 27 to 17.

The game between the Marines and Buckeyes was a thriller from the start, Buckeyes leading at half-time by 3 points. When the second half started the fur began to fly and it was anybody's game for the next ten minutes, when the Marines went into the lead to win the battle royal.

Tomorrow night's games will see Marines against the Whirlwinds at 7:15, Anacostia Business Men against Miller Furniture Co. at 8:15, and Sigma Phi Lamba against Naval Reserves at 9:15.

Virginia to Try Out Graduate Coach Plan

University, Va., March 13 (A.P.).—The University of Virginia will try out a system of graduate student coaching to fill the gap left by the resignation of Roy Randall, director of the first-year athletics at Charlottesville, it was learned today.

Contest Facts In Brief

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Baseball Club, will select in The Washington Post of March 19 his all-time, all-star team from among the clubs that represented Washington during the years from 1912 to 1932 inclusive.

The fan who submits the selection that matches or most nearly matches Griffith's selection will be adjudged the winner of the contest.

One man is to be selected for each of the infield and outfield positions with four pitchers and two catchers.

To the winner The Washington Post will award eight box seats to the 1933 opening game between Washington and Philadelphia.

Second place will net four box seats, with third place earning two box seats.

Entrants may use the accompanying coupon for their selections, although the use of the coupon is not necessary for entrance in the contest.

The contest will close March 17.

G. W. COACH WILL STRESS BATTING

Looks for Hitters, Not Fielders, During Early Drills.

WHEN George Washington University Baseball Team gets outdoors, which it hopes to do the latter part of the week, batting will occupy a preeminent place on the training schedule. Batting, batting and more batting is the slogan adopted by Coach Ed Morris, who is a staunch supporter of the theory that no matter how good a team's defense may be it can't win ball games without runs.

Dodging the wild heaves of a group of alleged pitchers working out in the gymnasium last night, Morris admitted that unearthing a couple of good hurlers would be his most difficult problem. Of the small army trying for mound berths only four appear to have the necessary qualifications and these may have to divide up the nine innings to get by.

Noonan Among Best Prospects.

Bill Noonan, who made a respectable showing in his senior high school year at Eastern; "Tuffy" Leemans, Dann Car and Jimmy Howell appear to be the best of the lot. New arms twisting a brand-new assortment of curves may do the pitching once the season is under way, however.

Dick Tennyson, assistant supervisor of the playgrounds, has offered G. W. the use of Rosedale Playground as a practice field until the Monument Grounds diamonds are ready. Morris intends to take advantage of the opportunity to get outdoors as soon as possible.

New recruits amble into the gym every day and sign up for the team. Two practice shifts will be necessary unless the influx halts. After getting on the playing field, however, the old pruning knife will attend to the overflow.

Frank Blackistone and one of the Bomba boys, Abdon, are doing the receiving. Morris is anxious to get a peek at the infielders, who number Art Zahn and Johnny Fenlon, veteran sandlotters, among their ranks. Max Baer, who, like his flatic namesake, hails from the sunny slopes of California, and Eduardo Alfaro, of Panama, are expected to make strong bids for regular positions.

A schedule of ten games, two still in the tentative stage, have been arranged and negotiations are under way for games with three additional colleges. All will be played at Griffith Stadium under the arc lights.

The list follows: April 19, Quantico Marines; 20, Quantico Marines; May 5, Davidson, (tentative); 6, Duke; 9, Washington and Lee; 12, Marines; 15, West Virginia U. (tentative); 17, Mount St. Mary's; 19, Western Maryland; 24, Washington College. Athletic Director Pixlee is still dickering with Wake Forest, Delaware and Brooklyn College.

NET CHOICES ARE EASY WINNERS

Eight Indoor Seeded Stars Fail to Lose Single Game.

NEW YORK, March 13 (A.P.).—Uneventful tennis, and a minimum of opposition for eight seeded stars from Gregory S. Mangin, No. 1 and defending champion, down through Dr. Eugene H. McCauliffe, No. 8, marked a dull second round today in the national indoor championships on the board floor of the Seventh Regiment Armory.

Without managing to win a single set against seeded opposition, local and college players fell like nine-pins as the list was cut to sixteen players.

Mangin Easily Beats Greer.

Mangin, seeded at the top of the upper half of the draw, waded easily through James M. Greer, of New York, 7—5, 6—3, while his selected companions in that bracket, Dr. Eugene H. McCauliff, of Yonkers, N. Y.; J. Gilbert Hall, of Orange, N. J., and Sidney B. Wood, blond young New Yorker, advanced to the fourth round with similar ease.

McCauliff practiced his strokes on a Fordham University recruit, E. Ramey Donovan, winning 6—3, 7—5, while Wood toyed with Wilson M. Rogers, of New York, 6—3, 6—4, and Hall smothered Irving Pratt, New York, 6—3, 6—0.

Heading the lower half of the draw, Clifford B. Sutter, former Tulane star and because of his No. 2 place on the National list, the highest ranked player in the tournament, had no difficulty eliminating Armand Bruneau, of New York, 6—3, 6—3.

Lott, Bell Advance With Little Trouble.

George M. Lott, of Chicago, and R. Berkley Bell, completing the seeded list in the lower, advanced with little effort. Lott eliminated John M. Hamilton, of Yale, 6—2, 6—4, and Bell defeated Walter E. Arsenberg, of Harvard, 6—1, 6—3.

The play drew only about 150 spectators.

To spice tomorrow's program officials scheduled two third-round singles matches, pitting Lott against Herman L. Bowman, New York, and Shields against John H. Pitman, of New York. The doubles play also is scheduled for tomorrow.

Celtics Five Plays Colored Aces Here

New York Renaissance to Be Met March 29 at Auditorium.

Basket ball finally breaks into the Washington Auditorium—and in a big way, too—with the signing of the New York Celtics for a battle with the New York Renaissance, claimants of the colored championship, on Wednesday, March 29. Little need be said of the prowess of the Celtics, who have dominated pro court ranks for lo, these many years. They will bring here their varsity cast of Joe Lopchick, Dave Banks, Nat Hickey, Pete Barry and Dutch Dehnert.

The Renaissance tossers are almost equally well known in colored circles, boasting such stars as "Pats" Jenkins, Tarzan Cooper, Eyre Saitch, Pappy Ricks and Bill Yancy.

Washington Auditorium officials will provide a special court for the game, so arranged that there will be plenty of seats including reserved ones in the boxes and mezzanine.

Investigation Seeks League Tie Tonight

Facing their last opportunity, Bureau of Investigation's defending champions will attempt to deadlock Crop Production for first place in the Government League tonight, both clubs being unbeaten to date. The Sleuths tackle Government Printing Office at 8 o'clock on the Bolling floor.

Despite a recent defeat at the Crop hands, Bolling Field and Fire Department also are still in the running. A rousing end to the second half is assured. Standings:

Deadline Two Days Away For Contest Fans Seeking Box Seats to Opening Game

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

TODAY and tomorrow, and then The Post's popular and unique baseball contest will almost be a thing of the past, for all the thousands of entrants will have to do is to wait for the answer and the names of the winners. For those who have delayed, there is still time to enter, as the polls will not be closed until midnight tomorrow. All letters postmarked after that date and hour will be headed for the waste basket instead of the contest editor's desk.

On the face of things, this contest appears easy to the average baseball fan who has been a close follower of the game here for a long period of time, but actually it is quite a hard nut for the entrants to crack. It calls for the matching of a team to be selected by President Clark Griffith as made up of the outstanding players who have performed in Washington livery since he first came to the Capital City, starting the 1912 season.

Opening Game Seats For Winners.

This means that the three winners, who draw a parcel of box seats to the opening game against the Philadelphia Athletics here on April 12, must not let actual baseball figures govern them, but also must consider other angles, such as temperament, all-around ability, &c. In cases where all other things are about equal in the weighing of ability of several players for the same position, Griffith no doubt will consider these factors, while it is just possible that sentiment may even swing him one way or another.

And fans, must remember that what they are asked to do is to match Griffith's team.

When The Post first decided to hold this contest, President Griffith wholeheartedly promised to do his bit by naming the team. He has been mulling over it from time to time since late in January and only yesterday wired in that he had not yet made a definite decision as regards one or two positions, but would do so shortly. This is mentioned just to show that even Griffith has not found it easy to make up his mind on the subject.

At first glance, picking out the thirteen players who have been outstanding in Washington for the past two decades appeared to be just as easy as falling off a log, but when Mr., Mrs. or Miss Fan started weighing the merits of one player against the other, especially those of the old school against those of the new, they suddenly discovered that they had quite a job on their hands. And the fact that President Griffith has made the same discovery means that the winners really will have accomplished something, which will not as much pleasure in the spirit of conquest as it will in the actual prizes.

As stated above, only two more days remain for entrants to do their stuff, as there will be no exceptions after the Wednesday midnight deadline arrives.

Capital City Nines Meet Tonight to Plan League

All Teams Desiring Franchises Asked to Send Representative; Section Meetings Due to Start Tomorrow.

PLANS for the reorganization of the Capital City League, sponsored by The Post and Municipal Playground Department, will be formulated tonight at a meeting in room 313, District Building. Representatives of all teams desiring franchises are requested to be present promptly at 8 o'clock, when President Richard S. Tennyson calls the confab to order.

With several new teams in the field and more coming up from the senior ranks, a record turnout is expected for the league's eighth consecutive season at the head of Washington sandlot baseball.

In view of current economic conditions, the board of directors of the loop voted to redu

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

DEVELOPMENT of an entirely new style, or type, of receiving set design, radically different from the general console and midget models, is being given serious consideration by many radio industry leaders. Success of many other industries in developing radical new designs or types for their products, such as the new streamline departure in automobile bodies and radiators, has developed wide discussion of the sales possibilities of a new design of radio.

The subjects will be discussed at a luncheon conference of radio and industrial merchandising experts of other industries next Monday at the Hotel White in New York City. Radio manufacturers, including sales executives and engineers, are invited to be present at the conference, which is being held under the auspices of the National Alliance of Art and Industry, through arrangements made by O. H. Caldwell, former Federal Radio Commissioner.

"Styling radio sets for sales appeal" will be the subject of the conference. Possible changes in external design of radio receivers will be discussed by Kenneth Collins, of Gimbel & Co., and Grover A. Whalen, general manager of the John Wanamaker organization.

THE White House is still receiving favorable comment on the recent radio addresses made by President Roosevelt.

"He has a fine delivery," commented one listener. "He gives the impression that he is talking directly to you. No doubt his addresses are prepared in advance and he reads them, but he reads them in such a conversational way that they cease to be speeches."

"This idea of going direct to the people with speeches and statements is to be carried out by President Roosevelt on a scale undreamed of by his predecessors, if the first week of the Presidency is any criterion," was another remark. "The ring of sincerity in his voice is reassuring to the Nation."

Secretary of Commerce Roper will speak over Station WMAL for fifteen minutes, beginning at 9:30 o'clock tonight. His subject is "World Cooperation Today and Tomorrow."

John Charles Thomas, barytone, will be the soloist with Josef Bonime's symphony orchestra over WJSV at 10 o'clock. He will offer "Brindisi," an aria from "Hamlet" and a group of three numbers: "Home on the Range," "Travelin' Along" and "Will You Remember?" from "Maytime."

Mr. Bonime has selected the "Ballet Suite" from Delibes' "La Source," "Czardas" from "De Geist des Woyevoden," by Oscar Gorssman, and Tschaikowsky's "1812" overture.

A number of listeners have been checking up to find out whether Ed Wynn and Jack Pearl actually were on the stage with Eddie Cantor during his broadcast from the Press Club auditorium on Sunday night. The impersonations by two New York actors were so well done that it took a lot of convincing to make some of the radio audience believe they were imitators.

Dad Pickard, head of the family of mountain musicians from Tennessee, has turned commuter. Each weekend Dad journeys down to Nashville to take part in the Gran' Ol' Opery, which is broadcast on Saturday night over WSM, and he returns to Chicago to take part in the Farm and Home Hour on Monday and Wednesday.

WHEN weevils get into grain elevators, it doesn't take them long to ruin enough food to feed a city. They recover from inert gas even after days of it. Poison gas or mechanical blowers will take care of the weevils themselves, but the eggs and larvae are usually left uninjured to replenish their kind and continue a whirlwind of destruction.

At the instance of J. H. Davis, engineer of the B. & O. Railroad, the problem was attacked by Westinghouse engineers with short-wave radio apparatus. When suitable mixtures of wheat and weevils were exposed to waves of about 5 meters length, nearly all the weevils died instantly. Even the eggs and larvae succumbed in six seconds. It was only occasionally that a particularly tough and dry old weevil would last as long as three seconds. The wheat was uninjured.

Grain passing through a chute was successfully treated at a rate of 60 bushels an hour, with 13.8 kilowatt of short-wave energy being put into the wheat. The experiments are to be continued.

Jane Froman, the "Cinderella of song," will sing "Sing Something Simple" and "Why Can't This Night Go On Forever?" during the Chesterfield program, also featuring Leonard Hayton's arrangement of "Farewell Blues" (WJSV, 9 o'clock).

LENNIE HAYTON is a night owl. He regularly attends a movie after the conclusion of his nightly broadcasts. After that he returns home and spends from two to five hours arranging music before he retires. He says he's in a better mood for making arrangements in the early hours of the morning than at any other time of the day.

Mary Eastman, young coloratura-soprano now heard in her own song recitals several times weekly, will be interviewed before the microphone by Bob Taplinger during the "Meet the Artist" broadcast (WJSV, 5 p. m.).

Claudette Colbert, French-born screen star, will discuss her motion picture work when she is interviewed by Eleanor Barnes as a feature of the California Melodies broadcast (WJSV, 9:30 p. m.)

Another highlight of this half-hour presentation will be the singing of "Shuffle Off to Buffalo," by Kay Thompson and Frank Jenks. This comparatively new vocal duo seems destined to rise in radio. Their work on several previous California Melodies broadcasts has attracted the attention of Eastern radio officials. It will be recalled that Bing Crosby and the Boswell Sisters made their network debuts on this Los Angeles broadcast.

MOSS and Jones, comedians, tell of a man in their home town, who, one Saturday night, dropped a penny in the fire alarm box, looked up at the courthouse clock and yelled, "I've lost 14 pounds!"

Sympathy Urged For Young People

Seventh-Day Adventist Conference Appeals to Church Seniors.

A pronouncement sent out yesterday by the Young People's Department of the General Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists urged a greater interest and sympathy on the part of the senior members of the church for the young people.

This pronouncement went to more than 2,000 of the denomination's young peoples' societies throughout the Nation and Canada, which are holding special service this week.

The object of the meetings is the developing of vision and power in youth and the winning of young people to a definite decision for Christ.

1,000 Ask Permission For Quarterly Tax Pay

More than 3,000 copies of applications for permission to pay realty taxes in quarterly installments have been obtained from the tax assessor's office, but only 1,000 have been returned, Tax Assessor William P. Richards said yesterday.

Vernon E. West, principal assistant corporation counsel, is studying a proposal of Mr. Richards that one provision of the new tax law be extended to all local property owners, viz, that any sale for delinquent taxes be invalid if an error has been made in computation of taxes.

JAPAN SENDS CHINA NEW SHARP PROTEST

Tientsin, China, March 13 (A.P.).—Although the arrival of Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek in the north and the belief that the Japanese will agree to localize their operations have momentarily checked growing fears that the Japanese will attack Tientsin, reports of a third Japanese protest to China today intensified apprehension in Chinese circles.

While it is understood that the protest does not set any time limit, it is most sharp in tone and it insists that presence of Chinese troops within the boxer protocol limits of Tientsin, as well as the trenches which have been dug in the vicinity of Taku, infringe the protocol and endanger the safety of communications by river within Tientsin.

Peiping, March 13 (A.P.).—Chinese officials admitted today that the Japanese had occupied Kupeikow, a Great Wall pass between Jehol City and Peiping.

Chinese casualties prior to establishment of the new line, said to be drawn 2 miles outside of Kupeikow, totaled between 4,000 and 5,000 men, it was officially said.

Hall, Actor, Faints; Case Is Dismissed

Court Holds Wife's Action Based on Fraudulent Testimony.

New Haven, Conn., March 13 (A.P.).—James Hall, motion picture actor, collapsed in the corridor outside the Common Pleas Court today during a hearing of his appeal against a decision in a nonsupport action instituted by his wife, Irene Gardner Brown.

After a recess, Judge Walter M. Pickett reversed the decision of the City Court, and ordered the action dismissed. The court said the affidavit on which the actor had been extradited from California was shown by the testimony to be fraudulent. Hall, in private life James Brown, was taken to a hospital for treatment, but was discharged later.

In January the actor was ordered in City Court to pay his wife $100 a week for a year, or go to jail for six months, and was placed under $5,000 bond to insure the payment.

Lady Owen, Who Shot Mme. Gastaud, Freed

Paris, March 13 (A.P.).—Lady Edme Owen, who was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in 1930 for shooting Mme. Paul Gastaud, was pardoned today after having served two years of the sentence.

She is the widow of Sir Theodore Charles Owen, K. C. B. She provided financial support for Dr. Paul Gastaud, a beauty specialist patronized at the time by Paris society. Subsequently she and Dr. Gastaud had a disagreement, and Lady Owen went to his home and shot Mme. Gastaud five times. She recovered.

Roosevelt Bathing Pool Subscriptions Started

New York, March 13 (U.P.).—The Daily News tomorrow will announce that it will accept money from citizens of New York State for the purpose of raising a fund to provide President Franklin D. Roosevelt with a swimming pool at the White House.

Pointing out that swimming is the President's only sport and that it is necessary for the preservation of his health, the newspaper itself is contributing $1,000 toward the fund and expects to raise at least $15,000.

Debt Settlement Hoped By New French Envoy

Paris, March 13 (A.P.).—A deep desire to see the war debt problem settled rapidly was expressed in an interview today by Andre Lefebre de la Boulaye, the new French Ambassador to the United States. Washington's acceptance of his appointment has been received at the foreign office.

"I have a deep desire to settle the debt satisfactorily to all and to create a favorable atmosphere to that end," the new ambassador said.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

ELMER TWITCHELL ON FEAR.

"AFRAID of America's future!" exclaimed Elmer Twitchell. "I should say not! I don't know what it's all about except that we're all on the marry-go-round and they've taken in the brass ring, but nobody can tell me that Uncle Sam won't come through.

* * * *

"The old boy's gone through too many tough fights to have become a pushover. He survived British troops, Benedict Arnold, Valley Forge, Bunker Hill and the dark days when the Mint was just a place where bats laid eggs.

* * * *

"He came through when it was Lee against Grant. North against South and brother against brother. He survived days when even scrip was so bad we had to find a substitute for it. He got over the boll weevil, the Mississippi flood, Black Friday, parrot fever, Carrie Nation, the Harding administration and prohibition.

* * * *

"He survived submarine warfare, Kaiser Wilhelm, Karl Rosner, 88 whiskey, Radio common, the White Sox scandal, wood alcohol, Jimmy Walker, futuristic furniture, animated moving cartoons, radio crooning, cross-word puzzles and the Ask Me Another craze.

* * * *

"He came through the 1931 backgammon epidemic, the marathon waltz, the Florida boom, Old Dr. Coue, modernistic art, the Empress Eugenie hat epidemic and the Perils of Pauline series. He has lived on despite the six-day bicycle race, New England Long and the jig-saw puzzle craze.

* * * *

"He even survived near-beer, the Mae West drama, Texas Guinan's wisecracks, the shore resort hot-dog, drug store salad, the Stribling-Sharkey fight, Senator Heflin's speeches, the dial telephone, meatless days, heatless nights, motorless Sundays, and the last session of Congress.

* * * *

"Afraid Uncle Sam won't come through okay?" concluded Elmer. "Why, say, a guy with his experience couldn't lose. Lissen, if anything could have killed him he would have been dead years ago from bathtub gin!"

Board to Resume Renovize Program

Detailed Campaign Plans to Be Discussed by Council Today.

Resumption of plans for the Renovize Washington campaign and a general membership meeting will occupy the attention of the Washington Board of Trade this afternoon and tonight.

The Renovize Council, headed by Arthur B. Heaton, local architect, will meet at noon at the Board of Trade headquarters to resume plans suspended during the banking holiday. Detailed plans for initiating the campaign will be discussed. The entire membership of the board will meet at 8 p. m. at Mayflower Hotel to hear Count Ernesto Russo, statesman and diplomat, and former Representative John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican floor leader in the last Congress.

An elaborate entertainment program will be presented. A buffet supper will follow the meeting. Ben T. Webster, president of the trade board, will preside.

Death Map Put In Morgue Room

Fourth Precinct Leads in Homicides and Traffic Deaths.

The location of every homicide, suicide and automobile fatality since the first of the year is indicated by colored pins on a "death map" of the city just installed at the morgue inquest room.

To date the map indicates that the Fourth police precinct has led the city in homicides as well as traffic deaths. The Third precinct has the greatest number of suicides, while the Eighth precinct is without a violent death.

5 "BABY" MEMBERS ASSIGNED TO HOUSE CAPITAL COMMITTEE

Mrs. Norton, Chairman, Has Woman Colleague, as History Is Made.

Five "baby" members of Congress, one woman in their number, yesterday were assigned by a House Democratic caucus to membership on the House District Committee, again captained by Representative Mary T. Norton (Democrat), New Jersey.

At the same time, three veteran Democratic members of the local group were retired. New Republican assignments to the District Committee were postponed, the minority party completing its slate for only eight major committees.

First Time in History.

With the assignment yesterday of Representative Virginia Jenckes, of Indiana, to a District Committee vacancy, the local group can boast two women members for the first time in its history.

Other Democrats assigned to Mrs. Norton's committee for the first time, all new members, were Representatives Thomas J. O'Brien, of Illinois; Carl M. Weideman, of Michigan; Emmett Owen, of Georgia, and Jennings Randolph, of West Virginia.

Asked for Place Long Ago.

Representative Randolph, who succeeds Representative Bowman (Republican), defeated for reelection, asked for the assignment, even before he was elected to Congress.

Retiring from the committee are Representative Howard W. Smith (Democrat), of Virginia, who was given a better job, on the powerful Rules Committee; Representative Allard H. Gasque (Democrat), South Carolina, who had asked to be relieved from the assignment, and Representative Ralph Gilbert, of Kentucky, who was defeated for reelection.

Stanton Park Citizens Praise Roosevelt Step

The Stanton Park Citizens Association, meeting at Peabody School, last night adopted a resolution commending President Roosevelt for his action in the banking crisis, which the association stated has restored the confidence of the residents of the District and the Nation.

A. H. Gregory introduced the resolution and its adoption was unanimous. Nathan Clark entertained with several vocal selections. He was accompanied by his wife. William E. Monroe, president, presided.

Deficiencies Unit May Get D. C. Bill

Study of Funds Measure by This Group Would Defy Precedent.

Possibility that the District appropriations bill, defeated at the last session of Congress, may be considered this session by the House Deficiencies Appropriations subcommittee, was suggested yesterday by Representative James P. Buchanan (Democrat), Texas, who will be next chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

This step would defy all precedent. The bill normally goes to the House District Appropriations subcommittee, which, along with other appropriations subcommittees, has yet to be organized.

Representative Buchanan will be chairman of the deficiencies subcommittee, and will organize that group first. In the interest of dispatch, he is considering taking it up here first.

Havenner and Glassford Indorsed by Hillcrest

George C. Havenner, former president of the Federation of Citizens Associations, and Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford were indorsed by members of the Hillcrest Citizens Association, meeting at the East Washington Heights Baptist Church last night, for District Commissioners.

The association also joined other citizen groups in the city in adopting a resolution asking that starlings be excluded from the protection given them under the District game laws. Albert H. Sellman, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

Police said the car was driven by Sidney A. Wood, 62, Ednor, Md.

MEDALS GIVEN TO ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS

Will Be Permitted to Drive Faster Than 30 Miles and Past Lights.

Police will be permitted to drive faster than 30 miles an hour and to cross intersections against red signal lights under modification of the District Commissioners' recently enacted regulation curbing the speed of ambulances and police vehicles.

Drafted at a conference of traffic officials and Corporation Counsel William W. Bride yesterday, the amendment, together with the new regulation, will be incorporated in the revised District traffic code now near completion. The proposal and the code probably will reach the Commissioners today.

The regulation previously drafted by Mr. Bride upon instructions from the Commissioners would have limited the speed of police cars to 30 miles an hour at all times and would have required that police drivers stop when reaching a red signal light and proceed only when they can do so with safety. The amendment reads:

"That notwithstanding the above provision a police officer may pursue a person who he has reason to believe is attempting to escape after having committed a felony, or violated any provision of the traffic act, or passed through an intersection in disregard of a red light, or in pursuit of violators of such other traffic regulations as the Commissioners may determine from time to time."

Present at the conference yesterday besides Mr. Bride were his assistant, Edward W. Thomas; Inspector B. A. Lamb, in charge of the Traffic Bureau; M. O. Eldridge, assistant director of traffic, and Edwin S. Hege and Charles C. Collins, of the Traffic Advisory Council, which aided Traffic Director William A. Van Duzer in revising the code.

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday turned thumbs down on an ingenious advertising device, for taxicabs and indicated its disapproval of any form of advertising in cabs.

A revolving contraption, which operates on the same principle as a windshield wiper, and displays a variety of display advertisement, was proposed by the Premier Taxicab Association.

Havenner Backed For Crosby's Post

Dr. George Havenner, of Anacostia, for four consecutive terms president of the Federation of Citizens Associations, was indorsed for District Commissioner at a meeting last night of the Congress Heights Citizens Association. His name was offered for the vacancy to be created by the resignation of Commissioner Herbert B. Crosby.

The association also went on record as favoring the continuation of all-night parking of automobiles in the District and heard a favorable report of the contemplated purchase of property owned by the St. Elizabeths Hospital for a public playground.

Dr. E. E. Richardson, president, who just returned from a trip around the world, presided.

Siddons Portrait Presented Court

Painting Is Given by Bar Group and Accepted by Wheat.

An oil portrait of the late Associate Justice Frederick L. Siddons of District Supreme Court was presented to the justices of the court yesterday by the District Bar Association. The painting was done by the Austrian artist, Hans Schlereth.

Col. W. C. Clephane, chairman of the bar association committee in charge of having the painting executed, presented it to W. W. Millan, president of the association, and he, in turn, presented it to the justices. Chief Justice A. A. Wheat accepted the portrait in behalf of the justices. It will be hung in the courthouse with the portraits of other former justices.

"Be Careful!"

ENFORCEMENT HERE NOT TO BE RELAXED

District Funds Available to Buy Evidence Despite Woodcock Edict.

There will be no lessening of prohibition enforcement in the District of Columbia, despite the edict of Prohibition Commissioner Woodcock that no more Government funds will be made available for the hiring of undercover agents or for the purchase of liquor to be used as evidence.

That was decided late yesterday at a conference attended by W. R. Blandford, head of the prohibition enforcement squad for the District; Maj. Ernest W. Brown, superintendent of police; United States Attorney Leo A. Rover and their aids.

It was shown at the conference that, contrary to general opinion, the District has been using its own money to purchase evidence. Federal funds were used to pay agents, but the District has a fund that was described as "being ample" to continue the purchasing of liquor to be used as evidence of sale.

With this money available, and with the prohibition law still on the books, it was decided that enforcement would not be abated. It is expected that a renewed drive on liquor places will be soon forthcoming as a result of the decision to continue active enforcement.

Acting Corporation Counsel Vernon West, Maj. Brown, Inspector L. I. H. Edwards, Lieut. N. O. Holmes, Lieut. George M. Little, Capt. Harold W. Orcutt, who has been in active charge of enforcement in the courts; David A. Hart, in charge of Police Court liquor cases, and Mr. Blandford attended the meeting, which was held in Mr. Rover's office.

When it was shown that there was a District fund available for use in buying liquor, the members of the conference decided that until there was some modification in the present dry law here there would be no let-up in the activities of dry agents. Police will continue to cooperate with Federal officers in seeing that violations of the law are kept to a minimum.

UTILITY BODY SENDS GARNER AND RAINEY GAS MERGER APPEAL

Urges Early Legislation; Old-Age Pension Bill Is Introduced.

Legislation merging the Washington Gas Light Co. with the Georgetown Gas Light Co. at the special session of Congress was asked of Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey in communications yesterday, from the District Public Utilities Commission.

At the same time, local bills were introduced in House and Senate yesterday ranging from proposed old-age pension legislation to a bill to appropriate $50,000 for Casualty Hospital repairs.

The gas merger bill, which passed the last session of the House, but failed in the Senate, would permit the two companies not only to consolidate, but also to issue additional stock and call in some of their large bonded indebtedness.

Howell Opposed Bill.

The late Senator Howell (Republican), Nebraska, opposed the merger measure unless a clause was written into it excluding "going concern" from inclusion in the companies' valuation.

People's Counsel Richmond B. Keech will revive his fight to persuade Congress to insist that "going concern" value be eliminated.

Points to Saving.

Mr. Keech contends this saving and the stock-issuing privilege are sufficiently advantageous to the gas companies to counterbalance the sacrifice of the "going concern" value. The commission insists the gas companies would not agree to merge under such a condition.

Senator Capper (Republican), Kansas, former chairman of the Senate District Committee, introduced the bill providing for old-age pensions, and Representative McLeod (Republican), Michigan, the Casualty Hospital measure.

Representative Boylan (Democrat), New York, asked appropriation of $100,000 for erection of a memorial to Thomas Jefferson in Potomac Park, while Representative Luce (Republican), Massachusetts, put in a measure asking creation of a commission of five members to consider erection of a World War memorial in the District.

Hanna Advises P. U. C. Merger Is Progressing

John H. Hanna, president of the Capital Traction Co., yesterday informed the Public Utilities Commission that progress is being made in negotiations between committees representing the two street railways relative to the merger authorized by law.

While he could not predict when the committees would be ready to submit a tentative draft to the commission, Mr. Hanna stated that he hoped the merger might be effected before the end of this year.

Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chairman of the commission, indicated that the commission was desirous of seeing the consolidation brought about as soon as possible.

Takoma Park Told Of Relief Problem

Salvation Army Officer Urges Citizens to Make Personal Study.

The immensity of Washington's relief problems were described at a meeting of the Takoma Park Citizens Association last night by Adjt. Gilbert S. Decker, Salvation Army.

Urging that citizens make a personal investigation of the necessity of enlarged relief measures in the District, Adjt. Decker related the extended effort the Salvation Army is making to cope with increased demands for charity.

The meeting was conducted by H. R. Smalley, president, and Mrs. Leonora I. Sanborn, secretary. It was held in the Takoma Park Branch of the Public Library.

Queer Fish

Many and varied have been the forms of currency offered Washington merchants during the banking holiday. Business men report nearly everything from counterfeit bills to foreign coins have been used in making purchases.

One large chain grocery concern produced evidence that its patrons delved "deep into the sock" to procure money for everyday needs. A great number of the old, large-type bills, being saved as keepsakes, are back in circulation, the concern reported.

Another grocery chain, in counting day-by-day receipts, discovered a 1915 Panama-Pacific Exposition gold dollar. In the hustle and bustle of making purchases, clerks have accepted innumerable foreign coins, counterfeit quarters and half-dollars, fake bills and even a silver button found its way to the cash register of an uptown store.

Many of the spurious coins, molded from lead, were found to be poor imitations of real currency.

BOWLES FACES BAR ON LARCENY CHARGE

Disbarred Lawyer Accused of Embezzling $17,500 From Woman.

Norman Bowles, disbarred attorney, went on trial yesterday in District Supreme Court on an indictment charging him with embezzlement and grand larceny of $17,500 from Miss Christine Rock.

The Government, through Assistant United States Attorney John Fitzpatrick, placed Albert D. Esher, Miss Rock's attorney; Detective Sergt. Earl P. Hartman, and A. W. Lapin on the stand in an attempt to bolster the accusation that Bowles failed to turn over to Miss Rock money paid by Edward B. Dean, sr., in settlement of a claim Miss Rock had against him.

Miss Rock testified that Bowles had paid her $1,500 and Lapin testified he had been given the same amount. Esher declared he had received $1,000 for his services in representing Miss Rock.

Dean, who was waiting in the witness room when court was recessed until today, is alleged to have paid Esher $20,000 in settlement of Miss Rock's claim. Esher said he turned $19,000 over to Bowles, who was acting as Miss Rock's agent, the Government contends.

Burglar Gets $12 From Trunk.

James A. Scott, 77 Penton street northeast, reported to police last night $12 was stolen from a trunk in his home yesterday. He said the burglar entered through a rear window.

NORTHEAST CITIZEN GROUP RAPS ACTION IN EVICTION CASES

Charitable Organizations Are Accused of Failing to Protect Victims.

Charitable organizations of Washington were charged with failing to investigate adequately and attend to eviction cases, in the course of a lengthy discussion of District relief problems at a meeting of the Northeast Washington Citizens Association last night.

Members of the association cited several cases in which petitions seeking to prevent evictions were not only set aside, but met with flat refusal to investigate. In one instance, it was said, a family of considerable size was taken in by kind-hearted neighbors after relief assistance had failed, while their furniture remained in the street for two weeks.

Agencies Condemned.

The association condemned the action of relief agencies in the cases cited and adopted a resolution to submit to the Board of Public Welfare a petition asking that such cases be handled in a more thorough and sympathetic manner.

In cooperation with the Northeast Playground committee the association announced formation of a recreation center for boys and girls, recently graduated from school, who are now employed. The clubhouses will be on the site of the newly acquired playground in vacant houses obtained through Miss Sibyl Baker, District playground supervisor.

Taxi Zone Extension.

Other resolutions adopted asked the extension to 10 o'clock as the closing period for Washington libraries, extension of the 20-cent taxicab zone to Nineteenth street in the Northeast section, replacement of street lights on Second and Third streets near A and B streets northeast and repairing of Maryland avenue between Sixth and Twelfth streets northeast.

Need of Citizens Relief Committee Is Explained

The formation of a citizens relief committee to study relief conditions in the District was advocated by Miss Louise McGuire, District relief worker, last night at a meeting of the Kalorama Citizens Association at the John Quincy Adams School.

Miss McGuire said that due to the failure of the Community Chest to raise this year's quota the relief situation in the District is becoming acute and needs the immediate support of all residents.

Mrs. Harvey Wiley recited the past year's activities of the Federation of Citizens Associations and described its efforts to relieve unemployment in the District and provide for the hungry and unfortunate.
